

S.H.S. Eleven Preparing for Monday Game With Eugene

BITTER SCRAP HERE CERTAIN

Locals in Good Shape But Danger of Over Confidence Seen by Coach

Hard scrimmage practice is being indulged in several nights this week by Coach Louis Anderson's Salem high school football squad, in preparation for the game with Eugene high here Monday in connection with the Armistice day celebration.

All of the first string players are in good shape following the game with Newberg last Saturday. Bob Kelly's ankle was not injured as severely as it appeared at the time, and it is not bothering him at all now.

Fears Confidence
The danger of over confidence on the part of his squad is worrying Coach Anderson. This feeling is apparently based on comparative scores, Eugene having tied with Albany high which later lost to the local team 20 to 0, and also on the fact that five Eugene players were suspended from the squad for disregard of training rules. Anderson is of the belief that these five boys will be admitted back into the fold before next Monday and will appear against Salem high.

Rivalry Recalled
Comparative scores are poor sources for basing forecasts, Coach Anderson points out, especially for such games as the traditionally bitter contest between Salem and Eugene high schools. In games of this kind it isn't always the best team, but more often the one that fights the hardest, which wins, and unless the red and black eleven gets down to serious business before the week is over, it may run up against more than it can handle.

CLOSEST BOWLING MATCH IS SCORED

The most closely contested match in local bowling history was engaged in Tuesday night at the Winter Garden alleys between the Wood's Auto Co. quintet and the Capital City Bedding Cubs. The automotive outfit won the first set by three pins, and the bedding makers took the second set by the same margin and the third by ten points. In other words, there wasn't but one bowl's difference between them in the entire match.

The Barr Plumbers took two out of three sets from General Petroleum, and the Valley Motor won two out of three from Chevrolet.

Sports Done Brown

By NORMAN E. BROWN
The lean days are upon the University of Michigan, as far as football is concerned. This becomes more apparent as the present season swings into the last month.

From the halcyon days of the "point-a-minute" period the fortunes of the Wolverine team have finally slipped to the point where Michigan is now a three-points-a-quarter squad. And the sad part of it is that it is the other fellow who gets the three points.

Michigan's opponents scored a total of 49 points in the first four games of the year—an average of two touchdowns a game, or three points a period.

True enough, this is not a huge total. Against any other team the mark wouldn't seem nearly as black. But, from Michigan's standpoint, this showing is the worst the team has experienced in the quarter of a century and more that Fielding Yost has been boss of the gridiron there. And, to top this, is the weak efforts offensively speaking. Michigan scored but twice in those four games—once against Ohio Wesleyan and once against Ohio State. And the touchdown charged against the Ohio Big Ten member was the result of a fluke.

The fear has been expressed that the ever increasing number of sectional football games will eventually steal all the thunder—hold the lion's share of attention every fall. The traditional rivalry that has existed for years between teams of given localities will die out, the fearful ones cry. Perhaps.

But not while the old traditional rivals are staging such merry upsets as the recent Harvard-Dartmouth game, for instance.

Having Missed Chance to Win Four Fistic Crowns Jimmy McLarnin Now Goes After Junior Welters

By JACK SORDS

NOT being able to lick the champion and having difficulty making the weight, little Jimmy McLarnin has forsaken the lightweight limit and gone in to mix leather and prowess with the junior welter.

McLarnin's inability to get any where in a bout with Lightweight Champion Sammy Mandell is no reflection on Jimmy's fistic abilities. Mandell just proved to be a little too fast and too seasoned a warrior for McLarnin, who, however, whipped decisively every other good lightie that he met.

McLarnin is the hardluck lad where winning ring titles is concerned. He met and defeated Pancho Villa, the little brown flash who died some time ago, when Villa was flyweight champion. But Jimmy was a trifle overweight and, of course, couldn't win that crown.

He gave Bud Taylor a few stiff battles, but outgrew King Bud's bantam division just as he was running into form where he would have a chance to wallop the hot-stepping Hoosier.

McLarnin licked Kid Kaplan, who once held the featherweight crown, but the Kid had retired as champ before the McLarnin battle, so, for the third time, fate denied Jimmy a fistic crown.

Having missed by a hair's breadth chances to win four fight crowns, and all through no real fault of his own, Jimmy now is hunting in the junior welterweight woods for big game. And Germans.

GAME OUTLOOK NOT PROMISING

W. U. Squad Not in Proper Frame of Mind to Meet Idaho, Says Keene

Misgivings as to the showing which the Willamette university football team will be able to make against College of Idaho next Monday, were voiced Wednesday night by Coach "Spec" Keene of the local squad.

