

Club Women to Give Benefits For Fund

A benefit card party will be sponsored Tuesday evening in the McCormack hall by the D. E. club. This benefit is the first of a series that the club will sponsor this winter and during the early spring.

Several months ago the club voted to raise $500 toward the education of an Oregon boy for the priesthood. Ninety-five dollars have been deposited in a savings account by the club group, the money secured from donations received for this purpose. Card parties, cooked food sales and other means will be employed by the club to raise the remainder of the scholarship fund.

The D. E. club members have been divided into four groups, each group having a particular month in which to hold benefits for the fund. Group one will have charge of the card party October 2 and will also hold a cooked food sale in the Southern Pacific ticket office on North Liberty street, Saturday, October 13. The committee for group one includes Mrs. S. J. Gentskow, Mrs. B. E. Dimeiler, Mrs. T. D. McClain, Mrs. H. Brians, Mrs. William McLaughlin, Mrs. P. F. Killian, Mrs. Olive Bairey and Mrs. A. Bairey.

The second club group will conduct their benefit program throughout November, included in which will be a cooked sale in the South Pacific ticket office Saturday, December 1. This group includes Mrs. Albert O'Brien, Mrs. M. J. Petzel, Mrs. F. M. Alley, Mrs. J. Suing, Mrs. H. Hartman, Mrs. H. Lynch, Mrs. B. Zielinski, Mrs. E. A. Thompson and Miss Ruth Brentano.

The period from December 26 to January 19 has been assigned to the third group to present their benefit program. This group will sponsor a cooked food sale the third Saturday in January. Mrs. T. A. Windshar, Mrs. N. Rocque, Mrs. M. Lane, Mrs. E. Eckerlein, Mrs. V. Nadstaneck, Mrs. W. Quackenbush, Mrs. J. Perry and Mrs. C. Roach are members of the third group.

The fourth group of club members will sponsor their benefits during the period from January 19 to February 12. Their cooked food sale will be held the third Saturday in February. The following women are included in this group: Mrs. A. A. Mickel, Mrs. A. Engel, Mrs. A. H. Schneider, Mrs. J. E. Smith, Mrs. F. O'Brien, Mrs. A. E. LaBranch, Mrs. J. G. Nadoo, Mrs. C. Ringwald and Miss Anna O'Brien.

In addition to the regular benefit programs, each one of the four groups assigned to securing funds for the proposed scholarship will also have charge of one social evening during the club year. At the end of the club year the group having the highest percentage of members attending their social evenings will be guests of honor at a dinner given by the other three groups.

Besides the benefit program, each member will individually solicit subscriptions to the Catholic Sentinel, their commission to be applied to the seminary fund.

The D. E. club holds their business session on the first Tuesday and their social evenings on the third Tuesday of each month, in the McCormack hall. Mrs. Albert O'Brien is the present grand regent of the club. On Tuesday evening, October 16, the annual election of officers will be held. The third group of the club, with Mrs. N. Rocque, will be hostesses for the social hour.

Miss Herrington Is Honored at Party

In honor of the birthday of her daughter, Miss Lillie Herrington, Mrs. G. W. Herrington entertained Friday evening with a four o'clock dinner at their home in the Virginia apartments. Besides the honor guest and the hostess, those present included Mr. and Mrs. Ed Satter and children, Mrs. Lyda Gumm, James Ellis, Miss Effie Ellis, Mrs. Nina Adams, Dell Saunders and Miss Genevieve Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Gouley are as their guests for the week-end Dr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Anders and their daughter, Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Williamson and their daughter, Josephine, all of Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Gouley are entertaining with an informal dinner Sunday for the pleasure of their guests.

Enjoyable Event Arranged For Garden Club

In addition to the lecture to be given Monday evening in the chamber of commerce auditorium under the auspices of the Salem Garden club by R. W. Cooley, iris specialist of Silverton, colored slides of delphinium and iris from the collection of O. M. Pudor, Puyallup, Washington, will be shown. Mr. Pudor's slides are said to be most excellent, and the general public is invited to see them and to hear Mr. Cooley's talk.

Interesting programs have been arranged for the monthly meetings of the Garden club during the winter and spring seasons by Miss Mirpah G. Blair, chairman of the program committee and secretary of the local club. The meetings which are held the first Monday evening of each month, will be devoted to one special subject each time. In November, Mrs. F. A. Elliott will lecture on the trees of Salem and its vicinity, and the chrysanthemum exhibit will be held at that time.

Mrs. S. H. Van Trump will speak on birds at the December meeting. No speaker has been selected for the January meeting, but a large affair has been planned for February 4. At that time Frank L. Jones of Portland will hold his colored views on Oregon flowers and scenery, the meeting to be held in the Woman's club on North Cottage street and admission charged all who are not club members. The March meeting will be devoted to the subject of perennial and bulb plants. The topic of the April meeting, The Spring flower show will be held some time in May, and in June the topic of the monthly meeting will be on flower arrangement.

