Badge Tests Given at Lincoln Playgrounds; Treasure Hunt Tomorrow

Baseball games were scheduled yesterday between Yew Park and Lincoln playgrounds. The older boys at Lincoln were victors by a margin of 40 - 12. There were not enough of the smaller Lincoln boys present to make a team, so they forfeited their game to Yew Park. At 14th street a 20 inning game was played between teams chosen by Bill Hart and Bud Ford. The score was tied more than once and the final total was 17-15.

Tumbling and pyramid stunts held the interest at Yew Park yesterday afternoon. Kelly Wickheiser leaped over 10 prostrate bodies in one tumbling act; a few others made it over nine but hesitated to try ten. Pyramid building filled an interesting and jolly quarter of an hour.

At the Lincoln grounds, badge tests were the order of the day. Jack and Bill Bush and Forest Cronemiller passed the first test for boys, and Marvin Ritchie, Wesley Ritchie, Marion Ritchie and Ray Elliot passed the second test. Of eight girls starting the first test for girls, only Bessie Newcomb and Dorothy Keaton were successful in passing. At 14th street nine girls began tests, seven competed and six passed.

Friday, Miss Neptune will have the treasure hunt for the girls at 14th street as the special feature for this week.

UPHILL PULL FACES SENATORS SUNDAY

Now for the uphill pull. Aside from the trip to Bend, the Salem Senators this season have always been conceded an even chance to win any Willamette Valley league game.

But now looms up the second trip to Eugene, where Leo Edwards' boys took such a drubbing a couple of months ago—their first defeat of the season.

The Salem team hasn't strengthened very much since that game; a couple of new outfielders have been signed up, but they haven't set the world on fire as hitters so far.

Eugene, on the other hand, has shifted its lineup until it's hardly recognizable. Dutton, who played with Cottage Grove the last few games in the first half and did some mean hitting against Salem, is playing left field; Gould, who wound up the first half batting at a .333 clip, is in center, and Van Dux, shifted from third base, is in right field. He also stood at .333 in the hitting figures when the first half closed.

Gordon Ridings, another recruit from Cottage Grove, is on third base. That's about the extent of the changes noticed last Sunday, but it must be added that Bill Baker, who caused the Senators' first downfall, has been pitching good enough to uphold the reputation he established then. It was he that pitched against Bend in the final game of the first half and set the Eagles back on a par with Salem and Albany; and he threw nicely at Bend last Sunday after relieving Fuller.

The only encouraging sign is that the Senators know now how tough they can expect Eugene to be. They didn't play their best at Eugene the previous game, and over confidence may have been the reason. There surely won't be any of that in sight next Sunday.

FOREST HILLS POLO SQUAD LOSES 14-6

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 18.—(AP)—The Fort Lewis polo team defeated Forest Hills of Portland 14 to 6 here today in the opening game of the northwest championship tournament at Vancouver barracks. The game was even more one-sided than the score indicates, the Forest Hills team playing an uninteresting game.

Not since the days of the dashing Captain Glen Finley and "Dangerous Dan" Guernsey have polo fans seen the equal of Lieut. George W. Read, chief cog in the Fort Lewis team. Lieut. Read scored seven goals for the army four. He was an all-army polo star before he came to Fort Lewis, and learned the game in the Philippines.

ONE BIG WEAKNESS FOUND IN TUNNEY

SPECULATOR, N. Y., July 18.—(AP)—Tunney has perfected his flistic art, except for one glaring weakness, that is his inability to defend himself when an opponent has him on the ropes.

This hole in his defense was emphasized most vividly again today when he went through his training stunts to entertain a number of friends, who flew up here from Curtis field, and one other, James J. Corbett, former heavyweight champion who arrived after an all-night motor trip from New York.

The champion, who intended to rest today because he is too near his fighting peak, was in a savage mood when he took on Harold Mays, his favorite sparring partner.

Gene had started his workout by listlessly punching the head and body bags but when he entered the ring he was a changed man. For a round he belted Mays all about the ring, stopping his attack with timely left jabs.

Mays kept boring in and twice in the second round he rushed Gene to the ropes and landed heavy left hooks which shook the champion. The sting of these clean punches roused Tunney and from then on he whaled Mays.

