TERM OPENING AT MONMOUTH

Thirteen New Faculty Members at Normal School; Football Men Out

OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, Monmouth, Ore., Sept. 24.—Fall term registration began here Saturday morning. Preliminary student examinations in arithmetic, English and American history were held throughout the day.

A general faculty meeting occurred in the administration building at 10:00, followed by various departmental meetings pertaining to plans for the year.

New Courses Given A definite program of work arranged for the entire year for students taking either elementary or standard courses, also for those who want training in either primary, intermediate or advanced departments, is a new feature of the fall schedule.

Faculty Enlarged Thirteen new faculty members have been added to the staff: Burton DeLoach, department of commerce; George C. Berreman, department of education; Hazel Kirk, department of health and physical education for women; Delmar R. Dewey, director of training schools; William F. Gaskins, department of music, director of orchestra, chorus and men's glee club; Mrs. Jean Gibson, department of rural education; Charles King, critic in Junior high; Ida Mae Smith, primary critic; Orlita Cooley, critic at Children's Farm Home; Lawrence Wolfe, coach and instructor in physical education for men; Mrs. Gail Babb, Junior high instructor; Joel V. Berreman, principal of Valseiz training school; Mrs. Antonia Crater, Junior high instructor and director of Valseiz student house.

Grid Men Working Heavy football practice has been in progress all week under supervision of coaches Lawrence Wolfe and Robert W. Earl. Five lettermen are back at school; Ayres and Priesen, ends; Smith and McCrae, tackles; Myers, quarter; Curtiss of Dallas, an ex-Aggie Rook fullback; and Chapman, former Pacific university man, have entered school and appeared for practice.

SEMINAR COURSE IS AMITY EXPERIMENT

AMITY, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Special)—A unique experiment in high school teaching is being worked out in Amity high school by two of the instructors, Mrs. Madeline Callin and James Cameron. A group of 32 advanced students has been organized into a seminar class to study Oregon history. The group meets as a class but once each week, but each student is required to spend at least five hours a week in reading and preparation.

A number of individual research problems have been undertaken. Indian burial grounds and other places of historical interest in the vicinity are being visited by the group. A small Oregon history museum has been started at the high school and many valuable objects of historical interest are being loaned for this collection. So far as is known, this course, directed by Mrs. Callin and Mr. Cameron, is the only high school course in the state conducted in this manner. As an educational experiment it is being watched with interest by other instructors and administrators.

Sanabria Machine Aids Television

WOODBURN HI WILL PLAY CANBY FRIDAY

WOODBURN, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Special)—The football season will open for Woodburn high Friday, September 28, when the local gridsters meet Canby union high. Forty candidates have been turning out here but Coach Wolf is not predicting any overwhelming victory over Canby, as none of the veteran backfield men from last year's team have yet enrolled in school.

Lettermen who have returned are expected in the near future are Neil Butterfield, captain; Lyle Caruthers, Lowell Gribble, Albert Lemke, Matthew Mochel, Charles Bertos and Willard Hunt.

The schedule is as follows: Sept. 28, Canby Union high at Woodburn. Oct. 12, West Linn at Woodburn. Oct. 19, Independence at Independence. Oct. 26, Molalla at Molalla. Nov. 2, (tentative) Amity at Amity. Nov. 9, Silverton at Woodburn. Nov. 16, Newberg at Newberg.

POLK COUNTY FAIR TO BE BEST EVER

DALLAS, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Special)—Polk county's annual fair will be held this year the second week in October. Plans are being made for a bigger and better fair than ever before. Nearly all space for exhibits have been taken and it is the plan of the fair board to utilize some of the space heretofore taken up with amusements for exhibition purposes.

The Falls City community fair which has been held yearly will not be held this year. The people from that community plan to devote all their energies towards making the Polk county fair a big success. A carnival company will furnish amusement for the young folks during the three days of the fair.

World Evangel Editor Speaks To Amity Folk

AMITY, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Special)—On Sunday the Rev. Harry Benton of Eugene supplied the pulpit at the Amity Christian church. Mr. Benton, who is editor of the World Evangel, spoke at the morning service upon the topic, "Evangelism in the Bible School." A feature of the morning service was the presence of about 20 members of the Christian Bible School of Willamette, Oregon. After the service the young people enjoyed a picnic lunch in the Christian church grove.

Enrollment At Amity High Now Above Year Ago

AMITY, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Special)—Amity high school opened for the second week of work on Monday with a total registration of 125 students. This is a larger enrollment than at the same period last year. A total of 150 students is expected as soon as the fall work is completed.

Fruitland Will Entertain S. S. Meeting Sunday

FRUITLAND, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Special)—Next Sunday, September 30, the Fruitland church will be the scene of the quarterly convention of the Hayesville Sunday school district. Charles Cady, president of the convention, has arranged an excellent program. Superintendent Fagg has made arrangements with the school board to have the use of the school house and grounds for the junior division. He has appointed Mrs. Gorgard and Mrs. Girod on the "eats" committee, with instructions to be sure that a good picnic dinner is prepared. It will be served on the school grounds.

