NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(AP)—The stock market easily absorbed the week end liquidation today, which was augmented by further pre-election evening up of accounts. A few specialties and ells made moderate gains, while a wide assortment of losses extending from close.

In the oils, Sinclair was again heavily bought, gaining about a point, and closing fractionally higher. Pan-American Petroleum B jumped more than 2 points, and Richfield more than a point.

Woolworth climbed 6 points to a new high at 209½, and Buffalo and Susquehanna shot ahead 7 points to a new peak at 57. Warner Brothers issues made gains of about 5 points, and Industrial Rayon of 6 points. Number of gains of a point or so made Sinclair in the session were replaced by moderate gains of a point or so made Sinclair in the session were replaced by moderate recessions in the closing transactions, in which issues as General Motors, Chry-Puel and Iron, Federal Mining and points to a new high, while Colorado Dunhill International stepped up 2½ sler, Radio, and International Telephone. Smelting, General Refractories, International Match Preferred, and Timken Roller Bearing made gains of 2 to 3 points. Express shares were sharply irregular, American gaining 12 and Adams losing 11½ points.

A Semi-Bungalow of Surpassing Charm

great economy as any of them. About them, too, is always a distinctive appeal, while lending themselves to an interior arrangement that seldom fails to evoke enthusiasm if the architect has made the most of his opportunities. Porches of ample dimensions are inevitable in this type of home, too, a feature deemed indispensible by thousands, yet not held to be essential by probably quite as many others. The porch, though, is altogether a matter of taste where one puts comfort into the background.

Usually this type of home is square, or nearly so, upon its foundations. No other house is so economical to build as the one that is square, without breaks of line in the walls. And in the semi-bungalow there is saving in the walls which, front and rear, ample but unusually well arranged.

SEMI-BUNGALOWS offer one of the usually go only to the height of one story. most desirable types of all the smaller. Such homes, however, seldom have an attic, homes and can be built usually with as a feature desirable to some, objectionable to others. Storage room, however, can be provided but it usually means a closet stairway, small and difficult.

> The interior of this particular home to an unusual degree makes for living comfort. Entrance to the large living room is from the porch. Within, one is instantly impressed with the wealth of light that streams through the windows at all sides, and is pleased with the deep

the dining room is equally cheerful and the kitchen likewise pleases. On the upper floor, reached by way of a stairway at the rear of the living room, are four bedrooms and bath. Two of these are larger than you would expect to find and the other two are of good size. For a family of moderate size the home is not only

'and it's really economical to build with brick"

(i) F course we'd longed for a brick home-had been charmed by the beauty and permanence of brick construction,' declared a recent builder of a modern brick residence, but we never really realized that one could be within our means until we began investigating costs. Then we found that building with brick is an act of thrift as well as a source of pride."

Because walls of brick grow old gracefully, they do not require frequent paintings or repairs to keep them looking smart. Their beauty increases with the passing

Where solid brick construction is used, a worthwhile saving is effected in insurance and in cost of heating, while plaster does not crack nor doors and windows get out of plumb because of the shrinkage or swelling of timbers.

If you are planning to build a new home or buy one, it will pay you to consider the advantages of brick.
