

YEW PARKERS WIN GAME FROM 14TH

Model Airplane Contest to be Held at Playgrounds This Afternoon

The 14th street playgrounds didn't get any big thrill yesterday, but Yew Park and Lincoln grounds both did. Lincoln had its fun when a grass fire broke out in Bush's pasture. Playground activity ceased, or at least was diverted for a time.

Yew Park got its thrill when its older boys' baseball team beat a team from 14th street 12-10. This is the first time that Yew Park has defeated 14th street. The game was a good one, according to the directors. The members of the winning team were Flagg, Mickenhorn, D. Kimple, Shugar, Hill, Birches, Burns, Pearson, P. Kimple and Goff.

The girls at 14th street did enjoy their paper chase and treasure hunt, though Doris Marsten came in first in the paper chase, followed by Lois Cowden. Mary Santram won the treasure hunt. Attendance at these grounds has been a little lighter this week, due partly to attendance at the carnival, the hot weather and vacation trips. On the warmer days, games are not so popular; nothing can quite take the place of a swim in the pool.

Today the gun club at Yew Park will make its first trip and receive its first instruction in the proper use of firearms. Great interest has developed in this activity and there is a large waiting list of boys who want the instruction. The second badge tests were given at Yew Park yesterday.

Miss Esther Lisk, director, reported that one dark night not long ago, the playground climbing rope walked off, or disappeared by some other means, at any rate it is at large. Anyone seeing it wandering around is asked to help it get home.

The boys' model airplane contest will be held at 14th street at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

FINGERPRINTS ALL SLEEPERS AT JAIL

Fingerprint experts have their troubles, but the one who piles his trade in connection with the Salem police department has found a way to solve his most serious difficulty.

The problem is this—there aren't enough criminals coming before the scrutiny of the police here, to keep a fingerprint man in practice.

But Officer Burgess, who is not yet a thorough expert but is getting there rapidly, has found a way out of the difficulty. He takes the fingerprints of all the "sleepers"—the boys who come in at night and ask for a bed—classifies them and keeps complete records. With any particular one of these cases the chances are extremely slim that the fingerprints will ever be used, but these boys are floaters, and there's no telling what's more important, Burgess gets a chance to ply his trade.

Now Bert Acosta has been fined $500 for crashing his plane at Curtiss field. Apparently Acosta's suspension by the bureau of aeronautics did not extend to his ship.

We will be glad when the street in front of our house gets old so that the workmen won't cut it up any more. They only dig trenches in streets that are new.

SCHOOL CHARMEN ADVISED OF NEEDS

Sanitary Survey of Buildings Will be Made Before Classes Begin

Although the opening of the fall term of school is still some weeks away, County Superintendent Fulkerson has mailed letters to chairmen of the county school districts calling attention to work which must be done before the opening of school.

The letter says in part: "I am pleased to note that many school boards are already looking after the school plant and making needed repairs and improvements preparatory to the opening of school. The law requires every school district to hold for 160 days actually taught, for this reason any time lost through neglect by the school board to be ready will be expensive for the district. No school should be allowed to open until the schoolhouse has been thoroughly cleaned."

Marion county has recently installed a full time sanitary officer. The county health office is planning to make a survey of the sanitary conditions in all the schools in the county. This will include: 1. The water supply; 2. Toilet accommodations; 3. Washing facilities; 4. Heating and ventilation; 5. Lighting; 6. School building and grounds.

In order that conditions needing correction may be remedied before the opening of school, this survey will be made during the summer months. We shall appreciate the hearty co-operation of all the board members in this respect.

Chairmen are also advised that plenty of fuel, chalk, erasers and good brooms and dust cloths for the janitor should be provided; and that the law requires the flag to be displayed on all school days, weather permitting. The school is a government institution, the letter states, and expresses the desire that the law on this point be enforced from the beginning of the school year.

The superintendent further writes: "All teachers in the state are required by law to register their contracts in the county superintendent's office before the beginning of school. The teacher is not entitled to her salary until this has been done. The law provides a penalty for violation of this act."

"If you intend to levy a district tax, a copy of your budget with the notice of special levy, must be in the hands of the county clerk, the assessor, and the school superintendent, not later than the last week in November."

"This office is ready to assist at all times in every way possible. Do not hesitate to ask us for assistance."

NEW INCORPORATIONS

State Motors, Inc., with capital stock of $10,000 and headquarters in Salem, filed articles in the state corporation department Friday. The incorporators are W. C. Montgomery, L. D. Lambeth and John Van Zante.

The Basic Books company, with capital stock of $20,000, has been incorporated by Charles D. Lazony, Charles F. Walker and Verne C. Lazenby. The headquarters are in Portland.

