Total enrollment for the first six weeks of school this year is 8 pupils less than at the end of the same period a year ago, according to the report compiled Monday at the office of the city superinten-Enrollment this year is

No definite reason could be as. signed to the decrease, however it is pointed out that period for the reports does not cover the same time of actual teaching in each case, is in 1927, 30 days of school was held in the first six weeks, and this year but 22 days were held, due to the state fair and other interruptions. Economic conditions also may be responsible for the falling off.

Senior high school enrollment is 13 more than last year's figure and Leslie junior high shows a loss of 20. Parrish has three more pupils than a year ago. Figures for all the schools are as follows for the two years:

INFLUENZA MAKES APPEARANCE AGAIN

Influenza is making its appearpart of the country and seems to be spreading in this direction, but it is not probable Oregon will suffer an extensive epidemic this time, states the recent bulletin of the Oregon State Board of Health, to which attention is called by the child health center.

Influenza is more serious than the common cold and spreads with rapidity, and like a bad cold may develop into pneumonia. The following precautions against the disease are recommended by the health department.

Take plenty of rest and increase the hours of sleep. Regulate diet, eat more vegetables, salads, whole wheat bread;

drink more milk and water; eat Keep feet dry and wear warm Keep fingers out of mouth;

wash hands before eating.

Avoid getting chilled. Avoid crowded, ill-ventilated places. All persons affected with influ enza should stay at home and remain in isolation. Destroy by burning or boil all articles contaminated with discharges.

The Seattle Kiwanis club, last week carried an article descriptive of Salem's attractions which covered one of its four pages, and dealt principally with the flax and linen industry here, although mention was also made of the peppermint and prune industry and some of Salem's other attractions.

Queer Homicide
