

GRANGERS HIT AT 'NO' VOTES

Marion-Polk Have Complete Program for Semi-Annual Session

Among the resolutions adopted at the semi-annual meeting of the Marion-Polk Associated Grangers in Salem Wednesday was the following: "Whereas, the recent practice of urging the public to vote no on all measures..."

Whereas, the enemies of the initiative and referendum are busy at work in their effort to destroy these methods of direct legislation by continuing to persistently advising the electorate of the state to vote no on all measures on the ballot; and

Whereas, this "vote no on all measures" must inevitably result in the development of the lowest possible grade of citizenship—a lazy citizenship that will follow the negative advice rather than investigate for itself; and

Whereas, that sort of citizenship will be readily controlled by the interests that prey upon the people; therefore,

Resolved, that Marion-Polk Associated Grangers regret that it has become necessary that we write to fight this insidious "vote no on all measures," but the fight has been forced upon us and we must fight, if the people's right to speak through direct legislation is to be retained; and, further,

Resolved, that these resolutions be given the widest possible publicity.

The lecture hour of the semi-annual meeting was in charge of Worthy Lecturer Ellen G. Lambert, with the complete program as follows:

Song, "Old Glory," the Granger recitation, Helen May Cooke; reading, Mrs. Wayne Henry; piano solo, Mrs. Marie Plint; vocal solo, Mrs. Vinton; lecture, R. H. Kipp, of Portland, marketing specialist for the state chamber of commerce; Mrs. Esson, Mrs. S. H. Van Trump and Mrs. Milton Brown.

Seymour Jones, state market agent, is worthy master of the association. The next meeting will be held in Monmouth, Polk county, in February.

STATESMAN HOLDS ONE GAME MARGIN

By defeating the Stiff's Furniture quintet three games straight, the New Oregon Statesman bowling team managed to hang onto its one game lead in the Business Men's League Thursday night, the Roth's Grocery team staying in the same relative position in second place by winning three straight from Montgomery Ward and company. The Salem Sanitary Dairy won three from the Fairmount Dairy.

Father and Son Banquet Enjoyed At Local Church

More than a hundred Salem men and boys attended the father and son banquet given in the First Presbyterian church last night. Cecil A. Swope, attorney, was toastmaster and Dr. Murdock McLeod of San Francisco gave the principal address. "Fathers and Sons," Dr. McLeod, who is director of men's work in the Presbyterian church in the coast states, used as his theme the fact that better fathers make better sons, pointing out that they are the greatest natural resource.

Other numbers on the program included: "Becoming Men," Edwin Johnson; "Men Grown," Joseph Besser; selections from the church men's quartet; ritual and samples of work of the three church boys' clubs, the Friendly Friends, the Pioneers and the Comrades.

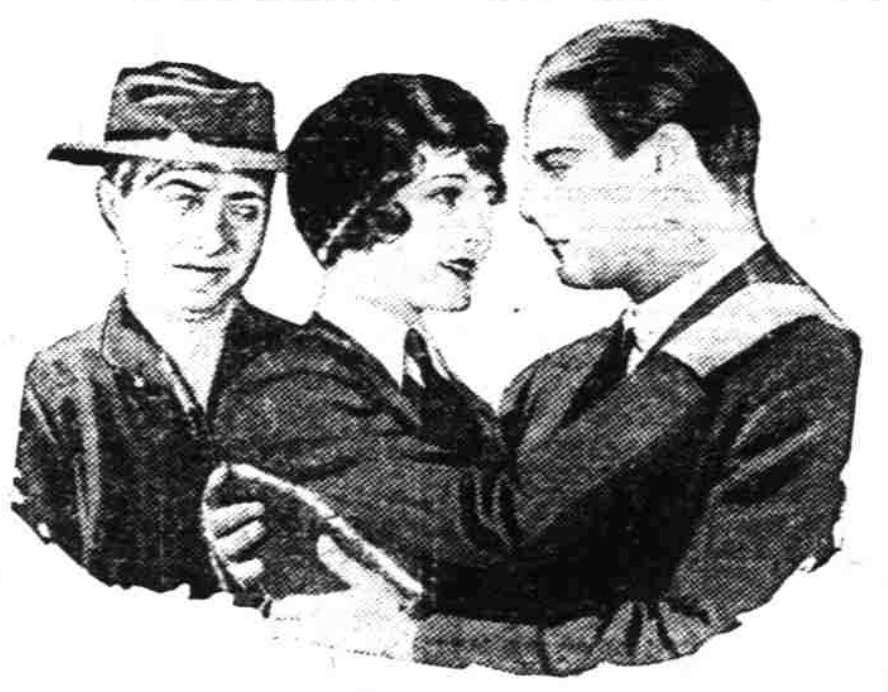

An orchestra composed of high school boys furnished the music for community singing.

'Rose Marie' Held To Be Unique For Comedey and Music

Possibly no other musical play yet produced has the appeal of Arthur Hammerstein's "Rose Marie" which will be the attraction at the Elsinore one night only, Wednesday, November 28.

"Rose Marie" is a musical melodrama and a musical comedy, and is said to be the only play of its kind ever produced. It has a strong heart interest, with dramatic complications, and it has ludicrous situations which result in the comedy. The success of this musical play has become international because the New York company gave 681 consecutive performances, the London company, and the company touring the provinces of England, while the company to be seen here has been received by capacity audiences wherever it has presented this operetta.

"Rose Marie" concerns a delightful love tale with the dramatic entanglement of a murder. The musical numbers are interwoven into the story in such a manner that the action is heightened. Already familiar to most persons are some of the melodies, such as "Rose Marie" and "Indian Love Call," sung respectively by Paul Donah and Virginia Fox. The chorus of brawny young men, the Canadian Northwest Mounted Police in their picturesque uniforms and fifty pretty girls who can sing and dance, and a stately old French minut, are among the ensemble numbers.

Here From Portland—Ira P. Reynolds, of Portland, is a visitor to Salem. Mr. Reynolds is a well-known lumberman of the metropolis.

Here for Meeting—Lewis M. White and S. D. Williams of Portland are in Salem to attend the beekeepers' meeting. They are stopping at the New Salem.

Today is the last opportunity to see the beautiful art exhibit that is being held in the community hall in the basement of the Ford Memorial Methodist church. This exhibit is being sponsored by the school children and tonight the different grades will give a program. A slight admittance fee will be charged as the children must pay for the exhibit, and they are attempting to buy some of the prints for their rooms. Each grade is giving a number or group of numbers in the program. The following is a list of the numbers: "When the Frost Browned the Grass," grade one, leaf drill; Blue Birds and Robins; "What I Found," grade two; "Butterfly Wings," Mary Jane Summers; milkmaids and farmers; grade three; the old "Fifty-graft" album, grade four; "Dear What Can the Matter Be" and "Spanish Guitar," grade five; "The Shell," and "The Travelling Musicians," grade six; "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," and "Oh Susannah," grade seven; health exercises, grade eight.

The silver tea held at the home of Mrs. Jack Gosser proved to be one of the largest social gatherings of the year. Prominent West Salem matrons presided at the tables from which tea, cake and salad were served. Mrs. Ray Ferguson played several piano solos and Mrs. J. R. Bedford gave a reading. During the afternoon different groups of the guests gave impromptu charades and everyone had an enjoyable time. Over 35 people called during the afternoon. The proceeds were given to the Ford Memorial Methodist church.

Miss Ruth Benton is a house guest at the home of her brother, J. R. Benton, who lives on Edgewater street. Miss Ruth Benton has just returned to the United States from China where she has been for several years.