It costs two and a half times as much to educate a child as it did fifteen years ago. But of course a good many of them are sure they know two and a half times as much.

MARRIAGE CAUSES BRIDEGROOM TO DIE

Kentucky Man Stays Off Operating Table to Be Present at Wedding

NEWPORT, Ky., July 20.—(AP)—Wedding decorations of yesterday were taken down today to prepare for the funeral of Albert Chalk, 21, who died a martyr to his love for his bride, Bertha Demart, 20.

Shortly before the hour of their wedding Chalk was stricken with an attack of acute appendicitis. His doctor advised an immediate operation.

"Leave Bertha waiting at the church? No, we will wait until after the ceremony," Chalk insisted.

His body wracked with pain, he led his smiling bride to the altar, while his physician stood near him. Several times during the service he nearly fainted.

The fully decorated bridal car became an ambulance when the wedding was over and Chalk was hurried to a hospital.

"It's just a little case of appendicitis. I'll be all right in a little while," he smiled to his bride. She remained at the hospital for several hours but finally was induced to go to her home where the wedding guests were waiting. Late last night there came an urgent call from the hospital and Chalk died in the arms of his bride.

ACROBATIC DANCER ON THEATER BILL

Elsinore theater audiences will have an opportunity Sunday-Monday to see one of the O'Neil Sisters' former Kiddies a grownup girl, Lucille Page, sensational acrobatic dancer in Fanchon and Marco's "Bath Tub" idea in the former little kiddie who has graduated to the "big time" shows.

Though barely 19, Miss Page considers herself quite a trouper, having toured about with the O'Neil Sisters company during school vacations.

Acrobatic feats, which some of the most experienced dancers are only able to do through constant practice, Miss Page masters with ease and grace.

Besides Lucille Page, the "Bath Tub" idea features Sweet William and Bad Bill, those funny Brunswick recording comedians. Others are the San Francisco Junior Beauties, the Gilmartin Quadruplets and Maxine and BoPeep.

TWO COMEDY MEN DELIGHT AUDIENCE

When the bunco man comes to town hide the children's banks and double lock the doors, but don't fail to see one of them in action. It can be done without jeopardizing the family fortune by going to see W. C. Fields and Chester Conklin in their Paramount team comedy, "Fools for Luck," now playing at the Oregon theater.

This scintillating comedy of the professional promoter's adventures in a small town is an entertainment masterpiece. It is a riot of fun from start to finish and the laughs are made more enjoyable by being woven into an interesting story that has its full quota of thrills as well as a dash of intriguing romance.

The picture shows Fields as a silver tongued promoter who can make people scramble for the opportunity to turn over good money for worthless paper. Chester Conklin is shown as the leading citizen of a small town and an expert with a pool cue.

The pool game is only one of the many extremely amusing incidents which give this sparkling comedy. There is a scene where Conklin, thinking he is getting into bed with his wife, climbs in with Fields. And Conklin is the last man in the world Fields wants to see.

City May Straighten Jogs At Street Intersections

Some of the city's street intersection jogs may be straightened this fall. It plans which the engineering and street departments are considering materialize.

Of these irregular intersections, that at High and Mission streets is considered the most dangerous. City Engineer Rogers reports that a survey for the proposed change has already been made at this crossing, but decision to do the altering has not yet been reached. Small pieces of the land adjoining are now private property, he says, although it might be that the work could be done without the city having to purchase these.

Marshal Piuszki, of Poland, refers to the statesman in the Polish diet as "wind puffers." Another evidence that one touch of nature makes the whole world kin.

The U. S. Treasury entered the new fiscal year with a nice little surplus of $338,000,000. Who said Andy Mellon wasn't a pretty good housekeeper?

COOLIDGE FAVORS SIGNING AT PARIS

French Capital Declared Suitable Setting for Entering Into Pact

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 20.—(AP)—President Coolidge believes that an international conference possibly to be held in Paris for the simultaneous signature of all interested governments of the anti-war covenant now under negotiation would be very helpful in emphasizing the importance of the treaty in the eyes of the world by giving the ceremony a suitable setting.

Secretary of State Kellogg has informed Mr. Coolidge of suggestions along this line made by various European countries, and while his department has the matter under consideration no final decision as to its acceptance or rejection has been reached.

President Coolidge, however, is inclined to think that in view of the great importance which the pact has assumed and the cordiality with which Secretary Kellogg's latest proposed draft of it has been received by the great powers, a solemn ceremony at its conclusion would greatly enhance its prestige besides actually facilitating the process of affixing the necessary signatures.

