"Fill Every Seat" is Slogan for Statesman Cooking School

Record Attendance Sought For Opening Day Contest Prize Put on Exhibition

Miss Williams, Home Economics Expert in Charge of Statesman's Four-Day Domestic Science School, Has Diversified Program Ready for Monday

"Fill every seat for the opening day!" This is the slogan adopted by those who are sponsoring the great Statesman cooking school, to be held at the beautiful Elsinore theatre next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

If every seat in the fine Elsinore auditorium is filled it remains that the big school will have a first-day attendance of approximately 1500 persons and will thus set a record that the biggest previous school ever held in Oregon has not equalled, it is said.

Complete programs for the lectures and demonstrations in connection with the school, in which the Salem Woman's club is cooperating, were received Thursday from Miss Dorothy Williams, domestic science authority in charge.

They prove that all Miss Williams has promised in the way of variety and detail will be assured to housewives of Salem and vicinity who attend the big school to be held in the beautiful Elsinore theatre Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Neatly printed copies of these daily programs will be available to all women who attend the four-day school.

Range Displayed
The $187.50 Hotpoint automatic electric range (not $266 as erroneously stated Thursday) will be put on display in the corner of the Miller store today where it may be seen by all housewives. This splendid heat control and automatic time range, donated by the Portland Electric Power Co. of Salem, will be the grand prize in the cake making division of the baking contest, which is in charge of the Salem Woman's club.

On Thursday a large number of additional prizes were provided for the woman's club committee, which has ranged thus far more than 50 awards to contestants in this interesting baking event.

Expert Coming
Miss Dorothy Williams, one of the west's best known food authorities and domestic science experts, will arrive here Sunday or very early Monday morning to take charge of the school for the Statesman. Miss Williams has been busy at her home arranging the many details of her work here, for she is anticipating the greatest attendance since an event in Salem has ever drawn.

She has expressed special interest in the supplementary programs that have been arranged for the four days of the school. These details will be announced in the Statesman on Saturday and Sunday.

WALNUTS OFFERED ON MARKETS SOON
The new crop California walnuts will be ready for the market here before another week. Although shipments are on the way north Thursday, the Salem jobbers had none and offered no price.

The walnut crop in California is comparatively small this year, while that in the northwest is said

NAME COMMITTEES FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Committees appointed to take full charge of the participation of the Salem Woman's club in the Statesman's great cooking school on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, have been announced by Mrs. A. L. Wallace, president of the club. The appointments indicated below followed announcement of committee chairman, made earlier in the week.

All committees, Mrs. Wallace reports, have organized and are ready to make the cooking school thoroughly enjoyable and profitable to all housewives. The committee on sale will have entire charge of the sale of cakes and pies submitted in the baking contest which will mark the close of the school. Complete committee roster follows:

Prizes: Mrs. W. G. Clarke, Mrs. George L. Forge, Mrs. J. H. Lauterman.

Hospitality: Mrs. William F. Fargo, Mrs. Seymour Jones, Mrs. F. G. Bowersox, Mrs. H. J. Wiedmer, Mrs. John Brophy, Mrs. Harley White, Mrs. A. L. Wallace.

Sale: Mrs. Walter Pennington, Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. Claud Steusloff.

All proceeds from the sale of contest baked goods, without any deductions for any purpose, will be delivered intact to the building fund of the Woman's club.

HIGH PRICES SEEN
VICTORIA, British Columbia—(AP)—A long period of high meat prices in the United States and Canada is forecast by the department of agriculture in a survey advising ranchers in western Canada that they may safely prepare for an unprecedented expansion of the cattle raising industry.

MANY AWARDS BAKING CONTEST

Rules of Competition Made by Woman's Club Workers; All Welcome

Both cakes and pies will be featured in baking contests in connection with the Statesman's great cooking school at the beautiful Elsinore theatre next week.

Fifty or more valuable prizes will be offered for winners in both the cake and pie making divisions, with the wonderful automatic Hotpoint electric range given to the school by the Portland Electric Power Co., as the grand prize in the cake contest.

These facts were made clear to numerous inquiries Thursday and incidentally the fact was revealed that housewives throughout Salem and vicinity are keenly interested in the contest plans. Three expert judges have been selected for the baking contest and will be on hand early to complete the inspection of all entries as soon as possible.

