ATLANTIC HOP PUT OFF AGAIN

Airplane Roma Not to Begin Flight This Morning, Announcement

OLD ORCHARD, Me., Sept. 15. (AP)—Cesare Sabelli, co-pilot and an owner of the airplane Roma, said tonight that the plane would not take off tomorrow on its proposed non-stop flight to Rome.

He said that weather authorities in New York had advised against starting the flight tomorrow.

Bonelli, radio man and navigator of the party, left New York today after preparing flight charts with weather bureau officials. He was expected to reach here late tonight.

Chief Pilot Ready
Williams, chief pilot, on arrival last night said that when Bonelli would join the crew and the flight would start immediately.

Today Williams expressed hope that the Roma could leave tomorrow afternoon. Tide conditions would permit a take-off from the smooth beach about 4 p. m.

Edward S. Napolis, flight manager, stationed earlier from New York, said the plane probably would leave within 48 hours. American and foreign weather bureaus, he said, reported favorable conditions beginning tomorrow morning.

Wife Has Confidence
Confidence in Williams' flying ability was expressed by his wife, Mrs. Carrie T. Williams of Richmond Hill, N. Y., who was here with her husband.

"If I was given the chance, I would be glad to go along," she said.

Jean Picault of Yonkers, N. Y., and a brother Paul of Elmhurst, L. I., also were here to remain with their brother, Dr. Picault, until the Roma leaves.

The plane remained tonight in a hangar at the Scarborough airport near Portland. It will be flown here and refueled before the actual take-off.

The Roma has an upper wing spread of 65 feet, six inches. Its cruising range is estimated at 5,500 miles. An auxiliary wing under the main spread, a feature of this type of craft, is credited with materially adding its lifting power. A fold landing gear enables the wheels to be drawn into the lower wing to cut down air resistance.

The monoplane's fuselage is painted pale blue, with yellow wing tips and gray center section. The ship is equipped with dual 60-gallon main gasoline tank. A 600-gallon capacity is located behind the pilot's cabin. A small passage over the tank leads to the radio room in the center of the fuselage. Power from an air generator will be used for radio purposes.

Forty thousand race fans saw the Marshall Field colt establish a new track record of 1:19 flat for the six and three-quarter furlongs and win $97,990 for his owner. Roguish Eye's share of the purse was $12,600. Third place, with $1,000, was shared by $6,800 and fourth $1,000. Roguish Eye paid 10 to 1 to place and Jack High even money to show.

Motorcyclists Hurt—Oliver Colby suffered head injuries, and Verne Shewey a broken foot when a motorcycle on which they were riding collided with an automobile about 9:45 o'clock Saturday night. They were brought to the Willamette Sanitarium in an ambulance. The attending physician reported that neither of the youths was seriously injured.

KANGAROO COURT HAS REAL STATUS IN COUNTY PRISON

Inmates of Jail Sticklers for Form and Ceremony at Trials Which Always Result in Conviction of Accused

Considered by its sponsors to be fully as important as any other branch of Marion county's legal machinery, the kangaroo court of the county jail is conducted regularly, scrupulously and conscientiously.

The workings of this legal institution, a mystery to most of the general public, become known at once to anyone whose career takes him to that particular suite of rooms in the Marion county court house.

"Every jail has its kangaroo court," said Oscar Bower, sheriff, commenting on the situation last week. "Ours is about like the rest, I suppose. We see to it, however, that nothing extreme or unreasonable is done as a result of its sessions."

The newly arrived guest is brought before the prisoner's tribune shortly after his arrival behind the bars. The charge upon which he is prosecuted may be almost anything; the chief plea is that there must be a charge.

Must Be a Charge
Often a prisoner is accused of entering jail without permission. He might be brought up on the charge of getting up too early in the morning. The agile minds of prisoners who have faced criminal charges of the outside world find it easy to think of acts which, in their opinion, should be classed as felonies and misdemeanors.

It is a solemn occasion when the prisoner is brought before the judge of the kangaroo court and formally notified of the crime of which he is accused. He has his counsel, the prosecuting attorney gets ready, the jury is picked, and the trial begins.

HIGH STRUNG WINS BELMONT CONTEST
NEW YORK, Sept. 15. (AP)—Marshall Field's High Strung, at 15 to 1, raced the pick of the nation's two-year olds off their feet today to win the Belmont Park futurity, richest of all American stakes.

The chestnut son of High Time and Emotion raced into an early lead and held on to win by a nose in a driving finish from J. J. Coughlin's Roughish Eye, western thoroughbred. G. D. Widener's Jack High, one of the two outstanding favorites, was third and G. A. Cochran's Healy, fourth. E. R. Bradley's Blue Larkspur, which was the betting favorite at 5 to 2 on the strength of his imposing record this season, never was in the running and finished far in the rear.

Forty thousand race fans saw the Marshall Field colt establish a new track record of 1:19 flat for the six and three-quarter furlongs and win $97,990 for his owner. Roguish Eye's share of the purse was $12,600. Third place, with $1,000, was shared by $6,800 and fourth $1,000. Roguish Eye paid 10 to 1 to place and Jack High even money to show.

LEGION REQUESTS VOTERS REGISTER

Non partisan advice to all voters to make sure prior to October 6 that they are legally registered, is contained in a resolution passed by the members of Capital Post No. 9, American Legion, released for publication Saturday by H. G. Malson, commander of the post.

"WHEREAS: It has been brought to the attention of the American Legion, a patriotic organization, that several thousand voters within Marion county will be deprived of the right to vote at the general election, November 6th, because of improper registration, and

"WHEREAS: It is not generally known that those voters who have moved from one precinct to another, those who have fixed to vote for the past two years, and those who have changed their names by marriage, must re-register with the county clerk or his duly appointed registrars on or before October 6th next, in order to be again eligible to vote.

"THEREFORE be it resolved that we, the members of Capital Post No. 9, American Legion, believing it to be the patriotic duty of every citizen to exercise the right of franchise, strongly urge all citizens of Marion County to see that they are properly registered and that they go to the polls November 6th and vote their convictions.
