

LARRY WOLFE O. N. S. COACH

Former Linfield Director Hopes To Put Normal Sports On Top

OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, Monmouth, Aug. 1.—(Special)—"Larry" Wolfe, well known coach at Linfield college at McMinnville for the past three years has been engaged as athletic director and head coach at the Oregon Normal school at Monmouth. Under the tutelage of Coach Wolfe the normal hopes to bring football and basketball up to the level of the top of the Willamette valley conference for the past two years.

Before going to Linfield Coach Wolfe was athletic director at Newburg high, where in two years, he developed other lines of sports accordingly. Since taking charge at the Linfield college he has built up the morale and sporting spirit of that institution in such a manner as to place the school high in the athletic circles of the coast. The athletic standing

When he took over the management of Linfield athletics the school was almost unknown in sporting circles and had not competed in even the inter-collegiate events. Due to his work and influence the school activities took on new life and were soon admitted to the new northwest conference, which included such schools as the College of Idaho, Whitman, Willamette and Pacific universities and the College of Puget Sound.

In appreciation of his work at Linfield, is the following from an editorial in a McMinnville paper: "We can say that Linfield college is justly proud of Coach Lawrence Wolfe and the work he has done. He has organized the men into a spirited football team and he has instilled into them a fighting spirit and loyalty to Linfield. He has taught them many things that ordinary life will not teach—teamwork, self-sacrifice, sportsmanship and fair play." With such a recommendation in just one line of sports, the Monmouth normal anticipates a splendid year under the new coach."

Is War Veteran

Coach Wolfe is a graduate of Colorado college, where he was a star track, tennis and football man. He is a world war veteran and he saw real fighting in France. He did his first coaching in the Colorado Springs high school, whose team gained a legitimate claim to the national high school title in 1923.

Police are waiting to see who Bessie's next friend will be.

INSIGHT GIVEN INTO RUM RAID

Night Club Proprietors Along Broadway Stalked For Four Months

NEW YORK, August 1.—(AP)—Affidavits and expense accounts filed in federal court in connection with applications for warrants against night clubs were made public today, revealing in more detail how the prohibition agents gathered their evidence.

For four months these agents, sent from Washington without even the knowledge of the local prohibition administrator's office, frequented the city's night clubs, at an estimated expense of between $60,000 and $75,000. As a result of their investigation 138 persons have been indicted so far this week for conspiracy to violate the Volstead act in 26 resorts.

The Volstead accounts submitted with affidavits to Judge Hazel of Buffalo when warrants were desired for the night clubs, state that the agents paid $25 a bottle for champagne at Texas Guinan's saloon Royal, and $10 a pint for whiskey at the same place. At the European club they said they bought whisky on some occasions at $10 a pint and on others at $11 a drink.

The statement of Lou H. Tyson, one of the agents, indicated that he was accustomed to take his wife with him to the clubs assigned to him, Agent John J. Mitchell generally accompanying them. His expense account says that on June 28 he and his wife and Mitchell spent $50 for champagne at the Silver Slipper.

On June 9 Tyson said the trio's expenses were $12.40 for ginger ale and dinner, the wine bill bringing the total to $30.90.

On June 14 ginger ale and a pint of rye cost them $15.45 and champagne $38.25.

Tyson's expense account for himself, his wife and Mitchell on their various visits to the Silver Slipper during June alone amounted to $245.53.

He did not confine himself entirely to this one club, however. An affidavit attached to his expense account tells of visiting Helen Morgan's club, the Summer House, and asserts the hostess had knowledge of prohibition violations. He said that he posed as a resident of Dallas, Tex., and that Miss Morgan offered to help him start a night club there.

Tyson told in his affidavit how he and other agents got into the good graces of the night club folk. He said he, Mitchell and Agent R. E. Herriek, obtained a card from a waiter in the Privilege club early in the morning of June 20, refused to testify on the ground that their testimony would tend to incriminate themselves. All four are charged in two counts with contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl.

Refusal of the four witnesses to testify forced the state to close its case this afternoon without getting to the jury the accounts of the eye witnesses of the shooting. In her testimony Mrs. Thurston declared she carried the pistol with which she shot and fatally wounded her girl companion as a matter of custom. She said she carried the gun for self protection whenever she was not with her husband.

The defendant testified that jealousy over George Kolpka, which was given as the reason for the quarrel by other members of the party when they were questioned by the county attorney after the slaying which had nothing to do with the case.

The court room was packed to capacity today by a curious crowd, composed almost entirely of women.

HOOVER SUCCEEDS IN CATCHING TROUT

BROWNS CAMP, Near Hornbrook, Cal., July 31—(AP)—Herbert Hoover demonstrated his skill as an angler today by catching nearly a dozen Rainbow trout in Beaver creek, about thirty miles from this place.