Mrs. W. W. Husebraugh is president of the club. E. N. Gillingham is vice president, Miss Blair is secretary, Chester M. Cox is treasurer and F. E. Zimmerman is auditor.

More than 175 members are listed in the interesting little club year books recently printed, with the following committee chairmen noted: visiting gardens, Miss Edith Hazard; flower show, Mrs. E. N. Hoffnell; press, Mrs. W. E. Anderson; program, Miss Mirpah G. Blair.

Turner Children Enjoy Lawn Party

TURNER—Last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Witsel entertained the Beginner's class of the Methodist Sunday school with a lawn party in the Turner public park. The afternoon was spent playing games, and later ice cream was served.

Those attending were Marion Eleanor and Arthur Parker, Lavorne Porter, Meredith Groves, Lorane Bonnett, Margie McKay, Henry Hotfield, Hazel Peterson, Mrs. George, and Mrs. Pearl Witsel, the class teacher.

At the Theaters

When girls leave home and disappear, what becomes of them? Thousands are reported missing every month, and their adventures are no doubt thrilling, tragic and dramatic. This theme has been pictured in "The Port of Missing Girls," starting Tuesday for a five day run at the Oregon theater.

In this picture the pitfalls and dangers of young girls are depicted in a dramatic manner. It is advertised as a frank portrayal of the perils of the youth of today. Barbara Bedford and Malcolm McGregor play the leading roles.

Douglas Fairbanks as The Gaucho which opens on Saturday at the Elsinore Theatre for a five day run is a story designed for the motion picture audience of the world, according to the statement of the star himself.

In appearing in his fourth role of a robber chief, Doug performs with his usual bravado and daring. He has chosen one of the most picturesque parts of the world for his scenes, and a colorful character in the gaucho rider of the Andean border.

The picture has been directed by F. Richard Jones. The story comes from Fairbanks himself, who got the idea of the shrine when visiting Our Lady of Lourdes in France.

Is the experience of age or the alertness of youth the most valuable asset to an expanding business? This is the question which Henry Irving Dodge has attempted to answer in his humorous story, "Skinner's Big Idea," the FBO screen version of which is now at the Oregon theatre for a two day run.

Bryant Washburn, who created the "Skinner" role in "Skinner's Big Idea," has the leading part and is supported by a cast which includes Hugh Trevor, Martha Sleeper, James Bradbury, Sr., William Arlamond, Robert Dudley, Ole M. Ness, Charles Wellesley and Ethel Grey Terry Lynn Shores directed from a screen adaptation written by Matt Taylor.

"Skinner's Big Idea" is showing in conjunction with the Slinger Musical Comedy company in "Hot Stuff."

Stenographer Is New Swim Champ

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 29—(AP)—Miss Martha Hill, 18-year-old Memphis stenographer, at 2:25 tonight had been swimming continuously for 60 hours and 25 minutes, passing by 25 minutes the unofficial world's record for women set September 15, by Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston.

Former University Students Are Married

Of unusual interest to Willamette university circles is the marriage of Miss Barbara E. Gallaher, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. M. R. Gallaher, to James T. Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Bennett, which was solemnized at high noon Thursday in the home of the bride's parents on South Fourteenth street.

The father of the bride, the Rev. Gallaher, read the impressive double ring service in the presence of immediate relatives and a few close friends of the bridal couple. Arthur Schwarz sang "At Dawning" immediately preceding the beautiful ceremony, and Joseph Silver played a violin solo.

The bride, who was unattended, was attractive in a dainty wedding gown of modish orchid crepe. She wore a corsage bouquet of cream roses.

Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held, with the bridal couple leaving almost immediately by motor for their honeymoon in the north. For her going-away suit, Mrs. Bennett wore a smart navy blue ensemble with small blue hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will return to Salem to make their home, and will receive friends at their new home at 121 West Bush street after October 15.

Mrs. Bennett graduated from Willamette university in June, 1928, where she was exceedingly active in student activities. Mr. Bennett has also attended the local university.

The Misses Cammack Entertain Recently

The Misses Helen and Laura Cammack entertained a group of their Bible school friends Friday evening at their country home in Rosedale. Prospective students as well as former students and alumni were present. The evening was spent in games and music, light refreshments were served after which Rev. Pogg of Rickreall conducted a closing devotional service.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. Mott, president of the North Pacific Evangelistic Institute, Mrs. Runyan, Miss Violet Morse, Sarah Zook, and Lansing Runyan of Portland.

Other guests included Ira Dumas, Latonia Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Thomas, Amanda Mitzner, Sophia E. Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Pogg and family, John Trachsel, Aletha Allen, Willoughby Alice Klean, Nellie Klean, Allice Horch, Evelyn Horach, Newton Allen, Everett Allen, Ralph Klean, Harvey De Vries, Rev. Hady, Forrest Cammack and the hostess, Helen and Laura Cammack.

