SWIM WON BY NEW YORK GIRL

Young Seattle Woman Places Second in Canadian National Contest

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Led by 20-year-old Ethel Hertle of New York, five girl swimmers captured the five money-winning places in the ten mile water race for women at the Canadian national exhibition today.

Miss Hertle swam the distance in 5 hours and 34 minutes. In doing so she won a duel for the $10,000 first prize from her 16-year-old rival, Olive Gatterdam of Seattle, Washington. Miss Gatterdam took the second place about 200 yards behind and won $3,000.00. Her time was 5:37:46.

The two leaders were nearly a mile ahead of their nearest rivals. Third place went to Ruth Tower of Denver, with Jane Thoms of Terre Haute, Ind., fourth and Anna Bennett of Westfield, Mass., fifth. The big surprise of the race came when Miss Bennett spurted at the finish and shut Gertrude Ederle of New York, the first woman to swim the English channel, out of the money. Miss Ederle blamed her failure to "lack of competitive training."

"I haven't raced for two years," she said, "and it was bound to be on me."

All of the first five swimmers are eligible to enter the men's 15 mile contest over the same course next week but neither Miss Hertle nor Miss Gatterdam have decided yet whether they will compete.

"I have no plans," the winner said after the race. "I am satisfied to have won the $10,000 swim just now and in a few days I may decide to enter further contests. My big idea is to have a hearty meal."

The same idea was foremost in the western girl's mind. "A nice big juicy steak looks the best in the world to me," she said. "I haven't decided yet whether I will enter the men's swim. It's a pretty long grind, you know."

The cold waters of Lake Ontario provided the greatest obstacle to the swimmers and several were forced to drop out. Even the winner was slightly hampered by cramps.

Edith Hardy, of Toronto, the last of the three Canadian girls to finish, had a hard time. On the second lap she was suffering so severely from cramps that she begged to be taken from the water. Encouraged by her trainer, however, she continued and finished in fifteenth place.

GRAYBEARDS MEET GRANDPAS TODAY

Disciples of the doctrine that the younger generation doesn't know a thing about playing baseball may or may not find their beliefs corroborated this afternoon at 2 o'clock when the Salem Graybeards play the Dallas Granddads at Oxford Park.

Membership on these teams is limited to men who have passed the 40 year mark. At Dallas recently they played high class ball (most of the time), and with additional practice today's game should be even faster. The Salem quateragenarians won the Dallas encounter.

Beards Have Stars
The Graybeards' batting order will include such stars of yesterday as Dr. L. B. Bartick, manager; John O. Humphrey, captain; W. Barham, O. J. Hull, E. Barham, William Bertoz, Charles Ward, B. W. Macy, Fred Broer, Oliver Huston and Carl Gabrielson.

Despite the fact that he has two brothers on the Salem team, Wayne Barham has been selected by both sides as an honest umpire.

No Admission Charge
No admission charge will be made but friends of the teams will be permitted to contribute toward defraying the expenses of the game, in which the principal item, it is expected, will be liniment.

Interest in the event has been heightened by the challenges issued to all the world (with the same age limit as a qualification), by Oliver Huston and W. Barham to a footrace. Both were 10 second runners in their scholastic days.

GERMAN GIRL QUILTS SWIMMING CHANNEL

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Annie Myssel, German swimmer, abandoned her attempt to swim the English channel late tonight. Miss Myssel was taken from the water shortly before midnight after she had been swimming about five hours. She started her swim off Cape Gris Nez at 6:48.

CAPE GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 29.—(AP)—Two swimmers, one man and one woman, entered the water here tonight in attempts to swim the English channel. At 6:45 a German girl, Annie Myssel, started to try to reach the English coast, and at 8:40 p.m., Alexander Baker of Holland took off.

Alexander Hope of Cards

The fate of the St. Louis Cardinals rests in the aged but baffling right arm of Grover Cleveland Alexander, baseball critics say. If the big pitcher, at 41, can regain his form they expect the Cards to pull themselves from the slump that cost them the league lead.

RUSSELL TO PITCH FOR SALEM SUNDAY

Kermit Russell will be the choice of Manager Leo Edwards of the Salem Senators to start Sunday's game at Albany, the second against the Alocs in the playoff for the second half Willamette Valley league title.

