Woman's Club Has First Session

THE Salem Woman's club opened the 1928-29 club season Monday with a business session in the club house on North Cottage street, with Mrs. A. L. Wallace, the new club president occupying the chair.

Reports were given by Mrs. Mary C. Fletcher, general chairman of the citizenship training department of the club; by Mrs. J. M. Devers, chairman of the applied education department; Mrs. W. F. Fargo, chairman of the fine arts department; Mrs. F. L. Utter, of the public welfare department; and Mrs. S. M. Endicott, chairman of the institutions department.

Mrs. David Wright, chairman of the yearbook committee, and Mrs. Harry J. Weidmer, of the hospitality committee, also gave brief reports.

Mrs. Charles K. Spaulding announced that the Dorenbacher hospital committee of which she is chairman, will sponsor a benefit bridge tea some time in October.

The Woman's club classes will be continued this winter under the auspices of the applied education department. Dr. Martin F. Ferrey will be leader of the Book of the Month class, and Dr. F. G. Franklin has consented to again take charge of the Current Events class.

Yearbooks were completed last week and will be distributed to the members upon payment of the club dues.

An interesting musical program was given at the meeting which included vocal solos and duets given by Mrs. J. M. England and Mrs. Perry, accompanied by Professor T. S. Roberts.

MEMORY

I see a schooner in the bay
Cutting the current into foam;
One day she flies and then one day
Comes like a swallow veering home.

I hear a water miles away
Go sobbing down the wooded glen;
One day it falls and then one day
Comes sobbing on the wind again.

Remembrance goes but will not stay;
That cry of unpermitted pain.
One day departs and then one day
Comes sobbing to my heart again.

—Duncan Campbell Scott.
