Pretty Affair at Eoff Home

A CHARMINGLY informal affair Thursday night was the dinner with which Mr. and Mrs. Asel Eoff entertained in their home on South Twelfth street. Delicate-shaded roses and rosebuds centered the table, with covers placed for Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Quisenberry, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Durbin, Jr., and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Asel Eoff.

The evening was spent with bridge. The dinner was one of a series of informal affairs with which Mr. and Mrs. Eoff are entertaining each week.

Bridge Party And Waffle Supper Gay Affair

A NUMBER of the younger set were entertained Friday night by Miss Virginia Berger in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Berger, on North High street, with a bridge party and waffle supper following the high school football rally.

Great baskets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums were used about the living rooms of the Berger home, where four tables of bridge were in play. Miss Esther Wood won the prize for high score honors, and the second prize went to Maxine Myers.

Miss Berger was assisted in serving at the informal supper by her mother, Mrs. F. H. Berger, and by Mrs. Armin E. Berger and Miss Dorothy Moore. Guests Friday night included Miss Dorothy Moore, Miss Margaret Brown, Miss Margaret Drager, Miss Maxine Myers, Miss Faye Driscoll, Miss Kathryn Lawler, Miss Esther Wood, Miss Virginia Stetson, Miss Frances Martin, Miss Carolyn Braden, Miss Eleanor Wright, Miss Phyllis Day, Miss Cynthia Delano, Miss Lois Wilkes and Miss Elaine Kinzer.

Yomarcos Class Has Dinner On Friday

Members of the Yomarcos class of the First Methodist church were entertained Friday night with an interesting dinner in the chapel of Kimball College. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Minier and daughter Jewel, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Mosher and son Harry, Dr. and Mrs. Floyd U. Tor, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Millard, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lindbeck and children, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Sisson and daughter Mary Elizabeth, Mrs. Roy Boesen, Mrs. Carl Abrams and children Robert and Elizabeth, Mrs. Elma Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Sautter, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Wilson and daughter Marjorie, Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Hollenberg and son Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Herrick and daughter Elizabeth Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Johnson, Professor and Mrs. M. Keefe, Mr. and Mrs. Covert and daughters Grace and Virginia, Mrs. Grant Day, Mrs. Prince W. Byrd, Mr. and Mrs. Foley and Mrs. Chesbire.

Following the dinner a brief business session was held. Arrangements were made for the entertainment of the women of the class November 23 at the home of Mrs. A. G. Wilson at Chemawa, and for the Christmas party which the class will sponsor in December.

A program, arranged by the men of the class, was given later in the evening.

The committee in charge of the dinner included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Minier, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Herrick, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pennington, Dr. and Mrs. Floyd U. Tor, and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Sisson.

Florentine Trio Cellist Is Here

Miss Ida M. Mathews, cellist in the Florentine trio of Portland, will open a studio in the Nelson building immediately, teaching all string instruments including cello, banjo, guitar, mandolin, and all Hawaiian instruments during her classes here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Miss Mathews intends to organize a banjo band, a mandolin-guitar orchestra, and a Hawaiian club with both beginners and advanced players in the personnel. She will also have a trio, called the Florentine Girls, available for all engagements. Miss Iva Claire Love will be the violinist, Miss Mathews will be the cellist and Miss Ruth Bedford and Miss Elva Amster will be the accompanists.

Miss Mathews will be remembered here through her appearances with the Salem McDowell club. Last year the Florentine trio were presented with the McDowell club chorus at their final concert of the season, and this year they will appear with the chorus in their December concert.

The Fri-Ni-Da club will hold its regular monthly dance next Friday night, November 16, in the Castilian hall. A number of new members will be added to the club recently will be entertained with their second club dance of the season.

Reading from the left: MRS. BREYMAN BOISE, prominent Salem matron, and her two young sons, EUGENE and EVAN. The two little fellows are scions of one of the most prominent pioneer families in the state. MRS. H. K. STOCKWELL, and her twin sister, MRS. A. A. DAUBNEY, of Seattle. Mrs. Daubney was Mrs. Stockwell's guest for the past three weeks, and social circles were considerably amazed over the marked resemblance between the two charming matrons.

Beechlers at Dinner on Thursday

MRS. IDA L. BABCOCK and her daughter, Mrs. Grace Babcock, entertained their home on North Commercial street Thursday evening, complimenting Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Beechler at a pleasantly informal dinner. Dr. and Mrs. Beechler are leaving within a few days to spend the winter in California.

Covers were placed at the attractive dining table, centered with bright fall flowers, for Dr. and Mrs. Beechler, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lauterman, Mr. and Mrs. Garlen Simpson, Mrs. Mary Haas, and the hostesses, Mrs. Ida L. Babcock and Miss Grace Babcock.

