Miss Robinson, Mr. Gilbert Wedded

MISS Elizabeth Robinson of Corvallis, and Mr. Tinkham Gilbert of Salem were quietly married yesterday afternoon at four o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Thomas in Corvallis.

The service was read by Dr. William Hints, pastor of the First Methodist church of Corvallis, in the presence of a few intimate friends and immediate relatives of the bridal couple.

Mrs. Gilbert is the daughter of Mrs. Boyden Robinson of Long Lake, New York, and is a graduate nurse of a New York City hospital. She has spent the past several years in Oregon.

Mr. Gilbert, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gilbert of St. Paul, Minnesota, formerly of Salem, has been employed in the state banking department since his graduation from Willamette University.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert will return to make their home in Salem.

Dorothy Livesley Hostess At Dinner

MISS Dorothy Livesley entertained one evening last week with a charming dinner-dance at the Thomas A. Livesley home on Lincoln Hill, honoring a number of the younger group who are leaving shortly to enter school and college for the winter.

Covers were arranged for twenty at the attractively-appointed dinner table arranged in the dining room.

For several hours later in the evening, dancing was enjoyed in the ballroom on the third floor of the Livesley residence.

Among the out-of-town guests at the affair were Miss Margaret Pootman of Woodburn; Miss Betty and Miss Margaret Beam of Albany; and Messrs. Edward Sox, Ted Young and David Mason of Albany.
