

Cards Enjoyed at Pennington Home

MEMBERS of the Friday bridge club and their husbands were entertained with a delightful evening of bridge Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pennington.

The hostess committee for the affair included Mrs. Leon W. Gleason, Mrs. O. A. Olson, Mrs. E. A. Kurtz and Mrs. Pennington.

The livingrooms, where the six tables of cards were in play, were attractive with bright fall flowers. Clever Halloween novelties were used for score-cards and favors.

In the group were Mr. and Mrs. A. O. St. John, Mr. and Mrs. U. Scott Page, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Deane, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Delano, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kurtz, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer V. Peterson, Dr. and Mrs. O. A. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. David Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pennington and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gleason.

MacDowell Club to Start Series October 29

IN direct contrast to the MacDowell club series of last year, when the club sponsored talented and youthful local artists, the program series arranged for this season by Mrs. Arthur Bahh, club president, will be given by all professional musicians of statewide reputation.

The series opens Monday evening, October 29, with an organ concert in the studio of Professor and Mrs. T. S. Roberts, with Carrie B. Adams as the artist. Mrs. Adams, who has a slight of Charles E. Wilson, secretary of the Salem chamber of commerce, is nationally noted as an organist and composer of sacred music.

The November program will be given by Ida Matthews of Portland; cellist with the Florentine trio. The December program will be the annual Christmas concert by the MacDowell club chorus of 35 voices, and will be presented in the Bligh-Capitol theatre December 4.

Paul Petri, head of the music department at O. S. C., will give the February program, and the March program will be presented by Mrs. C. Fowler and Mrs. O. Ralf Miller. Portland pianists who are members of the Cadman club, Miss Frances Virginia Melton, head of the piano and theory department at Willamette university, has full charge of the March program.

Audition Winner Is Well-Known In Salem

MISS ELEANOR MOORE, young Salem soprano who won the local Atwater Kent radio audition contest recently, is well-known in Salem where she has lived for the last two years. Miss Moore, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Moore, was born in Turner 18 years ago.

Church Group to Sew for Charity

Members of the south circle of the First Christian church are requested to meet Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. D. J. Howe, 745 North Cottage street, for an all-day work meeting with a covered-dish luncheon at noon.

Etoka Club Meets Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. A. J. Vick will entertain the members of the Etoke club Tuesday afternoon, October 15, in her home at 1495 North Liberty street.

MRS. H. R. WHITE, recently elected president of the Capitol unit, American Legion Auxiliary who will be installed in her new office Monday evening.

MRS. PITTOCK LEADBETTER, prominent local matron, who, with Mr. Leadbetter, left this week for Portland where they will make their home.

MRS. OTTO K. PAULUS, talented Salem girl, who has been chosen as production manager of the Salem Drama League for the coming year.

Legion Auxiliary Holds Installations For New Officers Monday Night

MRS. H. R. WHITE will be installed as president of the American Legion auxiliary at an impressive ceremony Monday night in McCornack hall.

Other recently elected officers to be vested with their duties are: Mrs. Richard Meyers, first vice president; Mrs. Byron Lieualen, second vice president; Mrs. Bert Victor, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. H. V. Gragg, chaplain; Mrs. W. T. Watkins, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. King Bartlett, Mrs. W. E. Vinson, Mrs. Walter Zosel, executive committee.

Members of the Dallas legion auxiliary will be special guests for the evening. Hostesses for the affair are the out-going officers of the local unit: Mrs. King Bartlett, retiring president; Mrs. Earl Burch, retiring vice president; Mrs. H. R. White, retiring second vice president; Mrs. Frank Jirak, retiring chaplain; Mrs. R. E. De Guire, retiring secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Byron Lieualen, retiring sergeant-at-arms.

An excellent program has been arranged for the social hour. The legion auxiliary glee club, in uniform, will sing. There will be numbers by the glee club quartet, and vocal solos by Miss Lena Belle Tartar, director of the glee club.

