Charming Affair
At McNary Home

Prominent society folk from Portland, Eugene and other parts of the Willamette Valley gathered at the beautiful country estate of Senator and Mrs. Charles L. McNary, north of Salem on the River Road, yesterday afternoon and evening from three to nine-thirty o'clock for the most delightful affair of many seasons, an elaborate garden party, planned for the benefit of the fine arts building at the University of Oregon.

Senator and Mrs. McNary who will leave in September for Washington D. C. after spending the summer in Oregon offered their charming home for the interesting affair, thus giving their many friends an opportunity to bid them farewell.

Dozens of vivid lanterns strung along the creek, over the rustic bridge and in the huge shade trees on the extensive lawn added to the beauty of the setting.

The program given in the afternoon and again in the evening included several delightful dances, and vocal numbers given by Miss Nancy Thelisen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Thelisen, who delighted the group with her lovely, contralto voice.

Taking part in the scarf dance were the Misses Cynthia Delano, Maxine Myers, Isobel George and Phyllis Day. A sextette of attractive maidens, including Miss Kathryn Ellis, Miss Elizabeth Waters, Miss Margaret Bell, Miss Marie Statesman, Miss Zoe Daniels and Miss Mary Jane Lau, gave the Bacchantes.

Little Miss Joan Crawford, daughter of Mrs. Beatrice Crawford-Newcomb, gave a solo dance and Miss Elizabeth Waters and Earl White gave an interesting adagio interpretation. The picturesque fortune teller was a vogue of the afternoon. Fakl, a particularly gifted clairvoyant, is known to many who have called at the Magic Lantern Tea room in Portland. She gave readings throughout the afternoon and evening in a delightful, sylvan setting at the rear of the McNary home.

Presiding at the tea table, arranged on the attractive front lawn, were: Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson, wife of the governor of Oregon; Mrs. B. L. Stevens, Mrs. Oscar Hayter of Dallas; Mrs. J. F. Woodburn; Mrs. W. J. Kerr of Corvallis, Mrs. Clarence W. Keene of Silverton, and Mrs. George T. Gerlinger of Portland. Gypsophila, zinnias, and trumpet flowers, in rich autumn tints, with slender green tapers in silver sandalwood and the beautiful silver service, combined to form a charmingly-appointed tea table.

A group of the younger girls assisted in serving in the afternoon. They are: Miss Dorothy Moore, Miss Katherine Goulet, Miss Frances Martin, Miss Helen Darby, Miss Virginia Sisson, Miss Virginia Holt, Miss Bertha Babcock, Miss Betty Shipley, and Miss Yvonne Smith.

The following of the older girls assisted in the evening: Miss Josephine Albert, Miss Dorothy Baker, Miss Dorothy Bell, Miss Julia Croach, Miss Rovena Eyre, Miss Vivian Elker, Miss Ruth Fick, Miss Maxine Glover, Miss Pauline Knowland, Miss Helen Pollock, Miss Nancy Thelisen, Miss Charlotte Zieber, Miss Eugenia Zieber, Miss Florence Power, Miss Catherine Hartley, Mrs. Galen Zener, Miss Maxine Myers and Miss Irene Greenbaum.

Montgomery, Mrs. Carl Denton, Mrs. Edwina Hall, Mrs. E. J. Steele, and Mrs. Sanderson Reed of Portland; Miss Elizabeth McCord, Woodburn; Miss Augusta Gerlinger, Dallas; Mrs. Dan J.
