

Willamette to Have Freshman Grid Team This Year

DIVIDED SQUAD PLAN ADOPTED

First Year Men Not to be Deprived of Chance to Make Varsity

Willamette university will have a freshman football squad this fall, for the first time in history.

Football at the Methodist school here has developed, at least in number of candidates turning out, to the point where there are too many men to handle in one squad if all of them are to receive attention and opportunity to play.

There were 54 men out on the field in suits Wednesday afternoon, and still more to come.

Just as soon as it can be arranged, the squad will be divided into a varsity and a freshman squad, and arrangements made for dividing the attentions of the coaching staff between them Coach Keene announces.

Regular Schedule

The freshman team will have a regular schedule of games—perhaps not a full schedule, as it is rather late to arrange that, but a number of games against other freshman teams and high schools.

But because of the difference between rules of the Northwest conference and those of the Pacific Coast conference, Willamette's freshman squad will not be handled precisely in the same manner as those at the state schools.

Freshmen are eligible for the varsity at Willamette, and therefore players will be liable to transfer from the freshman squad to the varsity squad at any time, and if they happen to be freshman, men who are on the varsity squad one night may be on the freshman squad the next, if the judgment of the coaches so dictates.

Plenty of Opportunity

There will be also times, said Coach Keene, when the freshman team intact will be sent on the field to play during part of an intercollegiate game.

This will necessitate a closer dovetailing of instruction for the two squads, particularly as to offensive tactics, so that the larger colleges' plan of having a separate coaching squad for the freshmen will not be practicable.

NEW SPORTSMEN'S GROUP IS FORMED

MEDFORD, Ore., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Sportsmen of California, Oregon and Washington meeting here today formed the Western States Fish and Game Protective Association, with P. Paul Page, of San Francisco, president, Bert Anderson, of Medford vice-president, and H. L. Betton of San Francisco, secretary and treasurer. The association embraces all states west of the Rockies and the provinces of British Columbia. A resolution seeking remedial legislation covering commercial fishing, and another one memorializing congress to conclude a treaty with Great Britain for the protection of the high seas of the Pacific ocean fish were adopted.

A third resolution asks that the legislatures of Oregon, California and Washington pass a uniform law prohibiting the use of salmon eggs, or any imitation thereof, in the lakes and streams of the three states.

The main objective of the meeting here was the securing of regulation of the ocean salmon fishing, it being declared that commercial fishing had reached such a scale that the future supply was jeopardized.

The Association will cooperate with the Pacific International Salmon Investigation federation in securing legislation proposed.

GIANTS FACING ST. LOUIS CLUB

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Another crucial series was imminent in New York with rain a threat. Leading the Giants by two full games, the Cardinals were already upon the battle site, prepared to meet the clan McGraw at the polo grounds tomorrow in a gala double-header which may go far toward deciding the ownership of the national league pennant for 1928.

Although the tension was not so great as ten days ago when the veteran Cornelius McGillicuddy invaded the Ruppert stadium to have it out with the Yankees, preparations were being made by club officials and police authorities for the greatest national league event in this city since the Pirates came to town to prove their case against the Giants late in August of 1925.

No all-night line was in prospect at the popo grounds, probably because the weather was inclement, and reserved seats were still to be had, but all club officials expected the historic baseball stadium to be comfortably filled at 1:45 o'clock tomorrow when the first game of the crucial double header is started. The capacity of the polo grounds for a non-league event is somewhere around 55,000.

The threat of rain remained in the air tonight as the tail-end of the Florida hurricane blew itself out about the house-tops after having swept the entire national league schedule into the discard this afternoon.

John McGraw was ready and waiting with Larry Benton and Joe Genewich, while Bill McKeehanie was prepared to counter with Willie Sherdel and old Alex the Great—or perhaps the veteran Clarence Mitchell, long famed as the only left-handed spitballer in the Giants.

