

LE BOUQUIN'S BUSY DAY

LE BOUQUIN, France, July 25.—(AP)—Paris flying field bid for leadership among commercial airports of Europe when 22 air liners, carrying 122 outgoing passengers and four tons of freight cleared the port and 23 planes, bearing 125 passengers and three tons of freight landed in one day recently. The handling of 247 passengers and seven tons of freight in 24 hours is believed to be a record for continental Europe.

Peas Continue Fall In Price

Peas, beans, potatoes—they don't sound terribly much like hot weather food, but there are many housewives who may be wondering how the market is standing on green peas and beans, especially, so they'll know when to begin the canning. Green peas have undergone a two cents decline this week, but are not yet down to the cheapest figure of the season. A few stores have no local peas, the last they had retailing as high as two pounds for 29 cents.

Local green beans are coming on in good quality and quantity, with three pounds for a quarter and thereabouts being the prevailing price. About potatoes: the new crop, if such they may still be called, have taken a decline this week. There are still some of the old crop U. S. No. 1 Nettle Gems, which are quoted at two cents a pound.

The U. S. No. 1 Walla Walla Yellow Danver onions are now also quoted at two cents a pound. Local cabbage, just a medium grade, is retailing at around three cents a pound, while the fancy Kelso crop is bringing a little more. Cauliflower, the best variety from Portland fields, is $1.50 per crate, wholesale.

Convenient!
