SEEK TO PROTECT OREGON SHIPPERS

Protection of shippers at intermediate points in Oregon will be gought by members of the public service commission, who will participate in a hearing to be held at San Francisco November 30 with relation to the application of the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads for authority to establish port to port rates in competition with water transportation.

The Oregon public service commission is interested in that part of the railroads' petition which requests higher rates for short hauls affecting shippers at intermediate points.

It has been the previous policy of the interstate commerce commission to allow port rates to fix a maximum for rates to intermediate points. Both class and commodity rates are involved in the investigation.

The hearing will be conducted by the interstate commerce com-

The public service commission will hold a hearing at Albany November 7, with relation to the alleged hazardous condition of the Oregon Electric and Southern Pacific crossings north of that city. This is the first hearing set in vestigation of grade crossings.

The commission has granted the application of Swift and company for permission to construc an industry spur track at grade across a county road near Coquille, Coos county. The commission also granted that in mind if you the application of the Jackson build it. It needs the county court for permission to construct a road at grade over the tracks of the Medford Logging railroad one mile north of Med.

The proposed investigation of the reasonableness of rates and charges of the Southern Pacific company for transportation of passengers between Eugene and Calor and Eugene and Powers, has been abandoned.

SPOKANE, Oct. 27.-(AP)-An airplane flew into the wildest liquor business," Senator Curtis, forest region of Idaho yesterday republican vice-presidential nomcarrying two officers and an avia- ince, told a meeting of women tor on a lunatic hunt.

Sheriff Herve Rothwell of Idaho county, a deputized forest ranger and Pilot Jack Rose of the Mame: Flying service took off from Grangerville, Idaho, to apprehend Davis McCoy, "wild man trapper' of the Chamberlin basin in Idaho Two forest rangers had reported his proposal for state liquor conthat McCoy had been robbing cabins, peering into windows, and threatening ranchers and trappers. The sheriff feared it was said, that the man might become violent and start shooting at his neighbors. Rose left Felts field here this morning, picked up the officers at Grangerville and headed for the Stonebraker ranch. From there the officers had to face a 12-mile horseback trip to the canyon where the "wild man" has been living. This territory was reported to be covered with snow. Little was known here of Mc-Coy, except that he came into the
