At the Theaters

Stepping out from the usual run of stage revues, Fanchon and Marco have gone out into space for the inspiration for their "Trip To Mars" idea, the stage production coming Sunday, Monday and Tuesday to the Elsinore theatre.

The "Trip to Mars" idea promises entertainment that's different.

From the back drop on the stage to the music in the pit, everything will bear evidence of a fantastic world.

Featured in the "idea" are John and Harriet Griffith and Huff and Hunt, adagio dancers; Billy Lester and his Musketeers of harmony; Maxine and Doreen, Andy Rice Jr.; and the Sunkist beauties.

Announcement is made to the music lovers of Salem that the famous master of the violin, Alexander A. Vdovin, who plans to open a studio in this city will appear in concert at the Elsinore theatre next Friday matinee and night. Mr. Vdovin came to America four years ago and appeared in Seattle with the Symphony orchestra, leading the viola section. He was born in Russia and began his study of the violin when six years of age. After a brilliant musical career in Europe he entered the Russian army at the outset of the world war, serving until his country retired from the struggle. Later he went to Shanghai, China, where he remained with the Symphony orchestra, there for more than two years. Recently he has been filling an engagement with the Los Angeles Symphony orchestra. His announced decision to open a studio in Salem is arousing great interest among musical circles in this city.

Walter Hagen, who plays golf for trophies and holds a lot of championships and is also noted for being a golfer of personality and charm, as well as skill, has turned movie actor and will be seen today at the Oregon theatre, in "Green Grass Widows."

Gertrude Olmstead and Johnny Harmon play the sweethearts, Lincoln Steadman is the blundering boy friend, Hedda Hopper is the girl's mother and Ray Hallor is the mean cuss who tries to win Johnny's girl.

Music

Napoleon I, at St. Helena said:

Of all the liberal arts, music has the greatest influence over the passions, and is that to which the legislator ought to give the greatest encouragement. A well-composed song strikes and softens the mind, and produces a greater effect than moral work, which convinces our reason but does not warm our feelings, nor effect the slightest alteration in our feelings.