Junior Guild to Give Tea Next Wednesday

NEW members, old members and friends of St. Paul's Episcopal church will be guests at a tea sponsored by the Junior Guild of St. Paul's church Wednesday afternoon, October 24, at the home of the guild president, Mrs. Homer H. Smith, on North Summer street.

Church Group to Sew for Charity

Members of the south circle of the First Christian church are requested to meet Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. D. J. Howe, 745 North Cottage street, for an all-day work meeting with a covered-dish luncheon at noon.

Etoka Club Meets Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. A. J. Vick will entertain the members of the Etoke club Tuesday afternoon, October 15, in her home at 1495 North Liberty street.

Wedding At High Noon Thursday Impressive

DISTINGUISHED by the beauty of the rooms in which the ceremony was held, the wedding of Miss Elinor Whitford, daughter of S. A. Whitford, of Vernon, high noon Thursday in the woman's club rooms of the First Presbyterian church, was quite the loveliest of the early fall.

The fireplace in the clubrooms was transformed into an altar with fern, gladioli and pastel-colored roses.

Taylor's Are Hosts At Birthday Dinner

COMPLIMENTING Mrs. J. F. Billoer and Mrs. K. H. Pickeners on their birthday anniversaries, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Taylor were hosts at dinner in their home, 265 South Nineteenth street, Friday evening.

We ask to be judged by the homes we've furnished

THAT we have assisted in furnishing many of the city's finest residences is a matter of pride with us—and a proof to you of the desirability of the furniture we carry.

We are showing a special grouping of the new Simmons Beds—sponsored by many of America's foremost women.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a period gown of white satin and tulle, made with tight bodice, long close-fitting sleeves, and full tulle skirt with a panel of bridally lace.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Trotter, Miss Eda Trotter, Miss Marjorie Trotter, Miss Ruth Fisher, Mrs. Francis Laggett, Mrs. Winfred Thayer, Miss Harriet Avery, Miss Catherine Avery and Francis Patsy, all of Portland; and Mrs. Fred Fall of Seattle.

War Mothers Meet Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. J. G. Reigelman will entertain the Salem War Mothers in her home, 940 Mill street, Tuesday afternoon.

Faculty Women to Meet This Week

The Faculty Woman's club of Willamette University will meet Thursday afternoon, October 18, with Mrs. F. M. Erickson in her home on Salem Heights.

Saturday Program For Women's Club Provided By Fine Arts Section

THE program at the Salem Woman's club regular meeting Saturday afternoon was given under the auspices of the Fine Arts department of the club.

Mrs. Merrill Ohling, representing the literature division of the fine arts department, opened the program with the reading of three of her original poems, "When Youth Passed By," "Myself Shall Go On Silver Wings," and "If I Could be as April Is."

Mrs. Alice H. Dodd gave the program number from the art division of the fine arts department section, when she spoke on the architecture of Salem, expressing her appreciation of the debt which the present owes to the past for the splendid structures that have been built in Salem.

The program numbers offered from the music division were arranged by Mrs. Martin Ferrey. Mrs. Ferrey gave a lovely Irish folk song, with O. P. Thayer of her accompanist; and then she accompanied Mr. Thayer while he gave two saxophone solos, "Evening Star" from Tannhauser and Tosca's "Good-bye."

Bridge Club Entertained by Mrs. Catlin

MEMBERS of the O. S. C. Friday club and a small group of additional guests were entertained in her home Friday afternoon by Mrs. Russell Catlin.

Mrs. Laidlaw received the surprise. Club members gave the equivalent of a prize in money to the Associated Charities.

Hanna Rosa Court Host to State Officers

GRAND court officers of the Order of the Amaranth of the State of Oregon, were guests of Hanna Rosa court at the Masonic temple Wednesday evening when the grand court made the official inspection of the Salem court.

