Screen Life in Hollywood

By Wado Werner
HOLLYWOOD, Cal. — Various producers still are issuing statements on the talking picture situation which remind one very much of the advice frequently printed on the theatre programs:

"In case of fire, walk, do not run, toward the nearest exit." The statements contain such phrases as "don't be panicked by sound," "don't rush into this," and "take your time." But it is hard to find on most of the movie lots any feverish activity of any kind that is not directly connected with talking pictures, and if building activities mean anything the industry is being transformed by talking pictures from the very foundations up.

The foundations of the new stages in which many of Laura La Plante's and Reginald Denny's forthcoming pictures will be made are insulated with cork, and those in which Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford and John Gilbert soon will be acting are resting on cushions of rubber. Sound-recording equipment works best, it seems, in stages protected against vibrations.

Thicker Doors
Such fundamental changes are not the only ones. Even the doors of visiting visitors from sets are vastly altered. Where formerly a flimsy canvas gate kept the inquisitive explorer outside, the new sound stages have massive double doors like ice boxes. The thickness of the doors is for protection against outside noises, rather than against the effect on the visitors. The same is true.

There also seems to be more of a tendency to work at night since the sound stages are so insulated.

Andrews said the party was passing a large rock when he heard a shot and turned around to see Hunter falling forward. He caught the man and eased him to the ground.

"Have I shot you?" Enos cried from behind the rock.
"Yes, I'm shot," Hunter replied as he lost consciousness.

President's Son Reports For Work As Railroad Clerk
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 12. — (AP) — John Coolidge settled down to work as an ordinary clerk for the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad Tuesday and immediately began to learn the miscellaneous routine duties that are expected to carry him forward to a higher position if he continues his interest in railroading.

Arising shortly after 7 o'clock at the Yale graduates club where he is living temporarily, the young son of the president walked to work and arrived 10 minutes before schedule. A battery of camera men stood outside the door of the yellow building and many people on their way to work stopped to gaze at the youth as he entered. Dressed in a natty blue suit, blue tie and blue shirt, he was greeted by Joseph Wipper, chief clerk of the operating department under whom he will work for the present. In the room with Coolidge will be six other men.

Miss Laura Heist Honored With Afternoon

THE Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church entertained Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors with a delightful affair, complimenting Miss Laura Heist who will leave September 22 for India where she will remain for six years. Seventy-five women were included in the guest group. Lovely baskets of early fall flowers in a variety of vivid shades were arranged about the church rooms.

Dr. Fred C. Taylor conducted the devotional and Mrs. Benjamin Blatchford gave a review of the studybook, "Ownership." It is of interest to know that this book was written by Miss Butler, daughter of one of the charter members of the society.

Mrs. Sheldon F. Sackett sang "Workmen of God" as a feature of the musical program. Later in the afternoon the duet, "The Silent Voice" was sung by Mrs. Charles Swan and Mrs. Aubrey Fletcher. The piano accompaniments were played by Miss Edith Findley.

Miss Heist who spent five years in India before returning a year ago to the United States gave an interesting talk in which she told of the various impressions she had received while traveling through the country. She told of the wonderful beauty of the world and the great kindness of its people and spoke of the work of the people towards Christianity.

A business session concluded the afternoon. Mrs. E. T. Barnes and Mrs. M. C. Findley were elected as delegates to the branch meeting of the Foreign Missionary society which will be held in Portland October 11-14. Mrs. H. M. Durkheimer and Mrs. H. E. Shanks were elected as alternates.

It was decided to hold all monthly meetings of the society in the church parlors. Several new members were introduced.

The following officers were elected for the 1928-29 year: president, Mrs. C. M. Findley; vice-president, John R. Trindle; recording secretary, Mrs. C. F. Brethaupt, corresponding secretary, Mrs. U. G. Boyer; treasurer, Mrs. H. M. Durkheimer; and superintendent of young people and superintendents of junior work, Mrs. A. A. Hunt, secretary of extension work, Mrs. P. E. ## Wagons Run Wild Forcing Autoist Into Deep Ditch

Three dump wagons breaking loose from a county truck driven by O. D. Bennegar, coasted down a hill on the Macley road seven miles from Salem Wednesday morning and caused a peculiar accident to the automobile of G. R. Barry, of Shaw.

The dump wagons crashed into a second county truck which was hauling three similar wagons; this truck was stopped so suddenly that Barry, driving close behind it, was forced into a ditch about five feet deep.

Barry's automobile was badly wrecked, but he escaped with only a few scratches. The trucks and dump wagons were on their way to Union Hill, to be used in county road work.

The accident occurred in the rugged country of Deader mountain.

S. A. Andrews of Brownsville was walking along the trail in the lead, followed by Hunter, Manuel Enos, also of Brownsville, bringing up the rear.

Andrews said the party was passing a large rock when he heard a shot and turned around to see Hunter falling forward. He caught the man and eased him to the ground.

"Have I shot you?" Enos cried from behind the rock.
"Yes, I'm shot," Hunter replied as he lost consciousness.

Creamed Celery
1 1/2 cups diced celery, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 cups water, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1 cup milk.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I always use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before and after childbirth. I am a mother of three children—two little girls and a baby boy. I would get run-down, nervous, dizzy, and weak sometimes so I had to lie in bed. I would take the Vegetable Compound as a tonic and I always saw an improvement after taking the first bottle. I found it to be a good tonic. I always recommend your medicines to my friends and I cannot speak too highly of them."—Mrs. ANNA LOUBENACK, 1607 S. Front Street, Phila., Pa.
