TELEPHONE LINKS ALPS, CASCADES
Three Minute Talk to Switzerland by Telephone Will Cost $61.50
The Alps and the Cascades now are on speaking terms as the result of the establishment of this week of transatlantic service to all of Switzerland, according to word received by C. C. Ailer, manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. The various Swiss cities and towns, including Geneva, the home of the League of Nations, have been connected via Paris to London and the transatlantic radio link by means of an 800-mile four wire newly established circuit.

The rate for a call from Oregon, or any point in the Pacific northwest to Switzerland will be $61.50 for the first three minutes and $20.50 for each additional minute. The hours of service will include the period from 2:30 a. m. to 8 p. m. Pacific time, which corresponds to 11:30 a. m. to 3 a. m. in Switzerland.
Switzerland, with a population of nearly 4,000,000 and a telephone development of 225,000 instruments, is the ninth European nation to be connected by telephone with this side of the Atlantic. American tourists are expected to particularly enjoy this latest extension which includes many popular vacation resorts such as St. Moritz, Zermath, Mattreup, Lumano, Lucerne and Interlaken, as well as the Swiss capital, Berne and prominent commercial centers, such as Zurich.