Salem Folk Visit Big Liner Thursday

Mrs. Grover C. Bellinger, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kugel, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Colony motored to Portland Thursday, where they were entertained on the Matson liner Malolo. The Malolo has been in the Portland harbor several days this past week, preparatory to sailing on a de luxe cruise for the Hawaiian Islands. A number of social prominent folk from Portland and Seattle are making the trip.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Kantner, and the Misses LaVerne Kantner, Constance Kantner and Carl D. Germark motored to Hubbard Thursday night to attend festivities at the Hubbard church where Dr. Kantner preaches each Sunday morning.

The three sorority houses, Mrs. P. Holt, Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, and Mrs. John Reid, Miss Leona Chetler and Miss Dorothy Taylor of the Alpha Phi Alpha sorority, Miss Mary Jo Wagner and Miss Florence Power of the Beta Chi sorority, and Miss Buneva Chertson and Pauline Findley of the Phi sorority assisted in the serving.

An informal program was enjoyed during the late afternoon hours. Numbers included vocal solos by Miss Helen Cochran of Albany, readings by Miss Elma Nell of Vancouver, vocal solos by Miss Josephine Albert of Salem, and piano solos by Miss Virginia Melton, head of piano and theory department at the university.

Salem Woman's Club Hostess at Institutions Institute on Saturday

CLUB women of the Willamette Valley became better acquainted with the problems and the management of the different institutions supported and protected by the state at the big Institutions Institute sponsored by the Institutions department of the Salem Woman's club in their clubhouse Saturday. Approximately 175 club women from Albany, Woodburn, Stayton, Portland, Eugene, Union Hill, and from different Salem clubs associated with the state federation of women's clubs were guests of the Salem Woman's club at the all-day program.

The scheduled program was not followed precisely, as the absence of Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, state institutions chairman, during the morning session, compelled the omission of the opening address. Mrs. A. L. Wallace, president of the Salem club, presided during the forenoon.

The opening address of the institute was made by Mrs. June Nissen of the girls' industrial school. Mrs. Nissen emphasized the fact that the work done by the state school was mainly home training in the endeavor to build up the moral fiber of the girls and give them some idea of home life. She laid most of adolescent delinquency to lack of home training, as did Superintendent L. M. Gilbert of the state training school for boys, whose address followed that of Mrs. Nissen's. Mr. Gilbert also told of the new methods of study and training which are being advocated by child psychologists.

Shows Style

Now that so many girls are allowing their hair to grow again, this style of "bob" is to be seen in increasing numbers, on Fifth Avenue daily! The lovely New York girl, illustrating the new style, is Myrtle Miller, of 325 West 89th Street.

She says: "I am certainly delighted that my hair has gotten so much fluffier and more vigorous. And I am not troubled with dandruff any more. At the time I started letting my hair grow, I began caring for it, the way which is all the rage among New York girls, now; and I attribute its improvement to this method. All I do is put a little Danderine on my brush each time I dress my hair. It makes my hair easy to arrange and holds it in place. It soothes my scalp and keeps it and my hair so clean, I don't need to shampoo more than twice a month, now. All my friends admire the way Danderine makes my hair look so bright and sparkling."

Danderine does more to bring out the natural color, the gleam and lustre of your hair than shampoo or brilliantine. It removes all dust, grime and oily film from the hair—tones and refreshes the scalp, gets rid of dandruff. All members of the big hair beauty stores have the big 8-oz. bottles. A delicately fragrant necessity for the well-groomed girl—adv.

Miss Naomi Phelps To Leave Soon For New York

MISS NAOMI PHELPS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fitch Phelps, is leaving the middle of November for New York City to resume her vocal studies with Professor Louis Sinnions Miss Phelps, who has an unusually lovely soprano voice, is planning to enter an operatic career under Prof. Sinnions' instructions. Prof. Sinnions is noted as the instructor of the late Enrico Caruso.

Miss Phelps studied for more than a year with Professor Sinnions, appearing in concert work while in New York. Her first instructor was Miss Lena Belle Tartar of this city. Later Miss Phelps studied for two and a half years at the Conservatory of Music at Washington, D. C. under the instruction of Professor Paul of the Peabody Institute of Baltimore. She has also studied at the Ellison-White Conservatory of Music at Portland with Erwin Mutch, noted baritone who is now in operatic work at Nice, France.

While in New York, Miss Phelps will stay with her uncle, Dr. Daniel A. Poling. Professor and Mrs. Fred Hatch of Mitchell, South Dakota, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Devers. Mrs. Hatch is a niece of Mr. Dever.

Millards Hosts At Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Millard entertained an evening recently with an interesting dinner party. Dainty plate and white chrysanthemums, combined with tall pink tapers in crystal holders, centered the dining table, where covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Sisson, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Herrick, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Day, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pennington, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Abrams, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Millard. Mrs. Millard was assisted in serving by her daughters, the Misses Lola and Evangeline Millard.