Rules Announced
Cakes and pies will be delivered by contestants at the store room formerly occupied by the Cross market at 70 State street, adjoining the Spa confectionery, between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Thursday, October 25. There the entries will be properly displayed and made ready for judging.

It is pointed out that, because of the number of entries expected, and the considerable amount of work in connection with the contest, it will not be possible to guarantee the return of pie and cake plates. Contestants should provide paper plates to which they can transfer their entries when they are delivered to the display room.

The rules of the baking contest are extremely simple, declares Mrs. A. L. Wallace, presiding of the Salem Woman's club, which is in charge of the event. All proceeds, incidentally, will be turned over to the building fund of the Woman's club.

VEGETABLES IN SALEM CHEAP

Cabbages in Sacks, First Parsnips and Some Rutabagas Seen

Cabbage in sack lots for kraut, the arrival of the first parsnips and a few rutabagas offered here, and there are about the only excitement in the vegetable market this week.

Rutabagas sell in the stores at four pounds for 15 cents and are not listed as yet by the wholesalers.

A sack of kraut cabbage costs 95 cents. Cabbage by the pound is 2 and 2 1/2 cents, depending upon where it is purchased. The wholesale quotation on the local is 2 1/2 cents.

Hot house tomatoes are coming on now to take the place of the fresh ones which are disappearing. Fresh tomatoes still available are quoted at 60 cents here. The hot-house varieties are also local.

Onions Are Plentiful
Onions, large and clean looking, retail at 6 pounds for 25 cents. Quotation on the No. 1's is 3 1/2 cents and on the No. 2's a cent less. There are some picking at 7 1/2 cents, wholesale.

Yakima Gem potatoes go to the homes at 95 cents, with the local Burbanks offered at about the same figure in several stores. Potato quotations: Yakima Gems, No. 1, $1.75; No. 2, $1.25; local Burbanks, $1.25.

FACTS IN BRIEF

Miss Dorothy Williams, noted home economist, will be the lecturer and demonstrator at the great cooking school sponsored by the New Oregon Statesman and the Salem Woman's club.

Sessions will be held each afternoon at 2 o'clock, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, October 22 to 25.

The cooking school will be held at the beautiful Elsinore theatre, where there are plenty of comfortable seats.

Fine musical programs will form a brief part of each day's program.

A wonderful list of prizes will be given away in the baking contest, an added feature for the last day of the school.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the Statesman school.

Remember: Everything is absolutely free in connection with the Statesman school. No admission or door fees. No registration or contest fees of any kind.

Just come. You are very welcome.

Hog Buyer Tells Of Price Fixing

Complaints from farmers that they can't get the highest price quoted on hogs was explained Thursday by a local buyer in effect that buyers were attempting to keep the farmer from unloading his hogs now to keep the pork market up. Now is the usual time of year for a drop in pork prices from the high figures of April to September.

Carrots, beets and turnips are steady and plentiful. Some of the turnips offered look pretty large to make good dishes, but they may be their looks. Three bunches of turnips or carrots may be bought for 10 cents.

Onions, large and clean looking, retail at 6 pounds for 25 cents. Quotation on the No. 1's is 3 1/2 cents and on the No. 2's a cent less. There are some picking at 7 1/2 cents, wholesale.

Yakima Gem potatoes go to the homes at 95 cents, with the local Burbanks offered at about the same figure in several stores. Potato quotations: Yakima Gems, No. 1, $1.75; No. 2, $1.25; local Burbanks, $1.25.

Hot house tomatoes are coming on now to take the place of the fresh ones which are disappearing. Fresh tomatoes still available are quoted at 60 cents here. The hot-house varieties are also local.

Peppers survive frosts. Peppers are plentiful despite the frosts of last week and are good quality at three pounds for 25 cents. As a rule, the reds cost a little more. These are both local.

There was not so much spinach displayed in the stores this week.

PANTS FOR TURKS

BASRAH, Iraq—(AP)—The latest order by the Shah of Persia in his efforts to modernize his country is that all Persian men must wear a coat and trousers instead of flowing robes. This follows the abolition of turbans by official decree, an act which recently gave German manufacturers orders for 2,000,000 cheap caps.
