

Statesman's Great Cooking School Opens Monday at 2 p.m.

VALUED PRIZE LIST OFFERED

Merchants and Manufacturers Join in Providing Many Fine Door Gifts

An imposing list of prizes, starting with the grand prize electric range, is attracting much attention to the Statesman's great cooking school and to the baking contest in which housewives of Salem and vicinity will participate as a feature of the school.

Door and attendance prizes will be awarded at each session of the school and four of the most important prizes offered, as well as a number of incidental prizes, will be given to cooks who submit winning cakes and pies in the big baking contest.

The grand prize is a full automatic Hotpoint electric range of the 1929 model, provided by the Salem office of the Portland Electric Power Co. This beautiful range, with automatic heat control, is equipped with all the up-to-date incidentals for electric cooking, including an attached percolator. The range has an actual retail value of $187.50.

DeLuxe Range Prize
It is officially known as the RA 100 De Luxe White range and is one of Hotpoint's newest and best models. It has three surface units, occupies a floor space of 23 1/4 by 37 1/2 inches and is 47 1/4 inches high. It is equipped with the latest combination baking and broiling oven.

This beautiful grand prize has been on display this week in the corner window of the Miller store, where it has drawn much attention from interested housewives as the center of an attractive display arranged by the store.

The Hotpoint range will be given free of cost for the best cake entered in the Statesman's baking contest Thursday afternoon.

The first prize for the pie making contest is a new model Eureka vacuum cleaner, given to the school by the Eugene office of the Eureka company. This fine appliance has a retail value of $69.50 and is provided with all attachments demanded by the housewives for convenience in cleaning all parts of the household.

Club Gets Awards
Another beautiful prize will be awarded as committees of the Salem Woman's club decide before the contest starts, is a nine-cup electric urn set with sugar and creamer, complete. This beautiful prize is a gift to the school of the Portland office of the Graybar Electric Co., through the Portland Electric Power Co. of Salem.

Scores of other valuable prizes have been arranged for by the Woman's club, joint sponsors with the Statesman of the cooking school. These prizes include a charming 23-piece waffle set, donated to the school by Miller's store. This complete waffle service, which can be used for numerous other purposes, however, is proving one of the outstanding attractions in the long list of prizes.

MISS MARION DAHL

Know Her?

You ought to know this lovely New York City girl because her blonde beauty has been displayed on so many magazine covers. She is Marion Dahl, 35 Clarkson St., Brooklyn. Artists say she's a "type!" They fairly rave over her delicate flesh tints and the golden glory of her hair!

Miss Dahl says: "Everyone I know tells me how wonderful my hair looks. I don't feel like it's a personal compliment, however; I take it more as a compliment to the method I'm using to care for it. It's the rage among girls here in New York. All you do is put a little Danderine on your brush each time you use it. My hair was wavy and hard to keep in place but Danderine makes it soft and easy to dress and holds it like I arrange it, for hours. My scalp fairly tingles with vigor after I use it, and it keeps my head so clean I don't need to shampoo half so often. It brings out the color of my hair marvelously, making it fairly glisten!"

Every application of Danderine cleans and refreshes your scalp. It removes the oily film from each strand and makes dull, straggly hair gleamy, soft and easily manageable. Dissolves dandruff and keeps it out of your hair. It isn't sticky or oily. It doesn't show. All drug stores have the generous 35c bottles.—Adv.

Cooking School "Teacher"

Miss Dorothy Williams, widely known domestic science expert, who has completed all plans for the Statesman's great free cooking school to be opened at the Elsinore theatre Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Miss Williams arrived in Salem Saturday afternoon to complete preparations for the big school.

Miss Williams Delighted With Salem and Scope of Program for Great School

MISS DOROTHY WILLIAMS, popular domestic science authority, who will have charge of the Statesman's great cooking school at the Elsinore theatre this week, arrived in Salem Saturday afternoon to have ample time in which to prepare for the opening of the school Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

"I must say, first of all, that I am delighted with Salem, and I am very much pleased with the arrangement made by the Statesman to hold the school in the beautiful Elsinore theatre. Of course, I have visited the Elsinore before and have been impressed by its beauty and comfort, but it will be an added treat to conduct our school there.

"We've been hearing a lot about the plans you are making for the 'greatest school Salem has attempted' and I'm sure we'll be rewarded by a large attendance every day. I have just completed making up the menu for Monday and before Monday morning I will have the names for the remaining three days ready for the printer.

Praises Cooperation
"I believe we have planned a very comprehensive and interesting program for every day of the school and we are ready to introduce to Salem housewives a lot of the most delicious and often simple food preparations you could imagine.