Professor Drill of Oregon State college is in possession of several glass balls found on the coast and presumably washed from Japan.

Mrs. White Opens Dancing School

Mrs. R. L. White announces that her school of the dance will resume classes Monday, after the summer's vacation. Mrs. White has just returned from a month in Seattle, and from several weeks in Portland, where she attended the meeting of the Oregon Association of Dancing Masters held in the Christensen hall. Besides her usual ballet, interpretative, toe and tap dances she will offer a number of ballroom dances, including the new ecstasy waltz, pa-re-aw, Ramona waltz, waltz fox trot, and the new drag.

Assisting Mrs. White will be Miss Marguerite McDonald, formerly of Vancouver, British Columbia. Miss McDonald, who is staying with her aunt, Mrs. George C. Elford, has studied vocal, piano and pipe-organ at the London Royal academy, the Toronto conservatory, and the Cornish school of Seattle. Miss McDonald, who has a soprano voice of rare sweetness and beauty, has sung ever the radio, and will give several radio programs from Portland this winter.

Eastern Oregonians Visiting Millers

Mr. and Mrs. E. Harvey Miller and their two small children, all of Hoppper, are guests at the home of Mr. Miller's father, E. C. Miller, on South Nineteenth street. Mr. Miller lived for several years in Salem after his graduation from the school of mines at Oregon State college, before moving to eastern Oregon. He is a brother to Miss Clara Miller and Mrs. Gail Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brotherton left Sunday morning for a motor trip to Marshfield, from where they will follow the Roosevelt highway to California points. The Brothertons will make the trip in a fortnight.

Musical School to Open Here

A new innovation promised for the instruction of Salem children and the pleasure of their mothers is the musical kindergarten which will be conducted in the Barbara Barnes dance studio at 155 South Liberty street, Monday, Wednesday and Friday forenoons of each week.

The same method that is used in the Ellison-White musical kindergarten at Portland will be followed. The small students will be taught singing, ear-training, rhythm, first steps in learning both treble and bass staves. The children will also be taught the beginning of hand technique by means of finger plays and table work, followed by a few simple key-board exercises, thus preparing the children of pre-school age for further musical study. Cut-out work, crayon drawing, clay modeling, pasting, bead work, peg boards, and such table work will be used to sustain interest. Musical and rhythmic games, relaxation exercises, simple folk dances and muscle coordination will also be included in the program. A short period each morning will be devoted to stories and dramatization.

Miss Barbara Barnes, director of the Barbara Barnes school of ballet dancing, who has had experience in working with kindergarten children in the Gary public schools, Gary, Indiana, will have complete charge of all rhythmic work and dance steps. Miss Barnes is a graduate in a university course of physical education as well as an experienced dancing teacher.

Mrs. Frank Lilburn, formerly of Roseburg, will be in charge of the musical education. She is a graduate of the University of Oregon, and in addition to having had practical experience in musical kindergartens, she held two normal certificates in music.

Deschutes Is Hit By Severe Storm

BEND, Ore., Sept. 29—(AP)—An electric storm, accompanied by but little rain, swept over the dry Deschutes forests and central Oregon late this afternoon. Forest service lookouts said many "hits" in the north end of the Deschutes forest had been noted.

Large Advance In Fair Exhibit

To those who have watched the interest in photographic art grow from year to year it is a sheer revelation to visit the photographic section in the art department of the Oregon State Fair, and compare it with exhibits of a few years ago.

First to be considered, the space devoted to this most progressive of all the arts is half of the art room proper, and is well lighted by artificial lights with shades throwing a soft glow on the picture lined burlap walls. One sense a feeling of rest and contentment upon entering the very doors of this department from the bustling balcony of the new pavilion. After circling around the hall and noting the remarkable representation of mounted photographs by Oregon artists one sinks into a rocker with a carpet under their feet and a floor lamp a little to one side, and muses upon a favorite study of a roguish baby, or perhaps it is a mother's portrait with something in those tender eyes that holds us.

Finally a voice beside us asks, "Is there anything you would like to ask about the pictures?" I am a photographer and am on duty to help the public enjoy the exhibit." Of course there were points I wanted to ask about. Could any one view that large a collection and not want to ask who made certain pictures or how a commercial picture of a fiery factory furnace was taken?

As I reluctantly turned my footsteps toward the door, a feminine voice asked me if I wouldn't enjoy a cup of tea as a guest of a certain photographic association, and held out a cup of steaming amber fluid. As I tarried over my cup and wafers, I compared all of this with my first visit to the photographic display at the Oregon State Fair some few years ago, when it consisted of three pictures and these were huddled in between paintings and cases of china in a little back room on the ground floor of the Pavilion. Quite a remarkable growth has been made in this great expressive art, and so much is being done to enable the public to understand and appreciate good photography. I then understood why I had spent my entire afternoon at the State Fair in one department.