In view of the exceptional pitching that Johnny Beck has done in the last two games, this may seem surprising strategy, but the reasons for it are sufficient. In case there is a third game, it will be played in Salem the following day, Labor day, and if Albany should win against Beck Sunday, the final game would be slightly anti-climatic.

If Albany adopts the same tactics, which is believed likely, Russell and Fortier will be the opposing pitchers at Albany Sunday and Beck will also be on the mound. The strikeout battle with Coleman here on Labor day. The game here will be played even though Salem should win at Albany, in which case it will be an exhibition affair.

WEST COAST GOLF STARS INVADE EAST

DEL MONTE, Cal., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Eight Pacific coast golf stars will pass up the California Amateur championship, here next week, in favor of the National Amateur event which starts at West Newton, Mass., September 1. They are rank Dolf, Donny Moxe and Doctor O. B. Willing, all of Portland; Bon Stein, Seattle; and Fay Coleman, David Martin, Allen Moser and James Read, all of Los Angeles.

Dr. Willing telegraphed this information today from the east to alert the club existing as to which tournament these players planned to attend.

Dolf, winner of the recent western amateur title, intended to return to Del Monte for the California event when he left for Chicago. It is believed he received an invitation to make a post entry in the national amateur after winning at Chicago.

John J. McHugh, San Francisco, present holder of the state championship, rules a stronger favorite to retain his title as a result of the news that such strong contenders will be absent. His principal competitors will include Chuck Hunter, Tacoma; Walter Fovargue, Seattle; Rudie Wilhelm, Portland; H. Chandler Egan, of Medford, Ore.; Dr. Paul Hunter, Pasadena; Jack Neville, Monterey Peninsula country club; Lester Coleman, Harold and Russell Thompson, and Jack Gaines, Everett and Charles Seaver, all of southern California, and Standton Haight, Henry Schmidt, George Studinger, George Ritchie and Clare Griswold, outstanding northern California players.

Sparks to Remain In Business Here

Information given the New Statesman Tuesday that Lester J. Sparks, proprietor of the Palace Barber shop at 447 State Street was removing from Salem, has been found to be in error. Mr. Sparks, while changing his residence, remains in this city as does Mrs. Sparks. He will continue operation of his establishment here, having established a good business which he reports constantly growing.

Here is one of the world's foremost scientists in an unprofessional and unfamiliar pose. He is Sir James C. Irvine, acting chancellor of St. Andrew's university, Scotland, an international authority on chemistry and other sciences and a skilled golfer, cricket player and horseback rider. The picture above was snapped when he was tossing the plates on the campus at Northwestern university institute.

ONLY 2 YANKEE TEAMS SURVIVE

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 29.—(AP)—Two pairs of young American tennis players survived the third round play in the national doubles championships today at the Longwood Cricket club courts to stave off an all-foreign final for the title which "Big Bill" Tilden and Francis T. Hunter were unable to defend.

The youthful homebreds gained their way into the semi-finals at the expense of two Australian teams. George M. Lott, Jr., and John Hennessey, the American Davis cup players who were topped, overcame Harry Hopman and Jack Crawford in four sets, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, and Johnnie Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison had to work even harder. They eliminated R. O. Cummings and E. F. Moon, another Anzac pair, in a five set match, 5-7, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

French Show Up Well
Though two other American teams fought valiantly, they were beaten by better foreign teams. The marvelous Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, members of the French Davis cup team and doubles champion of England, were forced to play four sets before they eliminated R. N. Williams, 2nd, and Watson Washburn.

Though Williams and Washburn won the only set the Frenchmen have lost so far in the tournament, they were too erratic and unsteady to deserve the victory. The Americans' brilliant play made Cochet and Brugnon appear slow and crude many times during the match but they were frightfully unimpressive while striving for the points that meant games and sets. The scores of this match were 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Australians Survive
The other foreign pair to enter the semi-finals were Gerald Paterson and Jack Hawkes, the Australian stars, who defeated Arnold W. Jones and W. W. Ingraham, of Providence, R. I., 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

The semi-final round will find Lott and Hennessey opposing Cochet and Brugnon and Van Ryn and Allison trying to keep Paterson and Hawkes out of the title bracket.

Mr. Dunne himself has seen the fallacy of his motor license laws and wishes that they may have been eliminated from the ballot. For the good of Oregon they should be swatted decisively by the voters.—Hood River Glacier.