"Your Salem business people surely are cooperating splendidly in the plans for the big school and I'm quite certain the women of Salem and this beautiful surrounding country will take the afternoon off on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and attend the school in large numbers.

"For my part, I can assure these women folk that we'll have a wonderful interesting and complete school and I quite agree with the Statesman in its announcement that the school will be 'bigger and better' for all the plans seem to prove that prospect."

Miss Williams recently completed conducting a school under the auspices of the Morning Oregonian in the public auditorium at Portland and has been resting for a few days preparatory to the big school in Salem.

B. C. MILES INJURED
B. C. Miles, Salem business man who is now managing a sawmill which he owns at Carlton, was injured Friday forenoon at the mill when he fell over a log. He was brought to his home in Salem by his son, Ross Miles. Because of the injury, he was unable to fill a speaking engagement at a Rotary club luncheon at McMinnville.

Congregational Plans Are Told

Every member of the family is invited to the church-night supper, discussion and social hour at the First Congregational church, corner Liberty and Center, Wednesday night, beginning at 6:15 o'clock. Subject of the address will be "Our Use of the Bible." Mrs. M. C. McCallister and her high school girls will serve the supper. Those attending are requested to bring their own service to facilitate the supper hour.

Announcement is also being made of the rummage sale which the Woman's Union of the church will sponsor Saturday, October 27, the place to be selected later. Members of the union having articles for the sale are requested to call Mrs. McCallister or Mrs. C. E. Ward, and the articles will be collected.

MERCHANTS TO AID IN SCHOOL

Every Phase of Home-Making to be Features at Big Four-Day Event

EVERY phase of home-making will be presented, either in exhibition or demonstration, in connection with the Statesman's great cooking school at the Elsinore theatre this week. A large number of Salem merchants and Pacific coast manufacturers are cooperating to make the school the biggest and best event of its kind ever held in the Willamette valley. They are giving and lending their wares to Miss Dorothy Williams, home economics expert in charge, and in several cases are making special displays.

The electric range equipment used by Miss Williams will be installed by the Salem office of the Portland Electric Power Co., and will include the newest models in electrical cooking appliances.

Many Products Used
The H. L. Stiff Furniture Co. is providing from its large stock two new General Electric refrigerators, which will form an essential part of the kitchen equipment employed by Miss Williams and her aides. The same company will furnish the beautiful walnut dining room set to be used at the school.

Mary Boone kitchen cabinets from the stock of Chambers & Chambers, furniture dealers, will be used throughout the school period and will have a prominent place on the Elsinore stage.

Miss Williams will use exclusively Fisher's flour, provided by the Fisher Flouring Mills Co., of Seattle. A. Schillings & Co., of San Francisco have provided the school with coffee, tea, spices and the many extracts essential to the modern kitchen. Chocolate used in the school will be provided by the Ghirardelli Co., of San Francisco. Crisco shortening will be used in all Miss Williams' demonstrations. Flowers provided by Marion brand butter from the Marion creamery will be used by Miss Williams and Hillman's Butter Nut bread, a product of the Cherry City Baking Co., will be used throughout the school period.

Elsinore canned fruits and vegetables, widely popular products, packed expressly for the Williamette Grocery Co., of Salem and sold in virtually all service stores, will be used at the school. Important contributors to the success of the big school are the Miller store, which will provide white smocks as well as with table linens. Burnett's jewelry, will provide silver service and the Sherman & Clay Co., will arrange musical programs to preface the school session each day, utilizing a new model of Panatrop. Oscar D. Olson, florist, will decorate the stage dinner table when Miss Williams arranges a model dining room. Groceries used at the school will be purchased from the Roth Grocery Co., and will be personally selected at the store each day by Miss Williams.

PRAYER MEET THURSDAY
The Ford Memorial community church, West Salem, of which M. A. Groves is pastor, will meet for prayer service at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night.

Elsinore Theater

Under the auspices of the "NEW OREGON STATESMAN" Miss Williams will conduct a four day intensive study of home economics, beginning tomorrow at the Elsinore theater. Miss Williams will prove that there is something new under the sun in home cookery. She is shown in the accompanying photo standing beside the grand prize which is the latest model Hotpoint Automatic electric range. This prize is displayed in Miller's key window together with the prize a 23-piece waffle set which will be given by Millers.

Miss Williams will wear a "BILLINGS" smock the like of which may be found in Salem only at Millers. These smocks lend themselves to the art of cookery because they are tailored to fit, are smart looking and are positively fast color. Besides white one has choice of rose, reseda green, blue, orchid and black. Billings smocks sell at $2.50.

Miss Williams' choice of table cover was selected from the new arrivals in Rayon Damask. Old linen patterns in new rayon weaves. Here is something new in table apparel... the cost is very slight... $4.75.
