KIWANIANS ENJOY DOUBLE SURPRISE wanians. His talk was heartly applauded. A distinguished guest introdu-

Salem Kiwanians had an unex- mook. pected treat at their luncheon Tuesday. To be exact they had two pleasant surprises for early in the course of the luncheon Mrs. Carrie Adams, of Portland, sister of Charles Wilson, secretary of the 6:00-9:00-KXL (220). Courtesy an Salem Chamber of Commerce, was introduced and led the Kiwanians and their guests in a number of songs. Mrs. Adams is a musician and chorus director of note and the manner in which those present eloquent evidence of her ability.

The other surprise was the substitution of Rev. N. K. Tully, familiarly known to the glub membership as "Parson," for the chief speaker of the day who was un- 9:45-12:00—KXL. Home economic able to be present. Dr. Tully prefaced his remarks by the statement that he merely was "pinch-hitting" for another and that he did not want to make a speech any more than those present wanted to hear him make one.

He added that he knew there were present a number of ministers, lawyers and others who would be glad to speak if given the chance and that he intended to use up the time allotted to him. in order to avert such a catastro-

The speaker declared that he found himself in a quandry this year, from a pilitical point of view because he is unwilling to attempt to ride the republican elephant for fear of slipping off its oil soaked back, and equally unwilling to attempt to straddle the democratice donkey while its breath rooks.
