

BUTLER MAJORITY 5902, SHORT TERM

R. R. Butler, republican, defeated Walter M. Pierce, democrat, by a majority of 5902 votes for the short term of representation in congress from the second congressional district according to the official canvass of the votes of the special election completed by the secretary of state today.

The special election to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of N. J. Sinnott was held in conjunction with the general election on November 8. Mr. Butler polled a total of 30,468 votes, while ex-Governor Pierce received 24,566 votes. There were eight scattering votes. Only three counties, Union, Morrow and Wallowa were carried by Mr. Pierce over his republican opponent. The short term expires March 3, 1929.

Mr. Butler also defeated ex-Governor Pierce for the regular term beginning March 4, of next year, but the votes cast at this election have not yet been canvassed by the state department.

FLOOD DEATH TOLL NOW STANDS AT 17

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22.—(AP)—While relief and rehabilitation work in the flood torn valleys of Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma was progressing rapidly today, the death toll in the three states was increased to 17 with the discovery late today of the body of Ambrosio Nava, 58, near Ottawa, Kans. He was drowned when the swollen Marais Des Cygnes river swept away his house in the east bottoms of Ottawa Saturday.

Walter H. Chappell, Chanute, Kans., director of flood control in southeast Kansas, today estimated the damage wrought by the flood in Kansas alone at $20,000,000. Estimates of the damage in Missouri and Oklahoma also run into the millions of dollars.

In southern Kansas all the streams except the Neosho were reported receding rapidly. The Neosho, in the vicinity of Chanute, Parsons, Erie, St. Paul and Oswego, continued to rise today, flooding lowlands along its banks.

Moberg arrived at Silverton Sunday from Klamath Falls where they have been running a truck for the past month. The boys report that they were snowed out at Klamath Falls. While at Silverton they were guests of their aunt, Mrs. L. H. Meyer. They returned to their home at Scotts Mills Sunday evening.

O.S.C. School Of Journalism Gets Highest Honors

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 22.—(AP)—Winning out over forty other chapters in the United States and Canada, the Oregon State college chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, has been rated first in efficiency at the national convention at North Western university. Word of the victory was received here tonight from Al Bates, president and delegate of the local chapter.

This is the first time a far-western chapter has ever placed first in the coveted rating. Judging is based on the year's activities including publications work and other enterprises designed to foster and raise the standard of journalism. The Daily Barometer, student paper, is putting out a special edition in recognition of the honor.

GIRLS BEST BOYS IN STUNT EVENTS

Senior stunt day was observed during the high school activity period Wednesday morning and although the event was arranged primarily for the boys to initiate their official garb, the "cords," the girls of the class really made the hit, both boys and instructors admit.

The senior boys, clad in their cords, burst upon the assembly in hot pursuit of Robert King, sophomore class president, who was wearing cords. The seniors caught their culprit upon the stage, and three proceeded to strip him of the trousers only seniors may wear; then placing the gym-suit clad president in coffin over which John George preached a sermon and "cords for underclassmen" was carried out, dead.

But the hit of the hour was the take-off on the boys' stunt by the girls, part of whom were clad in the famous cords and the rest in the new natty senior girls' garb, with S. H. S. monogram black sweaters and red skirts. A large doll dressed in cords served as the erring underclassmen. Following their stunts, the girls sang.
