

MARKET HERE HAS VARIETY

Wide Choice In Fruits and Vegetables Offered to Salem Residents

Salem grocery store windows present a particularly wide variety of fruits and vegetables these days, with the hankover of summer commodities and the new fall vegetables and fruits. Everything seems to be in top form, even to the peaches now on the market which should seemingly have disappeared at least a week ago.

Speaking of peaches, of course most of them offered now are riper than those purchased earlier in the season. But at that they are still good eating and eating. The last of the peaches was scheduled for last week, but still they come from Washington so still the jobbers and retailers pass them along to housewives. They are selling at the stores around 70 cents a box.

Pears Popular
Pears are a popular fruit these days. There are several varieties available and in the fruit is large and luscious. A large basket for eating purposes costs 25 cents.

Judging from the appearance of the store grapefruit, there is no end to the variety and quantity of these seasonal offerings. Grapes appear to be of good quality, too, and the size of some of them is enough to satisfy any gourmand. The Tokays, about a medium priced variety of California imports, retail at two pounds for 25 cents and thereabouts. The local Concord are, of course, the cheapest grape and though small in comparison to the polished southern ones, are good.

Apples Available
Apples in a number of varieties have been available for some time. Kings may be bought as low as $1 per box. The Spitzenberg continues to command the top price for apples, with a wholesale quotation of $1.65. Wholesale quote $1.50 on the choice Kings.

Pomegranates continue to bring $1.50 per box from the jobbers. Local Italian prunes are selling at three cents wholesale. The supply is by no means up to that of last year.

Huckleberries, shipped in from Washington, are billed at 12 cents a pound. There are a large size for this berry and are round. California grapefruit is getting better and larger than the first offered several weeks ago. It brings $6 a crate, wholesale. Figs and dates are among the fruits available now. The new crop of the latter is quoted at $1.50.

Cranberries are still bringing a high price, at $5.75 a crate. These are good.

Local melons, including the honey dews, ice cream and the muskmelons are still quite plentiful. Occasionally these are overripe but in the main they are yet a delicious morsel. The ice cream and honeydews are two cents a pound each at the jobbers.

Quinces are offered in quantities sufficient to meet the demand. They are six cents at present.

Kidnaper Indicted By Chicago Jury

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—(AP)—A new indictment charging Angelo Pettiti with kidnaping for ransom, a capital crime, was returned by a Cook county grand jury in criminal court Wednesday. Pettiti was accused of kidnaping Billy Raineri who was seized near his home September 5 and held prisoner 13 days before a $50,000 ransom demand collapsed.

National Guardsmen Seek Storm Victims

These soldiers, wading chest deep in a canal in the Lake Okpechobee region near Clewiston, found 17 bodies of hurricane victims.

Helping the Homemaker

Menu
Ham Loaf, Baked Potatoes
Sliced Tomatoes, Italian Dressing
Peach Delight, Sugar Jumbles
Coffee

Ham Loaf, Serving Four
One cup chopped cooked ham, one cup soft bread crumbs, two tablespoons finely chopped celery, two tablespoons finely chopped green peppers, one tablespoon fine-sliced onion, 1/4 teaspoon salt, one egg, 2-3 cup milk, and two tablespoons butter, melted.

Mix all the ingredients thoroughly. Pour into a well greased loaf cake pan or baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Unmold and serve hot or cold, cut in 1/2 inch slices.

Italian Dressing, Serving Four
(This may be made previously and stored in the ice box)
One teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 4 tablespoons vinegar, 1/2 cup salad oil, 1/4 cup catsup, one tablespoon finely chopped onions, one tablespoon finely chopped green peppers.

Mix all the ingredients and beat with a fork until thick. Chill. When ready to serve beat for one minute and pour over the prepared salads. This dressing blends with fresh vegetables, tomato or head lettuce salads.

Peach Delight, Serving Four
(Canned peaches may be used)
Two cups diced peeled peaches, one cup diced bananas, 1/4 cup juice, 1/4 cup coconut, 1/4 cup cold water.

Mix all the ingredients. Place in a china or glass dish. Cover and chill for two hours or longer in the ice box.

Sugar Jumbles, Three Dozen
(These retain their flavor and freshness for a week if stored in the cookie jar)
One cup fat, 2 cups sugar, 1-3 cup sour milk, one teaspoon vanilla, one teaspoon lemon extract.

