

3 SALEM MEN UPON FACULTY

University Extension Work to Begin Here On October First

Three Salem educators are among the nine Oregon men who will compose the faculty of the Salem extension classes of the University of Oregon, which begins October 1. W. G. Beattie, extension lecturer for the university, is director of the classes here.

Salem men who will participate are George W. Hug, city school superintendent, Dr. H. C. Kohler, professor of English at Willamette university, and Dr. C. L. Sherman, professor of philosophy and education at Willamette.

The remaining faculty members are from the state university, as follows: Thomas H. Gentle, extension division instructor in education; Prof. C. L. Kelly of the school of business administration; J. K. Horner, assistant professor of English; Dr. H. R. Taylor, associate professor of psychology; N. B. Zane, professor of design; and Mr. Beattie.

Meet In High School
All classes, except that on child psychology which meets in the county health demonstration building on High street, will meet in the Salem high school. The term registration fee is $7 and entitles the student to not to exceed six term hours of study.

A minimum of 20 students are expected to enroll in each course. The fall schedule, which closes December 21, is as follows:

Monday: 7:15: public speaking, room 216, two hours, Prof. Horner instructor; 7:15: educational sociology, room 217, two hours, Mr. Beattie; 7:00: child psychology, a special course limited in number and with additional fee, health demonstration, two hours, Dr. Taylor.

Thursday: 4:00: curriculum making, room 217, one hour, Mr. Hug; 7:15: The Poetry of Shelley and Keats, room 216, one hour, Dr. Kohler; 7:15: Art Analysis, room 219, one hour, Prof. Zane; 8:15: Poster Design, room 219, one hour, Prof. Zane; 8:15: Great Literary Books, room 216, one hour, Dr. Kohler.

Friday: 7:15: Social Psychology, room 216, one hour, Dr. Sherman; 8:15: Problems in Philosophy, room 216, one hour, Dr. Sherman.

Three courses not offered during the fall term will be taught during the winter term. They are the Pedagogy of the Social

Freshman Taken By Convulsions

Walter Vinson, freshman at Willamette university, whose home is in Newberg, was found unconscious on bank of South Mill creek back of the Willamette gymnasium, Saturday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock, and was taken to the Salem General hospital where his condition was reported serious. It was believed that he had suffered convulsions from an unknown cause. He had gone to the creek unaccompanied. Vinson had enrolled at Willamette for the first time last week.

Shot In Face May Not Prove Fatal To Klamath Man

MEDFORD, Ore., Sept. 23—(AP)—The condition of Jess E. Pefruska of Malin, Klamath county, Oregon, a mechanic, who last night shot himself in the face with a rifle, was reported improved tonight. Physicians said he had a slight chance of recovery.

The bullet ranged upward from the chin and lodged over the right eye.

Pefruska left a note written in Czecho-Slovakian, in which he said he was weary of life because of an unfortunate love affair.

OSAKA AS STREETS

OSAKA (AP)—Traffic has become so congested in the city streets here that Japanese officials are contemplating use of the old canals. It is proposed to use boats propelled by outboard motors as a part of the municipal transportation system.

PREACHED COMING FROM TILLAMOOK

TILLAMOOK, Ore., Sept. 23—The Rev. W. G. Lienkaemper, pastor of the St. Johns Reformed church here for the past nine years, will appear in the pulpit of his church for the last time Sunday, and will leave the first of the week for Salem, where he has accepted the call of his former parsonage.

Mr. Lienkaemper accepted the pastorate of the Reformed Church of Salem 17 years ago, coming from Dayton, Ohio. Then he came to the Tillamook parsonage, but the resignation of his successor at Salem created a vacancy which it was felt, Rev. Lienkaemper could best fill.

Mr. Lienkaemper's family has been socially active in Tillamook. Mrs. Lienkaemper has taken part in social and community affairs of all kinds. George and Gertrude, son and daughter, graduated from Tillamook high school. George graduated from the University of Oregon last spring and will teach at Seasideport this year. Gertrude is a teacher in the home-economic department of White's Grade school at Seaside. Two other daughters, Lois and June will go to Salem with their parents.