Gene was also in trouble against Billy Vidabeck, whom he has been using to perfect his footwork. In the second round with Vidabeck while Gene was concentrating on the movements of his feet, Billy concentrated on the movements of the champion's head and delivered a hard right hand punch to the jaw when Tunney was on the ropes.

The champion appears to be at a loss when he feels the ropes brush against his back and while he hesitates, his sparring partners frequently have connected with well-placed blows.

Despite this uncertainty, Tunney made a favorable impression on Jim Corbett, who said that Gene was in splendid shape for his battle with Tom Heene eight days hence.

Corbett expressed the belief that Tunney would be defeated only if he tired and that he should have no trouble lasting 15 rounds with Heene.

GEORGE LOTT WILL REPLACE 'BIG BILL'

PARIS, July 18.—(AP)—George Lott, 21-year-old Chicago youth, and not the veteran captain, William T. Tilden, will play both singles and doubles for the United States Davis cup tennis team in the important inter-zone final contest with Italy beginning here Friday.

It was decided today by Tilden and Joseph W. Wear, chairman of the U. S. Davis cup committee, to play Lott in the singles together with Big Bill and also in the doubles paired with John Hennessey of Indianapolis.

Neither Lott nor Hennessey ever played on a Davis cup team before this year, yet they were picked to play the doubles in preference to the veteran combination of Tilden and Francis T. Hunter after scoring their third consecutive victory over the veterans today, this time in four sets.

Playing under the watchful eye of Wear and Samuel H. Colloom, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, the youthful combination which is at its best on clay courts, flashed inspired tennis, fighting for every point.

"You win," Tilden shouted as Hennessey passed him cleanly for the winning point. "You get the assignment."

The somewhat surprising selection of Lott and Hennessey for the doubles in place of Tilden and Hunter who hold the American championship and who won this match in the Davis cup challenge round against the French last year, means that Hunter will not play at all against the Italians and that Tilden will be able to concentrate on the singles.

Lott, who learned to play on clay courts, the surface in use here, will be the "Iron Man" instead of Tilden, undertaking the difficult task of competing on every one of the three days of play. Tilden, attempted this against the French last year and lost the third day's match.

"Please don't say that this selection means the elimination of the old timers by youthful players," Tilden told the Associated Press this evening.

"I have had lots of tennis this year and think the angles will do me very well in the interzone final."

Official announcement of the lineup of the team is not to be made until tomorrow morning, but Tilden and Wear declared that the choice announced today would stand "unless a tennis earthquake happens in the meantime."

OPEN TOURNEY LED BY TOMMIE ARMOUR

WESTFIELD, N. J., July 18.—(AP)—A 66 by Tommie Armour of Washington, a 67 by Leo Diegel of New York and a 70 by the home course professional, Danny Williams, were the only cards under par 72 returned in a field of 158 at the Shackamaxon country club today in the first round of the Metropolitan Golf association's twenty-first open championship.

Armour had a score of 33, three under par, on each nine. For the 18 holes he required only 27 putts, including three putts on the twelfth green. Several of his putts went green came after he had been trapped on his approach.

Armour's 66 established a competitive record for the 14 year old course.

Diegel had a 32 on the first nine, including a 3 on the 48-yard seventh hole, where he hit the cup on his second shot, played with a spoon. His only birdie on the seventh, where he holed out an approach putt from off the green for a 2.

Williams 70 included a 5 on the 130-yard eleventh, where his ball was buried in a sand trap.

HEENEY WORKS OUT DESPITE WEATHER

FAIRHAVEN, N. J., July 18.—(AP)—In the stifling heat of mid-afternoon, Tom Heene engaged in a furious four round workout with his two new sparring mates today. He handled them as though engaging in a real battle. The critics agreed that he worked very impressively, although he appeared to be wide open.

With Lawless, who went on for the last two rounds, Heeney slugged like a longshoreman. Twice they stood toe to toe, trading punches to the head. Their last rally found Lawless, backed up against the ropes, bleeding from the nose and on the verge of collapsing from blows to the jaw. He gamely fought back however, but was unable to stem Heeney's desperate charges.

Heeney will increase his boxing to six rounds tomorrow and then
