No School Tomorrow—Salem school children will have a whole day, tomorrow, to visit the state fairsgrounds and wonder at the exhibits and other attractions. Classes will resume Thursday morning, by which time it is expected most of the students will be registered.

Married Sunday—Mrs. Mary Wenderoth and Henry Rudolph Schuman were married Sunday at 2 o'clock p. m. at 696 North Cottage street. They were attended by Mrs. C. E. Wenderoth and Theodore Coeniberg. The double ring service was used, the Rev. W. C. Kantner officiating.

Indiana Visitors—Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Myers of Goshen, Ind., arrived here Saturday to visit Mrs. Myers' brother, H. D. Mars, editor of the Jefferson Review. Mr. Myers is rate clerk for the New York Central railroad in Goshen. They will remain with Mr. and Mrs. Mars for several weeks. This is the first time they have seen each other in 20 years.

Yamhill Case Today—Arguments of attorneys will be heard by the supreme court here today in the suit brought by the Yamhill Electric company to test the validity of the public service commission act and to restrain the City of McMinnville from operating its electrical utility beyond the city limits. There are a large number of intervenors in the case, including the public service commissions of various western states. The case was said to be of unusual importance for the reason that the decision of the court will affect a large number of municipalities which operate utility plants.

Former Residents Here—Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Lehman, until two years ago residents of Salem, were renewing acquaintances here Monday. Mr. Lehman conducted a grocery business here at the same time preaching at the Stuyton Baptist church. Mrs. Lehman and their two daughters are living in Vancouver, where he has been located since leaving here. He has recently entered the Western Baptist Theological seminary in Portland.

California Enroll—With two more arrivals yesterday, the total number of students from California registering at Kimball school of Theology has reached five. Paving Program At Dallas Now Near Complete (SPECIAL)—This city's 1928 paving program is well under way and with a few more weeks of fine weather will be completed. The streets being improved are: three blocks on West Ash street one block on West Clay street and Jefferson street.

Spreading Fire Finally Halted

(SPECIAL)—A disastrous grass fire starting midway between Falls City and Lewisville burned over several hundred acres late Friday afternoon before it was finally brought under control. It took the combined efforts of every side boiled man and boy in the Lewisville and Airlie communities to keep the fire from destroying farm houses and buildings. Fences were swept away by the flames and a few straw stacks were destroyed. Just how the fire started has not been determined.