Accompanied by Dr. Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, and another friend, the republican presidential nominee left his cottage here shortly after dawn and motored nearly ten miles to a point where the highway ended. The party camped in the creek there until saddle horses could be obtained from a nearby ranch.

The mountain trail there led through trees and underbrush for 15 miles to what proved to be good fishing grounds. Some of the trout were so small they were thrown back into the stream but the party brought home a sizeable

EQUALIZATION FEE HELD O. K.

Democratic Campaign Leader Hints Al Smith May Adopt That Plan

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(AP)—John J. Raskob, democratic national chairman, today said after a preliminary study of the equalization for farm relief, he had failed to find that it is economically unsound.

Something of the sort he said, might be included in the democratic plan for farm relief. The McNary-Haugen farm bill, carrying the equalization fee, was vetoed by President Coolidge.

The party would set about at once, the democratic chairman said, in formulating a constructive farm relief plan, and not wait until after the November elections. Governor Smith in a recent telegram to a western farm leader said if he were elected he would seek the best advice available in drawing up a farm relief program for presentation to congress immediately after inauguration.

Raskob yesterday conferred for four hours with George Nelson Peak, of Moline, Ill., head of the farm belt committee of 22 that fought unsuccessfully for the McNary-Haugen bill.

When apprised of the Raskob statement, senator George Moses of New Hampshire, Hoover eastern states manager, said: "If Mr. Raskob has been converted to the equalization fee, he is a brand plucked from the burning. I can't think of anything more revolutionary from a man with his background."

Peek and Governor Smith are to meet tomorrow. Senator Moses left today for the Dublin, New Hampshire, home of George Harvey, former ambassador to England, for a conference. From there he will go to Chicago for the regional republican conference Saturday.

MATRON SOBS OUT STORY OF MURDER

Women Crowd Montana Courtroom to Hear Sensational Testimony

MISSOULA, Mont., July 31.—(AP)—Her voice choked with sobs and with tears coursing down her face, Sylvia Thurston, 18 year old Milltown matron, this afternoon described before a jury the fatal shooting of Doris Wentworth, 16-year old Milltown high school girl with whose murder she is charged.

During the morning session four of the state's star witnesses, Corrine Daigle, Earl Clemons, Robert Farmer and George Kolpka, Mrs. Thurston's companions on the fatal joy ride and drinking party early in the morning of June 20, refused to testify on the ground that their testimony would tend to incriminate themselves. All four are charged in two counts with contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl.

SOUTHERN BISHOP OPPOSES AL SMITH

Strong Stand Against Tam- manny Man Taken Due to Wet Leanings

ATLANTA, Ga., July 31.—(AP)—Bishop W. N. Ainsworth of the Methodist Episcopal church south, in a formal statement against the presidential candidacy of Alfred E. Smith, declared today that no one "should be beguiled by the sophistry that the president cannot change the 18th amendment."

"The coming election will be largely a referendum on national prohibition said the bishop in his statement which was issued on the eve of his departure for China and Japan where he goes to his mission fields.

"The wets of all parties will support him (Smith). The pity is that some dries and a few good men in the 'Bible belt' (the south) will join the notorious Mencken, large numbers of purchasable negroes and foreigners in the cities of the north and all the loose elements of American citizenship to put him in the presidential chair."

"And then if successful," the statement continued, "they will immediately assert that his election is the will of the people and appeal to all congressmen to listen to the voice of the people. Many of them will fall before it. The president himself would make the appeal, the candidate is already making it."

Declaring that Smith has fought every vestige of anti-liquor reform, the bishop said that "he has done it so persistently and spec-

ACTIVE HOOVER FIGHT Planned in New York By Roosevelt Friend

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—(AP)—An active campaign for Herbert Hoover in New York was promised here by William Loeb, of New York, former secretary to President Roosevelt, in a call at republican national headquarters.

A statement by the republican national committee related that Mr. Loeb predicted the largest vote in history in New York this year, with republicans going "into the campaign with plenty of confidence" although the party organization "is still more or less in a state of flux."

"The nominee is personally and by practice wet," the statement said. "He is a habitual drinker. There has been no effort to deny a statement made by the nation last November that he drinks every day and the number of his cocktails and highballs is variously estimated at from 4 to 8."

"Unless as president he reforms, he would have to transport liquors to the white house in violation of the nation's law, or go constantly outside for bootleg liquor, or to the homes of friends to imbibe their pre-prohibition stocks. For the head of a government to violate the law he has sworn to enforce will not promote respect for him or for law and a cocktail president of a prohibition republic will disgrace America before the intelligence of the world. Such incongruity may suit the sidewalks of New York but it affronts the sober sense of all genuine Americans."
