THANKSGIVING NEAR AT HAND

Six Days Remain in Which to Plan for Menu; Choice is Unlimited

Only six more days in which to plan that Thanksgiving menu. But what with all the tempting displays of vegetables and sweeter goodies decorating the store windows, that should offer little difficulty.

With the approach of Thanksgiving, too, there is more activity at the stores and for the wholesalers. Some prices have changed upward in the main.

Vegetables Plentiful
Following is the present status of the vegetable offerings, as gathered from grocer and wholesaler.

Pumpkins are plentiful and very cheap, at around 10 cents for a good sized one.

Squash, also numerous, sells at two cents a pound; or if it should be the small Danish ones, they may be bought at 25 cents for six. By the way, although they don't look it, the Danish squash are just about as hard to peel as the Hubbard.

Cabbage is up one cent, both wholesale and retail. Wholesalers are quoting three cents a pound and in a few stores it may be purchased for that figure also. Buyers are cleaning up on the cabbage crop now.

Green peppers sell at the stores for close to 10 cents a pound, and the red ones are a little higher at two pounds for 25 cents.

Onion Crop Short
The onion crop is very short this year, the Sherwood district which usually produces such quantities showing almost a blank. Onions are quoted at 2 1/2 cents, these being locally grown. Other onions cost about 25 cents for 25 cents.

Celery hearts are prominently displayed and the demand is fair despite a raise in price from 80 cents to $1.15 wholesale and from 10 cents to 15 cents each in the stores. The price is higher than at last holiday time as then the growers held the crop too long and had to sacrifice it in the end. The last of the local celery is being cleaned out and that from California will soon be on the market.

Garlic is scarce and is up five cents a pound, to 25 cents.

Sprouts Appear
The first local brussels sprouts in any quantity are offered on the market this week and at a lower figure than the California offerings. Wholesale quotation is $1.50.

Turnips and rutabagas sell six pounds for 19 cents and there is a fair demand for both.

Bulk carrots are six pounds for 19 cents and by the bunches they are four for 15 cents.

California lettuce looks unusually good this week, at 10 cents a head. Some small, hold-over heads may be had in several stores for 5 cents.

Sweet potatoes are plentiful at seven pounds for 28 cents in some stores and others selling at around five cents a pound.

Parsnips are a little cheaper at five cents a pound. More of these are coming into the market now.

Hot house tomatoes are the only ones offered, these at two pounds for 25 cents usually. There is little demand.

A 50-pound sack of Yakima Gems costs close to 70 cents generally, with the local potatoes selling for less.

Spinach is getting scarce and is quoted at $1.25 a box.

PRICE ON TURKEYS NOT YET ANNOUNCED

Although Thanksgiving is less than a week away, no definite price is available in Salem for turkeys and these prices will not be released until tomorrow. Few of them were on the markets here Thursday.

One thing is certain, that turkey will be considerably cheaper than last year due to the increased quantity. There are plenty farmers who have raised a large number of the big birds this year, not to mention the many who have had smaller groups.

NUTS TAKING PLACE OF FRESH FRUITS

The new nut crops placed so temptingly in the stores tell another angle of the Thanksgiving "feed" and help take the place of larger variety of fresh fruits which disappear as the holiday season and cold weather come.

Nut prices in general are as follows: almonds, two pounds for 53 cents; good grade walnuts, two pounds for 59 cents; mixed nuts, two pounds for 49 cents; nigger toes, 29 cents a pound; hazel nuts, 33 cents a pound; chestnuts, two pounds for 35 cents.

In the line of fruits, there is the holiday cranberry to make into jam, jelly, preserves or just plain cooked, as one likes them. Cranberries are up and but few of the merchants are offering them at the very low price of 20 cents at which they sell in one of the stores—where a wise grocer bought a large supply days ago, foreseeing the higher level. Twenty-five cents a pound or even a little better is the usual figure on these.

Navel oranges are again the chief offerings in that commodity, with the larger sizes at 65 cents a dozen and a fair size fruit at 45 cents.

Florida grapefruit is coming in better but still sells at two for 25 cents. These are moving but fair.

There is little demand for the few quinces offered at six pounds for 25 cents.

The lemon market has remained steady this week.

A few citron may be bought for 15 cents. The demand is negligible.

Cocoanuts retail at 15 and 20 cents each.

There are still a few Cornichon grapes at three pounds for 25 cents, but the better variety now, and the only other, is the Red Emperor, also at that price. Emperors are a late crop and will be on the market and good until the first of the year.

The new bulk dates are a very good quality and the price is reasonable at two pounds for 29 cents. Pitted dates are a very good quality and the price is reasonable at two pounds for 29 cents. Pitted dates are offered for the first time this week, quoted at $4.75 per case by the wholesalers.

Wisher, according to witnesses, had been flying by himself for about 10 minutes, making a series of loops when the plane stalled at the top of a loop and crashed. Wisher apparently made no attempt to right the ship before it struck the earth. This led fliers at Love field, municipal airport from which Wisher started his trip, to believe he had fainted at the top of the loop.

Wisher had been studying flying for about three months.