Amity Hi Grad Goes East For Military Work

AMITY, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Special)—Ryder W. Finn of Amity has arrived at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, New York, where he will enter the New York military academy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Finn and a graduate of Amity high school in the class of 1923. As a high school student he gained state wide prominence as a basketball player. After one year of preparatory work he plans to enter West Point Military academy.

Pentlers Enjoy Annual Roundup

STAYTON, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Special)—Dr. and Mrs. W. N. Pentler were among those who attended the Pendleton roundup. Dr. Pentler is the local dentist. Dr. Beauchamp left Sunday for a couple of days fishing on the Siletz. The Dr. makes an annual event of these fishing trips. Mrs. Beauchamp accompanied him. Mrs. Young of Scio, who had been ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Stupka, was able to return home Saturday.

Allens Attend M. E. Conference

AMITY, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Horace Allen attended the annual Methodist conference held at Hood River. Mr. Allen is pastor of the local M. E. church. Because of his absence no service was held at the Methodist church on Sunday. Benton county farmers can stand more rain. They would like about another inch and a half. Hops have not been hurt.

WOODBURN, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Special)—An example of what can be done from a small beginning is illustrated with the herd of Jerseys owned by the Fick family who live on a valuable farm out a few miles from Woodburn. This family now consists of Mrs. A. Fick, a grown son and two grown daughters.

They own 150 acres of fertile land and carry on a general line of farming with dairying and poultry the major lines of endeavor. The foundation for their dairy herd was laid in 1912 when they purchased a pure bred cow from A. D. Gribble, Aurora and a heifer calf from Harry West.

Sales Bring Returns From that time on up to about four years ago they did not purchase any more females. During the 16 years they have been dairying with Jerseys they have sold 71 head of females for a total of $13,200 an average of close to $200 per head, and now they have 55 head of females in their herd. These could be conservatively valued at from $10,000 to $15,000.

About four years ago they purchased an old cow in order to get certain blood lines, and another female. They only have a total of three females from this purchase so it will be seen that their present herd is almost entirely the descendants of their original foundation. They have sold many thousand dollars worth of bulls but the figures on the returns from the sale of these are not at hand.

Cream Checks Mount During all of these years they have had a good income from the sale of cream. During the past few months this income has run around the $400 mark, never below $300 and many times during recent years it has run to $500 per month and more. The work has been done almost entirely by the family, Mrs. Fick stating that she would rather help with the work of caring for the stock than to care for a hired man and then perhaps have the work to do besides. The lines of work on the farm are not definitely divided as anyone will do any part but one of the daughters has had the most to do with caring for the poultry.

New Teachers To "Ride Goat"

WOODBURN, Ore., Sept. 24.—The annual initiation of new teachers to the Independent Teachers' association of Woodburn will take place Tuesday evening at the high school. Each year the association has prepared a "goat" for the new members to "ride" and this time the committee has promised an especially good entertainment for the old members. After the initiatory work, original stunts and numbers will be given by the new members.

Keep Chickens Too They keep a flock of approximately 1200 white Leghorns and it goes without comment that they bring in a nice income, or they would not be kept. In commenting on the hay for the cattle the son John expressed himself as being very much interested in the growing of alfalfa. He has a few acres of Grimm alfalfa and plans on sowing a larger acreage this next year.

STUDENTS RESUME WORK AT COLLEGE

WOODBURN, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Spl.)—Several Woodburn students left Sunday to resume their work at the University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural College, and also some who are entering upon their first college year. Miss Elizabeth McCord and Miss Margaret Poorman, who are sophomores at the university, left last Wednesday in order to get settled in the new Delta Gamma house before rush week which begins today. Miss Naomi Moshberger, a junior, returned today to take residence at Susan Campbell hall.

Miss Lotus Glesy, of Aurora, and Miss Adelaide Benjamin are entering the university as freshmen this fall. Miss Helen Allen, a member of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority at U. of O. has also returned to school. Elmer Klamm left Sunday afternoon to resume his work at O. A. C.

Fire Destroys Barn At Feller Home, Woodburn

WOODBURN, Ore., Sept. 24.—Fire completely destroyed the barn belonging to Francis Feller in the residential district of Woodburn late Sunday evening. The home of Carl Gustafson, not 30 feet from the blazing barn, was kept soaked with running water to prevent the fire from spreading in that direction. Feller's home, situated back of the blaze was not damaged, but a tool shed adjoining the barn was not saved.

The fire probably started from sparks dropped from Mr. Feller's pipe while he was working in the barn. Mr. Feller, who is 80 years of age, did not know of the fire until Mr. Gustafson saw the blaze and came into the barn to warn him. They succeeded in getting the horse and cow out before the situation became serious. A full store of hay aided the blaze and the fire was beyond control before the fire department arrived.

Higher Learning Calls Student

GERVAIS, Ore., Sept. 24.—(Special)—A number of young folk from this vicinity left Sunday to attend schools elsewhere. Ben Moisan will go to Oregon Institute of Technology in Portland this winter. Howard Seeley and Ceef Manning are beginning their first year at O. A. C. Edwin Harpel and Sam and Kenneth Brown will return to O. A. C.