Annual Dean's Tea at Willamette University Social Event Saturday

THE largest and quite the most interesting of official social events in the Willamette university early winter calendar was the annual tea with which the dean of women at the university, Miss Olive M. Dahl, entertained Saturday afternoon in the parlors at Lausanne hall. The guest list included all women faculty members, wives of professors and instructors at the university, all feminine students registered at the university, and a number of towns-women interested in college activities. Mrs. E. C. Richards assisted Dean Dahl as hostess.

Dozens of baskets of golden bronze chrysanthemums were arranged attractively in the spacious parlors at Lausanne hall. Lighted golden tapers in crystal holders were used about the room, and the big fireplace was flanked by vivid autumn foliage combined with chrysanthemums.

Sitting in the back room at Mack's Wednesday, we learned for the first time that Mrs. Mack is a native of France, the daughter of a French jeweler, the granddaughter of Roast Colon, famous French designer three decades ago, the sister of a New York designer of platinum and white gold, and also sister of a prominent Portland jeweler. Twenty years ago she began her apprenticeship as a couturier in Seattle. In addition to her interest in the hat and dress shop, Mrs. Mack is the mother of six children.

Femininity! Everywhere it predominates. For a time it was chic to ignore the feminine accessory, but now Lord & Taylor import fans and the east accepts them with avidity.

Forgive if we seem to tire with the continued repetition of the word feminine. Femininity is so evident in every innovation that it cannot be over emphasized. Why? Do you know that muffs are included in the latest despatch from Paris by Marjorie Howard, correspondent for Harper's Bazaar. They are darling muffs, her hasty sketches show, and we are wondering how one is to hold a coat tightly about one and carry a muff.

Efficiency in opening a woman's purse is being cheered by street cars and bus conductors. The "slipper" of gals' origin is glorified by Faton who uses it as a piquein passport model bag, another form of the envelope design, and introduces it to the United States by Jay Thorpe, importer.

The new All-Enamel Great Majestic range is on display at the Geo. M. Allen Hdw. Co. all of the coming week. New features are solid plate cooking top, sanitary shelf, heat-tight insulation, easy-to-clean features.

Another prize for the best smock made of cretonne. Of course the materials must be purchased at Millers. Call at the cotton goods department Tuesday and get the complete details of this interesting contest. You may not only originate the prize winning article, but it is possible to create an article that would win nationwide popularity.

Something lovely and inexpensive in velvet and metallic hats at $3.95 & $4.95 is shown in the window at the Vanity Hat Shop, across from Miller's.

A near-panic is narrowly averted. At the beginning of the season mature women were reading with fear of the rising waist line and every photograph of the sub-debutants and prominent beauty carried this ominous threat. But, during the sub-deb and the darling beauty still retain this point of fashion. It has been proved that the experienced and more rounded group puts common sense before the pursuit of style and holds tenaciously to the lower division line. And, as one authority remarks, who ever heard of a sub-deb creating a new trend?

Curving frons with handles in pastel shades or mahogany, with detachable electric cords and removable clips are being kept on sale at the Fleener Electric shop for three more days. $1.14 and 87c. Values to $1.50.

The last outpost of the craze for printed fabrics is the printed velvet for evening wear. Otherwise, women are assuming the man's viewpoint and taking on the more standardized fabrics.

"I'm thoroughly disgusted with flesh colored hose," said a friend the other day. "They are so unindividual and every one wears them." But on that same day we noticed a commentary by a French modiste to the effect that flesh hose would be one of the outstanding characteristics of this period. Because they are the color of the face and hands, they are, currently speaking, no color at all and hence blend into every color combination.

One of our accounts is that of the Nelson Jewellery in the Oregon Building, and we can sincerely recommend to anyone the $1 special on vases which that store is having. We saw them fresh from the wrappings and know from the invoice that they should retail for at least $2.50.

Veils—dare we use that word again—femininity personified. Half veils will be the advance guard of the style, and then, more than one authority prophesies, the sheer, full length face veil will give us all an opportunity to cope with the problem of keeping the delicate net out of our teeth.

What could be more worthy of covering the foot of fashion than the skin of reindeer used by Martin and Martin? This new leather has a dull finish and has been worked on an extremely smart last, in an Oxford pattern.

Triangular scarves of fur, short soft furs of course, are the newest touch which we predict will take the fancy of women, especially in the middle west. One may obtain them already in New York in white, brown or gray and in a short time the dyed variations will be worn with novelty sports coats.

One of the few masculine touches tolerated in the more feminine mode of the season is the bob pin, especially in rhinestones, worn at shoulder and in all pockets.

Millers are sponsoring a contest this week that should create a wide interest inasmuch as the approach of holidays is at hand. They are offering valuable prizes for the most original, useful, and decorative article made of One Yard of Cretonne.
