LIFE'S SEPTEMBER
Life's September has its gold,
Has its burnished hues of splendor,
Has rich newness for the old—
Life is but an eager vendor,
Fetching wares of ancient mould.
Life's September tints them gold.
Life's September truly knows
How the warmth of gentler seasons
Quells the sting of winter snows,
Life is chief of all the reasons,
Why the staunch heart stronger grows,
With September blighting woes.
—Earle M. MacLeod, Chicago.

Miss L. Taylor Bride Of Walter Lottis at Impressive Ceremony

MISS Lucile Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Taylor, became the bride of Mr. Walter Lottis, son of Mrs. Martha Lottis, at an impressive double ring service solemnized Friday evening at the home of the bride's parents with the Rev. Robert L. Payne officiating.

Miss Viola, sister of the groom, was the bride's only attendant. Mr. Harold Lottis acted as best man, and little Donald Taylor, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

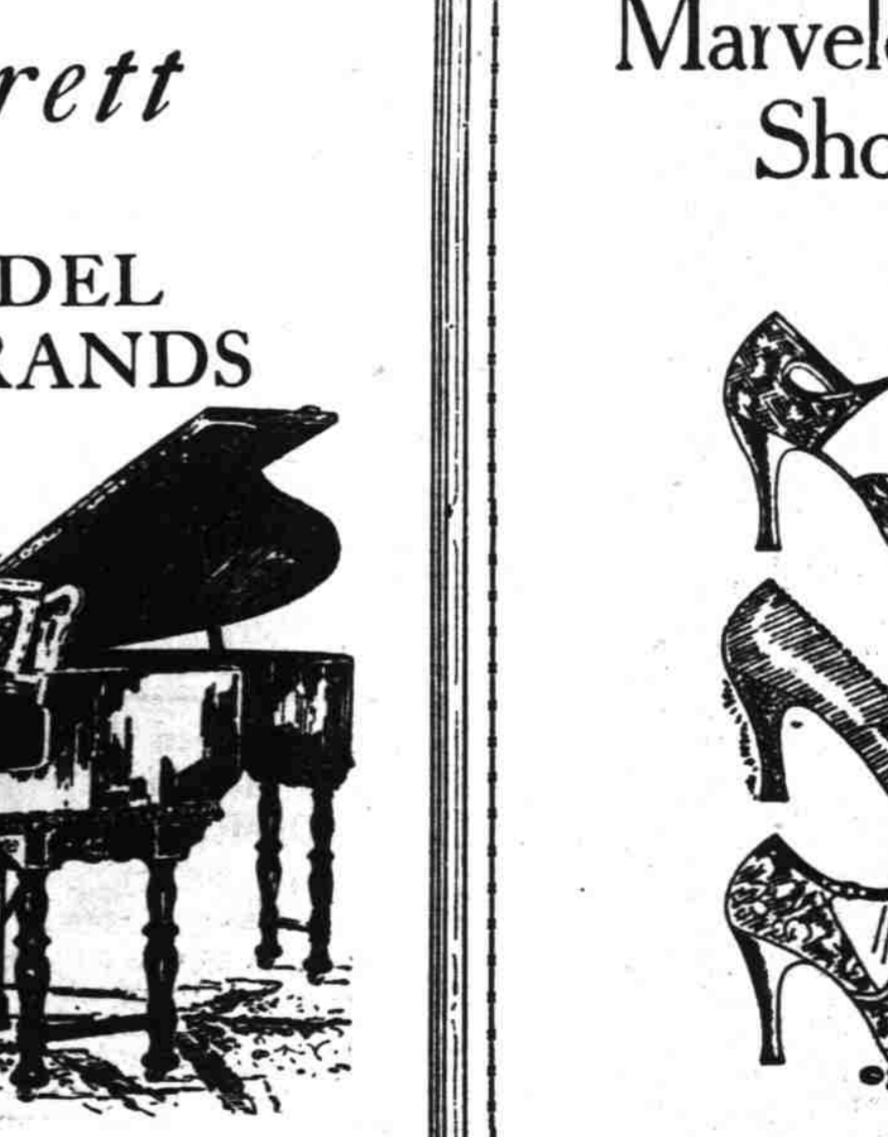

Preceding the ceremony, Luth Taylor, the bride's brother, sang "At Dawning," with piano accompaniment played by Miss Gail McClean. Miss McClean played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin as members of the wedding party took their places.

The bride wore a lovely wedding gown of shell pink silk crepe and cream lace. She carried an arm bouquet of rosebuds and white snapdragons.

Miss Viola Lottis, the maid of honor, wore an attractive frock of yellow taffeta.

Mrs. Lottis is a graduate of Salem High school and of Oregon State Normal school.