"The boys aren't in the proper frame of mind for a hard game such as the one against Idaho will be," Coach Keene said. Whether it is due to the number of times that Willamette team has had to prepare for tough games already this season, or to a slight feeling of self-satisfaction due to having defeated College of Puget Sound, the coach hasn't been able to figure out.

Development Slow
In addition to lacking the proper spirit in anticipation of the game, the squad seems to be lacking in its development, nothing valuable being accomplished in the daily workouts. Several night blackboard sessions are being held this week for the purpose of perfecting the players' familiarity with their offensive plays. They were required to write a regular classroom examination at Wednesday night's meeting.

The list of cripples received a notable addition at the Wednesday practice session when Bill Mumford, veteran end, suffered a twisted knee which may keep him out of the Idaho game.

Leave On Saturday
Twenty-two players will be taken on the trip to Boise, Coach Keene announced. The squad will leave Salem at 11:30 o'clock Saturday morning, stopping in Portland to attend the W. S. C. U. C. L. A. game that afternoon as guests of Jimmy Richardson. They will leave Portland about 6 o'clock Saturday night.

Idleman To Be Rod-Gun Club's Next President

Dr. I. L. Idleman was the only nominee for president of the Salem Rod and Gun club at Tuesday night's meeting. In fact only one nomination was entered for each of the offices, so that the election at the next meeting will be entirely a matter of form. D. H. Mosher was named for vice president, Carl Bahburg for treasurer, and Chris Kowitz, Sam Hughes and F. P. Redaway for directors. The secretary will be appointed by the president.

The members voted a change in the constitution providing for payment of $1 annual dues.

CHICAGO CUBS BUY HORNSBY

Stellar Second Baseman and Club Manager Sold by Boston Braves

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby, Boston Braves manager and second baseman, was purchased by the Chicago Cubs tonight. The deal was completed over the telephone by William L. Veeck, president of the Cubs, and Judge Emil Fuchs, Boston chief executive.

A large sum of money and five players figure in the deal which brought the former St. Louis Cardinal manager and Giant second baseman, to the Chicago club.

Although not stating the amount of money involved, President Veeck intimated that close to $200,000 was paid for the "Rajah" of baseball in addition to the five players.

The players going to Boston club include two regular, second basemen, Freddie Maguire, and Percy Jones, south paw pitcher; a rookie hurler and two members of the Reading, Pennsylvania club. The Reading players are Louis Loggett, catcher, and Harry Selbolt, right hand pitcher. Bruce Cunningham, young hurler purchased from Los Angeles at the close of the season, completes the quintet.

Biggest Intra-County Football Game Friday On Woodburn Gridiron

WOODBURN, Ore., Nov. 7.—If present indications materialize a record crowd will attend the Woodburn-Silverton game Friday afternoon on the local gridiron.

Forty-eight of the business men have promised to close their places of business in the afternoon in order to attend the game.

Coach Ray O. Wolf is drilling his men until dark every afternoon this week in anticipation of a hard game. He refuses to give any comment except that the team showing the most fight should come out at the winning end of the score at the final whistle.

Both Woodburn and Silverton have had successful seasons so far. Woodburn has not lost a game nor been scored on, while Silverton has lost one, and had 13 points scored against her.

Ball gossip that had Hornsby a member of the Cubs at the opening of the world series. It also marks another epoch in the turbulent diamond career of the former St. Louis Cardinal manager, and New York Giants' second baseman.

The silver jubilee program of the Catholic Daughters of America is to be given to the listeners of WVEAF and stations Thursday evening, November 8. Miss Mary Duffy, supreme regent, will speak in addition to a program of vocal and instrumental music.