1/4 teaspoon salt, two teaspoons nutmeg, three eggs, four cups flour, one teaspoon soda.

Cream the fat and sugar. Add the milk, extracts, salt, nutmeg and eggs and beat for three minutes. Add the rest of the ingredients and mix just enough to blend the ingredients. Never beat cookie doughs or they will toughen. Break off small pieces of the dough and flatten down, three inches apart, on greased baking sheets. Bake in a moderate oven for 12 minutes.

When serving grapefruit at a party, place green mint candies in the centers of the grapefruit after cut. These give flavor and color.

PUMPKINS ON MARKET HERE

Fall Vegetables and Fruits
Also Offered Now at Good Prices

It may be early for pumpkin pies, but there is a quantity of small and medium size pumpkins on the markets, so of course there are pies somewhere, somehow. Pumpkins sell for around three cents a pound.

The squash family is well represented, too, with the smaller Danish and summer selling at low prices, and the larger Hubbards at around three cents a pound, as do the Marbleds. These are all good quality.

Cucumbers have finally come down from the top prices and are quoted at 30 cents a dozen, which means the housewife may pay a little better than that.

Cauliflowers Appear
Local cauliflower is coming in to the market now, and while small heads are the present rule, the quality is good. Three cents is the market quotation, with some grocers managing to buy under that.

Bunch vegetables are plentiful as always and are fairly free from worm bites and similar things.

Prices continue the same. Celery looks extra good this week, with possibly the rains being responsible for the fresh, crisp appearance. Lake Labish growers are supplying the celery, the wholesale figure being 90 cents a dozen.

It is noticeable that in some store eggplant seems to go begging for customers. Eventually it shrivels up, but generally this is nice and fresh. Price, 5 cents, at jobbers. Yellow corn is still offered, with the six dozen sack quoted at $1.25. Artichokes, good grade, are $1.40 a dozen to the retailers.

Local cabbage is bringing about the same figure as the cauliflower, with the red variety used mostly in salads and similar dishes, also available.

Green Peppers Plentiful
There are plenty of local green peppers in good sizes and crisp, at five cents and better a pound. The red pepper is also available, this being shipped in from Washington. The red variety costs about three times as much as the green pepper.

The onion market has taken another raise, with $3 per hundred prevailing on all. This is the wholesale figure.

Tomatoes continue in quite plentiful quantities, with the local growers supplying the market. These will hang on till frost, however the low price of the last week or more is due to come to an end shortly, according to the jobbers.

Washington is still supplying the lettuce market. There is little kick coming from the quality.

AD CLUB HEARS TRAFFIC CHIEF

School Zone Problem Topic of Talks by Raffety
and George Hug

Safety first for school children was discussed yesterday at the regular meeting of the Salem Ad Club. T. A. Raffety, state traffic chief, and George Hug, superintendent of schools, were the speakers. Mr. Raffety told of the work of his department. He stated that he was in sympathy with the school officials in their problems and that he had had 14 years experience on school boards.

Continuing, Mr. Raffety told of checks that had been made throughout the state by the department. He said in 1926 they had found that there were 33 public schools on the state highway between the north and south boundary lines of the state, and that there were 23 railroad crossings and 14 river bridges.

Safety Problems
Speaking of the safety problems of the schools Mr. Raffety stated that two years ago he counted 111 cars parked around the Salem high school and nine parked with drivers at the wheel waiting for students, making a total of 122 cars at the school. By making a check he found that 25 per cent of these cars belonged to students living within 10 blocks of the school. He told of a check he made in the city schools of Roseburg where it was found that 34.6 per cent of the boy students between the ages of 14 and 16 years knew how to drive cars and had driven and that 54.3 per cent of the girls between the same age could and had driven cars.

He said that during the peak traffic season, which is June, July and August, this year's percentage of accidents and injuries was less while the percentage of fatalities had increased.

Roadside Signs Hit
Mr. Raffety stated in conclusion "The highways of Oregon offer more beautiful scenery than in any other state. We must consider the things that detract from this scenery and cause accidents. Should a group of advertising men take up the work of the removing of roadside advertising it would have more effect than any other method. These are things to think about."

Mr. Hug spoke briefly stating that he was aware of all of these problems. He said that they found the most trouble with the older students; that he was willing to do anything possible to help better the condition and suggested that if the Ad Club wanted to take any action that they ask the assistance of the various school principals affected.