If rain should force a postponement, which seemed not improbable this evening, the Giants and the Cards could lock horns twice on Friday, an open-date in the schedule, and wind up the current segment of their series on Saturday as advertised.

Local Boxer to Fight In Astoria Monday Night

Pat Dundee, local welterweight who has been working out at the armory, is billed to meet Del Allen, one of the best men of his weight in the northwest, at Astoria next Monday night.

The Astoria matchmaker has been conducting a welterweight tournament and Allen so far has stayed at the top of the list.

BEAVERS AGAIN WALLOP ANGELS

French Pitches Portland Club to 3-1 Win Over Southern Aggregation

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 19.—(AP)—French's fine pitching gave the Portland Beavers a 3 to 1 victory over Los Angeles here today. The Angels averted a shut-out after two were out in the ninth when Jones doubled and Hood singled. Peters, who started for the Angels, was benched in the Los Angeles fifth for abusive language to Umpire Panning.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Hollywood lost a chance to catch the league leading Oakland team today when George J. Wilhelm, manager of the Oakland posed out the Stars 7 to 6 in an eleven inning game here. Although the Senators lost to the Missions 9-6, tonight they still cling to a one game advantage over Hollywood.

Astoria's Squad Getting In Shape

The Astoria high school football squad, one of Salem high's principal opponents this season, is getting a big start on the local pigskin chasers, who must wait until next Monday to start practice. Astoria high is already in its second week of preliminary work. John Warren, University of Oregon graduate, is Astoria's new coach succeeding Lloyd Sowers, Salem, and Astoria play at Astoria October 27.

EUGENE GETS SUNDAY GAME

Salem and Bend Clubs Ready for Final Clash for Season's Title

Arrangements for Sunday's final game between the Salem Senators and the Bend Eagles for the Willamette Valley league championship, were completed Wednesday when George J. Wilhelm, president of the league, announced that Al Sanders of Albany and "Shy" Huntington of Eugene had been selected as umpires.

The game will be played at 2:30 Sunday afternoon at the Lane county fairgrounds on the outskirts of Eugene. Frank A. Graham, manager of the Eugene baseball team, is in charge of arrangements there and promises to have the diamond in good condition.

Bend Fans Coming

Information received from the Bend management indicates that a caravan of fans will follow the Eagles across the mountains to support them in this game, and it is expected that an equal number of Salem fans will be on hand.

Clem Keber, 17-year old Senator (third baseman, has taken up his studies for the priesthood at Mt. Angel, and will not be with the club in this game. To fill his place Manager "Frisco" Edwards has signed up Halenfeldt, who played with the Albany team most of the season.

Davis Will Pitch

Curtis Davis, who performed capably as relief pitcher last Sunday here in the second game of the championship series, will start on the mound in Sunday's final game, Edwards announces. Johnny Beck has been working out with the Portland Beavers, and last week he was called upon for so much pitching in batting practice that he was not at his best in the game here, and Edwards is afraid his condition will be about the same Sunday. Beck will be on hand, however, to go in should he be needed.

Olinger, who was out of town last Sunday, will be back in uniform and will fill his regular place in left field. Epps will probably play center field.

BEAVER - SENATOR GAME IMPROBABLE

The Portland Beavers have offered the Salem Senators a game here October 6, but it probably won't be played. For one thing, the Senators will have a dish-pan for a couple of weeks by that time, and it would be difficult to get them together again.

Another objection Manager "Frisco" Edwards sees to putting up the guarantee the Portland coast league team wants for this game, is that the date suggested is a Saturday, and the football schedule will be pretty much in conflict.

On that day Willamette university is to play Linfield at McMinnville, University of Oregon and Stanford will draw some Salem fans to Eugene, and according to the schedule received here, which may be in error, Oregon Normal is to play Chico State Teachers college here in Salem.

Seven ministers and the sexton of Silverton have decided not to conduct funerals on Sunday except in cases of emergency.
