H. F. SCHALDOCK DIES AT DETROIT

Mrs. H. F. Schaldock, better known under her pen name of Marlowe Schaldock, died suddenly in Detroit, Mich., October 29. She was formerly Jennie May Campbell, daughter of the late Mrs. Lydia Campbell of Salem Heights. A few of her early associates have realized how she, like many other native and adopted Oregonians, had worked her way to a place in her profession that was very close to the top. During the past 15 years, she has written for many newspapers in the United States; and she was considered one of the best paid writers in her field. She counted among her close friends many of the most noted people from coast to coast.

A few years ago, she purchased Center Island, one of the San Juan group, near Victoria, B. C., and plans were under way for developing a permanent home there. After a private funeral, the remains were cremated. The urn will be placed on Center Island, surrounded by flowers, shrubs, and rock gardens.

Mrs. Schaldock is survived by her husband, H. F. Schaldock, and a daughter, Mrs. Orla Jane Woodbury, of Corvallis, Ore.

Lake Erie Swept By 40-mile Gale

CLEVELAND, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Churned up by the fury of a 40-mile wind, the waters of Lake Erie stranded two Cleveland boats on the lake shore Monday. The stranded vessels are the Edward J. Berwin, an ore freighter owned and operated by the Franklin Steamship company, and the Corolla, owned by the Nicholson Universal Transportation company. The wind tonight had died down and both vessels, it is believed, will easily make port tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Haken of Portland are the guests of Mrs. Haken's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Peterson. Mr. Haken is one of the musicians at the Panjates theatre of Portland.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Laehr of the River Bridge Grocery spent the day visiting Mrs. Laehr's mother, Mrs. E. S. Stark, of the Black Bird Inn at Rickreall.

Rather phenomenal for this time of the year, all of the cabins at the Riverside Camp Ground, West Salem, are filled.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Jackson with their daughter and son, Vera and Roy, from McDonald, Kansas, are visiting Mrs. Jackson's aunts, Mrs.

S. L. Gurr and Mrs. M. E. Davis. The Jacksons motored from Kansas by the southern route through New Mexico, Arizona and California; they will remain here for the winter, also visiting relatives in Eugene.

The new railroad side switch for the racy road yard was surveyed Tuesday. The track will be laid in the near future.

Recent arrests here include those of Robert Holman at the Mellow Moon dance hall for intoxication; Francis Clark of Longview, Wash., for intoxication and speeding; and Donald Wilson and Walter Vehrs, also of Longview, for possession of liquor. Clark was fined $105 and Wilson and Vehrs were assessed equal amounts.

Mr. Prescott was stricken with illness Saturday.

Passengers Hurt As Fierce Gales Are Encountered

LONDON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The Daily Mail Monday received a diagram from the liner Mauretania saying that some of her passengers had been slightly injured during gales which the ship had battled for three days. The wind was reported to have attained a velocity of 80 miles an hour with exceptionally high seas.

The captain said that it was one of the worst gales he had encountered in recent years. The Mauretania sailed from New York late on the night of November 7.

Mrs. Schaldock is survived by her husband, H. F. Schaldock, and a daughter, Mrs. Orla Jane Woodbury, of Corvallis, Ore.

COLD TYPE TALK PROMISED AD CLUB

Under the head of "Cold Type" Henry R. Hayek, one of the best known typographers in the west, will attempt to prove to the Salem Ad club at its Thursday noon luncheon that type actually is not "cold" and austere when properly handled in the preparation of fine printing.

Mr. Hayek has addressed similar meetings throughout the northwest and is the author of numerous essays on the printing art. He was a regular contributor to "The Printing Art," a technical publication.

He is coming to Salem upon invitation of William Paulus, president of the Ad club, and business men generally, as well as club members have been urged to hear this talk. He expects to bring to Salem an interesting exhibit to illustrate phases of his presentation.