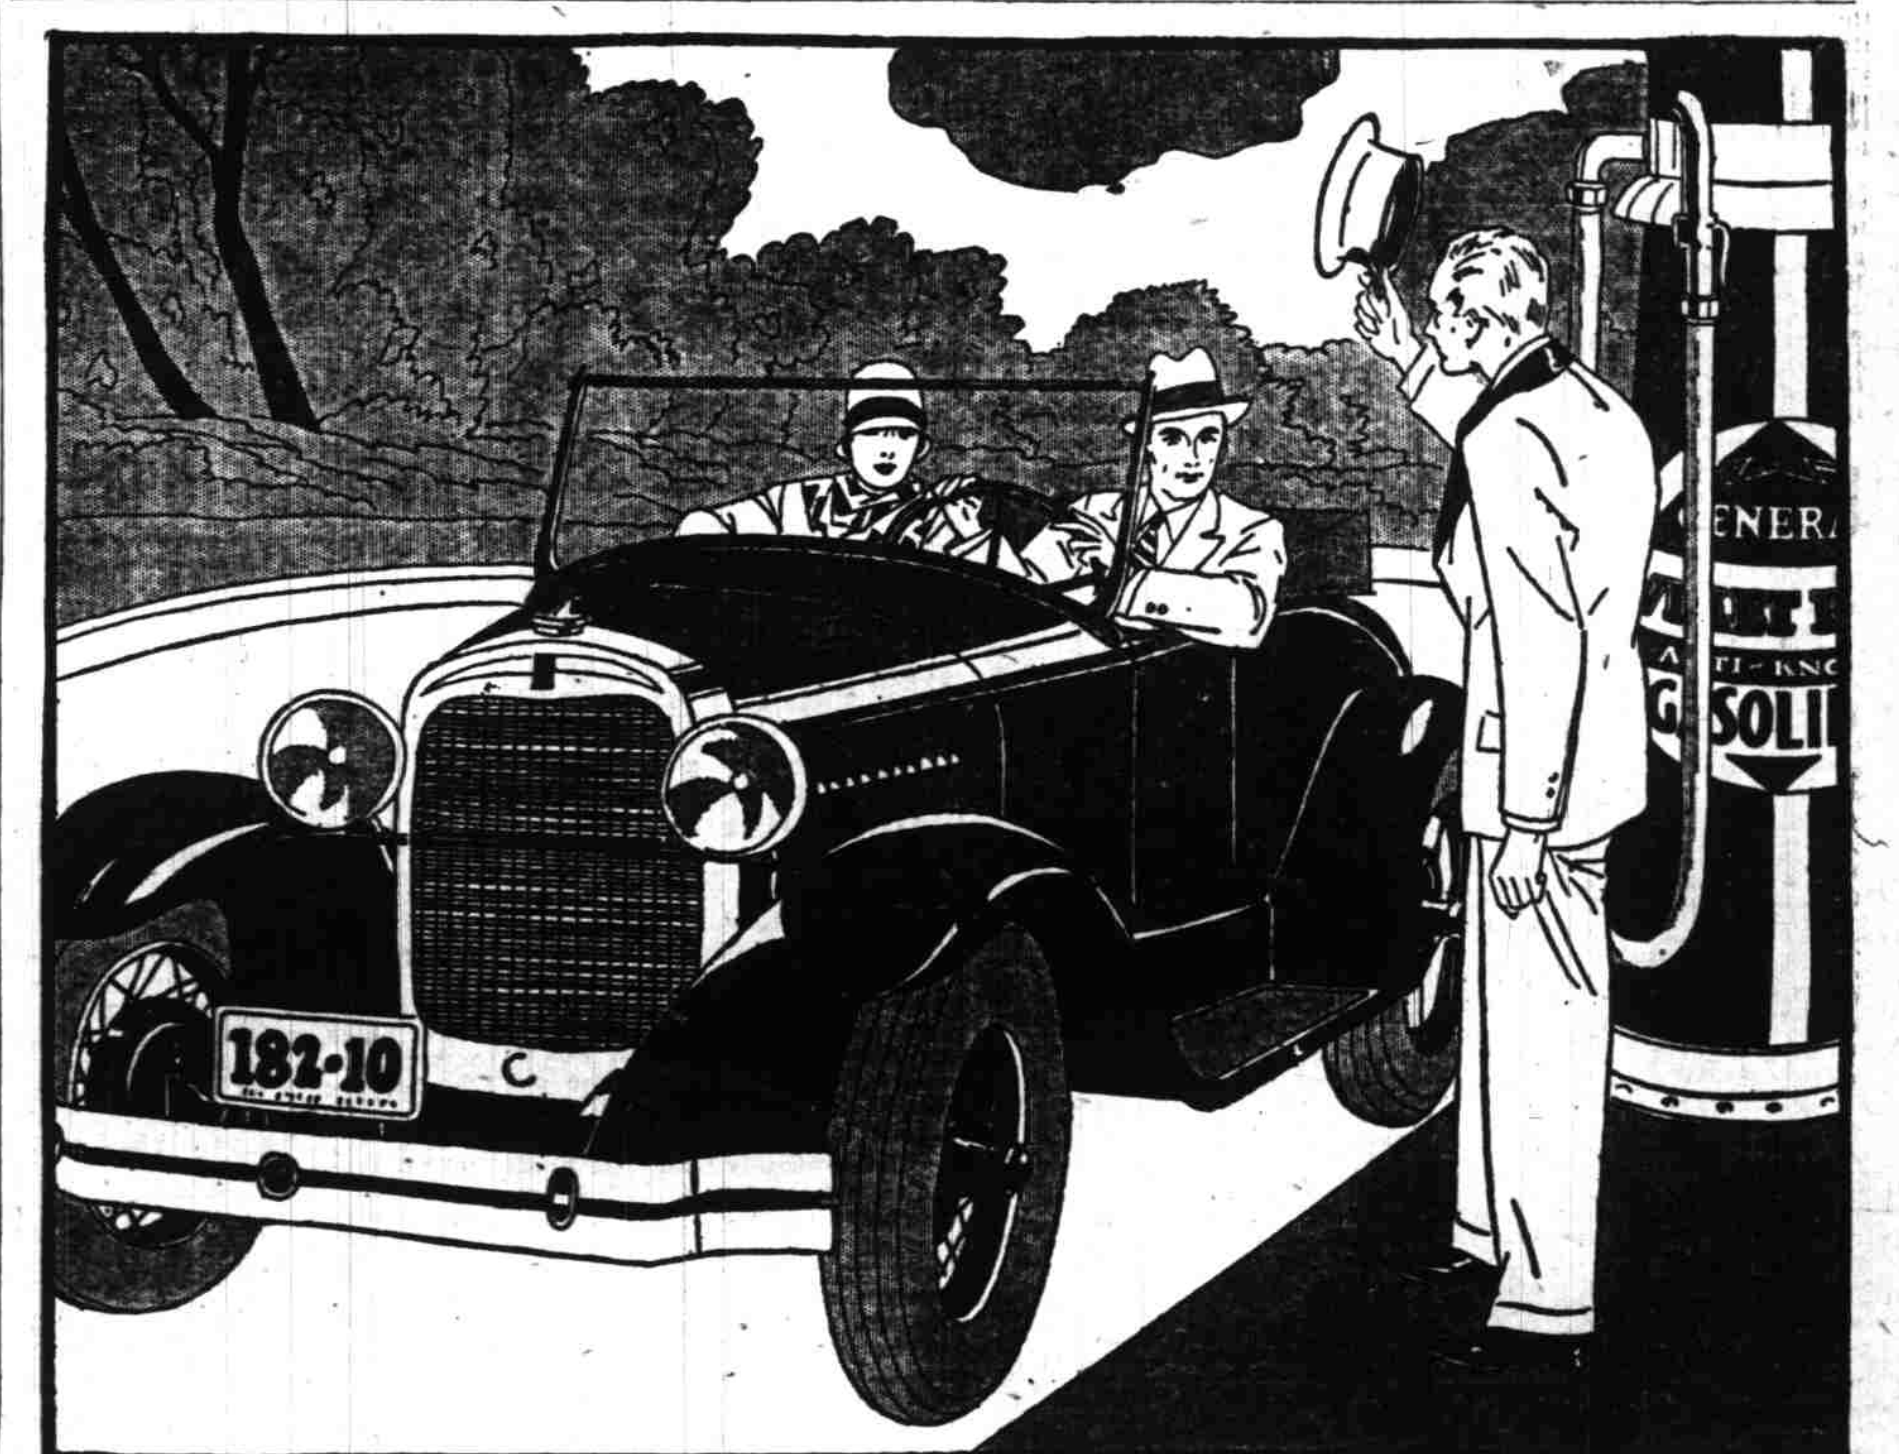

parative scores, which should have no effect whatever in this contest, give Woodburn a slight margin as Silverton was defeated by Wen. Linan 7 to 0, and Woodburn held the Clackamas county eleven to a scoreless tie. Independence scored six points to Silverton's 12, but failed to score while Woodburn was piling up a 19 point lead.

Woodburn should have the strongest lineup on the field, with both Hunt and Gribble, halves, back in football togs. Nehl and Mochel, quarter and full respectively, will complete the backfield making it one of the best ground-gaining combinations that Woodburn has had in years.

Butterfield and Willard Hunt or Gillanders will play the wing positions with Carothers and Bartoe as tackles. Black and Lemch will start at guard, while A. Schoeler occupies the center of the line. All should be in top shape by the time of the game and can be expected to show some brilliant playing.

Woodburn has plenty of reserve strength in L. Schooler, Gustafson and Williford, halves; Scott, full; Birksen and Dickson, guards; Christianson and Baldwin, tackles; and H. Geartin, end.

The student body of Woodburn high school has been holding pep assemblies and rallies all week. The rallying will come to a climax tonight with a pep parade and rally in town and at the high school.

The Million Dollar Motor Fuel worth a premium but costs you no more

GENERAL VIOLET RAY ANTI-KNOCK GASOLINE

A few years ago when the original General Gasoline was introduced on the Pacific Coast its outstanding success was a foregone conclusion.