President Coolidge would not be opposed to such a conference taking place in Paris or in any other European capital sooner than in Washington, inasmuch as he realizes that the American city is much further from the capitals of most of the signatory powers than any European center would be. For this reason Washington has never been suggested as the seat of such a gathering.

President Coolidge has been kept informed of the gratifying manner in which acceptances of the American draft of the treaty have been reaching the state department from the chief countries involved and from many of the smaller ones as well.

The draft proposal which was sent by Secretary Kellogg to fourteen of the chief European and Asiatic powers, would bind the signatory countries to renunciation of war "as an instrument of national policy" and would hold them to a pacific settlement of all future differences between them.

ROY O. WEST NAMED INTERIOR SECRETARY

elect a member of the committee and then named vice treasurer in charge of the campaign funds for the middle west.

It was perhaps through Mr. West's successful handling of Senator Charles S. Deneen's campaign in 1924 that he came forcibly to the attention of President Coolidge and subsequently was chosen to aid William M. Butler in the presidential campaign that fall. He managed the Illinois battle, delivering a plurality of the ticket second only to Pennsylvania.

Mr. West entered politics almost as soon as he took up the practice of law in Chicago as a graduate from DePaul in 1890. He became assistant county attorney in 1894, city attorney for Chicago from 1895-97, and a member of the county board of review from 1898 to 1914. He served five terms, ten years, as chairman of the Illinois republican central committee and was delegate to the national conventions in 1908, 12, 16 and 28.

The board of trustees of DePaul university at Greencastle, Ind., chose Mr. West its president at its last election. He is a member of the American, Illinois and Chicago bar associations, Delta Tau Delta and other fraternities; various social and country clubs and the Masonic lodge. For 26 years he has headed the legal firm of West and Eckhart.

THOMAS HOLLOWELL DIES AT FALLS CITY

Funeral Services Held Thursday for Well Known Polk Pioneer

FALLS CITY, July 20.—(Special.)—Thomas D. Hollowell died at his home in Falls City early Wednesday morning. He was born at Mt. Aetna, Huntington county, Indiana, April 24, 1850.

On March 21, 1883, he was united in marriage with Ellen L. Brownmery at Angola, Steuben county, Indiana. She preceded him in death, passing away March 11, 1923, at the family home here. They had no children.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollowell came to Oregon in October, 1889, first settling at Portland. They went from there to Stella, Wash., and in 1889 came to Lucklunite Falls, now Falls City.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollowell with others who had heard of the possibilities of the western country came to Portland and from there to Polk county seeking financial gain as well as a pleasant home. They stayed in this community from that time on, receiving mail from the old post office at Syracuse, seeing the change from twice a week service by horseback and spring wagon to the first railroad trains over the Southern Pacific City hotel, before that operating a boarding house. They farmed and then returned to town, where they made a home on the hillside which is now a garden, with green houses, grape arbors, blooming with shrubs and flowers, converted from a rocky waste to a thing of beauty and nourishment to all.

To name the friends of this pioneer couple would be to call the roll of the old settlers of this part of Polk county.

Thomas D. Hollowell was a member of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges, a believer in the Christian religion though not a member of any church, and received great comfort from the singing of old hymns and the bed-time prayer of friends during his last illness.

He leaves one sister, Mary E. Hollowell of Rickman, Indiana, a nephew Roland Hollowell of Andrews, Indiana, and a niece, Mrs. W. S. Weeks of Millville, Florida, children of a deceased brother.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Harold B. Miles at the Methodist Episcopal church on Thursday afternoon with burial in the IOOF cemetery beside his beloved wife. Burial services at the grave were conducted by the Odd Fellows lodge.

In one week recently 14 persons were reported missing in New York. An additional thousand or two probably lacked the necessary leave home—Des Moines Tribune.

NORTH HOWELL MAN SECRETARY OF CLAN

Woeke Brothers Getting Threshing Machine Ready For Season Run

NORTH HOWELL, July 20.—(Special.)—The descendants of the Caswood-English families held their annual reunion at Champco, last Sunday. Those present from this community included the Wiesner families, L. J. Simeral of Salem was elected president and E. G. Wiesner of North Howell, secretary.

Next Sunday is Grange day at Champco park and many North Howell members are planning to attend and picnic with Marion county Pomona which has reserved several tables.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wailman have house guests from California this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wailman spent several days at Newport last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Wiesner drove to Waldport and Yachats over last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wiesner, Archie Wiesner and Miss Bertha attended the funeral of Mr. Pennebaker in Woodburn Thursday. Flax-pulling has started.

The Woeke brothers are getting their threshing machine ready for harvest. Several new combine machines will start next week.