Other out-of-town visitors members of the grand court were present for the inspection, including Minnie Klusman of Eugene, associate grand master, Esther Smith, Louise E. Plummer, Guy H. Smith, Nannie Ferguson, Charlotte Clark, Ella A. Hansen, Etta Cave, and Briggs L. Clark.

Grand officers were received with ritualistic ceremonies, and during the initiation, the degree of the order was conferred on Dr. Mary Rowland.

Preceding the session, dinner was served by the Amaranth club in the Masonic dining room. Covers were placed for 80 at the long dining tables, centered with bright fall flowers and autumn leaves.

Ad-Elia

Advertising is a fascinating vocation for a woman.

Every day, in calling on the merchant customers whose accounts the Statesman handles, we have spare minutes of waiting until the managers of various firms can stop to talk business with us and we brouse, woman-like, among the counters and the clothes-racks. It is an excellent opportunity to become acquainted with the bargains and good buys up and down the town.

Fun? yes, and furthermore—

Another royal chance comes in the fact that, in order to talk advertising with the women's shops, one must read such magazines as the Vogue, Retail Dress, Vanity Fair, etc.

We happened to remark this bit of luck to the advertising manager of the Statesman.

And he suggested that we should embody the gist of these advertising peep-sights in one of those "Shopping with Susie" columns.

Now, what would you call a column of this kind?

We feel that Susie and Jane are worn threadbare, and we aren't "shopping" anyway—we're just grating, so we prefixed our occupation to a name nobody ever thought of exploiting and get the title of this column.

Nothing but real fashion hints, and genuine bargains will go into this column. We would like to know what you think of our shopping judgment, and nothing would please us more than for you to investigate the bargains we quote and then write or telephone us your reaction.

As to fashions, we find that the uneven jaggedly hemline for evening is not new—and is not even good this season. Regular irregularity and almost exact symmetry in line is more a la mode.

The classic sports materials, tweeds, homespun, and their Celtic relations, remain in vogue and let us get a second year's use from last year's sport suit.

Printed velvet, in tiny designs, is tres excellent for afternoon and, if one is making one's own frock, it is well to treat this material much as one would crepe de chine.

Free facials are being given every day next week at Miller's by the Colonial Dames Beauty demonstrator who will be at the store from 9 to 5. Facials may be had only by advance appointments. The telephone is 2337. The Colonial Dames costume will be on display this week.

Women are continuing to usurp the styles of men—the latest invasion is in the form of day coats and evening wraps of NECKTIE material. When WE first noticed that item, we nearly scoffed, but when one studies the neckties of men, one finds that these some lovely and adaptive designs.

The sheepish, ambiguous Mandel furs of the three previous seasons are absolutely passee (this year. Fur must look genuine, even on the less expensive coats. We find one of the best assortments of lower priced coats at Kay's the coat and dress shop between High and Liberty on State. They're $16.75 coats of broadcloth have minkoney and plainoney collars and cuffs. Every model also, by the way, has a novelty modelled back and silk lining of brocade. (We paid a small deposit and had one of the $24 coats laid aside for us for street wear.)

Spunking of coats and cold weather, when we were talking business with the Salem Variety store on North Commercial this morning, we glanced at blankets and found some fine part woolen ones at $1.75.

A one hundred and twenty-eigh piece of Watson Sterling Silver in a mahogany setting is being offered by the Watson Sterling company as a prize for the best letter on silver-ware submitted by any woman. The particulars of the contest are in the September Vogue.

The newest material favored by Paton, Louisboullanger, and introduced by Wannmaker is Rayon Velvet, and another version of rayon, called French Rayon. As yet we have not discovered any of it in local stores, but the minute it appears, we will make note of it. This material has wearied qualities with all the lustre and beauty of the most fragile silks.

The $1 hose that we saw at the Howard Corset Shop were of as fine texture as a $1.95 pair we were wearing.

C. S. Hamilton FURNITURE CO.

340 Court St.

Convenient Monthly Terms if Desired

No Interest on Deferred Payments