

Whitman To Finish Training Today For Turkey Day Game

MISSIONARIES BIG FAVORITES

Borleske's Men Drill on Passes; Few Injuries to Weak-offensive

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Whitman and Pacific Missionaries will go through their final workout tomorrow in preparation for the closing game of the season with Willamette at Salem on Thanksgiving Day. Practice during the past week was light as the coach wished to give the players a rest after two hard games within a week.

The Missionaries have been working on passing, perfecting an already good aerial attack to launch against the Bearcats.

Odds favor Whitman. Odds are rather strongly in favor of Whitman to win the closing game as Whitman has beaten every other team in the conference while Willamette bowed to College of Idaho and to the Bearcats. The Bearcats will be strongly reinforced by the return to the team of three linemen and two backs who were lost to the team early in the season on account of injuries.

Whitman has come through a hard season with few casualties. Al Quine, halfback, who was out of the College of Idaho game with a bad knee, returned to practice this week but his injuries may keep him from making the Salem trip.

Interest at Peak. While Whitman has already clinched the conference title, whether the Willamette game is won or lost, interest in the game is running high because of the traditional Turkey day rivalry between Willamette and Whitman. Willamette's rejuvenation has added a threat which increases the significance of the contest.

Sports Done Brown

By NORMAN E. BROWN. ONE is inclined to discount the statement made in connection with the recent appointment of Tris Speaker to manage the Newark International league club, that he is to receive one of the largest salaries ever paid a minor league manager.

It would seem, offhand, as though Speaker had passed the day when his name and fame alone would call for a startling sum to manage a minor league club. He had been out of the major league managerial ranks two years. He has been through as a player for the same period. His popularity is not as great as it was in the hey-day of his career.

However, he should make a success as pilot of the Newark club. No one will discredit his ability as a leader—he won a big league pennant and a world title. He still is one of the shrewdest baseball men the game has ever known. He also retains enough of the old spark to provide the spark for a minor league club while playing in the outfield himself.

With Speaker already signed to make his debut in the minors as a "former major league star," speculation is somewhat rife as to what Ty Cobb's plans for the 1929 campaign may be. Cobb is now on a personally conducted one-man exhibition tour of Japan. He is appearing "in person" in baseball games with Japanese teams and delivering talks on the diamond sport. He has always said that he would quit baseball entirely when he found his days as a major league player ended. There have been, however, rumors at various times that he would break into the business end of the sport when his playing days were done—probably by buying a ball club.

New York Captain Improves Rapidly

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Captain Al Lassman, New York University football player, who received a head injury in Saturday's game here with Carnegie Institute of Technology, tonight was reported by his doctor as "constantly improving." The giant tackle regained full consciousness this afternoon after having been in a semi-conscious and unconscious stage since the accident, which happened in the fourth quarter of the contest. Lassman's physician said his patient would probably fully recover.

California May Represent West

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 26.—(AP)—A conference of members of the University of California football team to discuss proposed acceptance of a post-season game New Year's day at Pasadena, was postponed today until tomorrow. No official invitation has been received, but it is understood that the undefeated Bears will be offered the chance to represent the west in the annual tournament of roses contest.

Extradition Plea Involves Diamond

Governor Patterson Monday issued papers authorizing the extradition of Alice Rankin, who is wanted at Missoula, Montana, on a charge of larceny by bailee. Miss Rankin is accused of taking a diamond ring valued at $750. She is under arrest at Klamath Falls.

STATE GRAIN OFFICE CLEAR

Seymour Jones Returns to State All Appropriations for Work

Economics practiced by Governor Patterson and Seymour Jones, state market agent, in the conduct of the state grain department in Portland, Monday made it possible for Mr. Jones to resign from the general fund of the state $21,828.30, which represents all appropriations made for the department since it was created in 1927. In other words, the state grain department has been placed on a self-supporting basis.

At the 1917 session of the legislature, read a report of the state market agent sent to Governor Patterson, "a law was passed creating the state grain inspection department and providing for a compulsory inspection, weighing and grading of grain and hay at public terminal warehouses in the state.

Money Not Used. "The state grain department did not use all the money appropriated by the emergency board, but out of said amounts including thereon, is now indebted to the state in the amount of $14,228.97. Out of the original appropriation of $7500 the grain department has used $7499.33, which makes the amount now due the state from the grain department $21,828.30.

"As state market agent I took charge of the grain inspection department in February, 1927. I have been able during the past two years to pay all of the expenses of the department, and in addition thereto, have accumulated a sufficient amount of money to return to the state all the funds advanced in previous years.

"It therefore affords me much pleasure at this time to pay to the state the amount of $21,828.30, the total amount due the state."

SIX 'W' WEARERS OUT AT WILLAMETTE

Six lettermen are turning out for basketball at Willamette university along with several other promising players, all getting a good start on the regular training season which will open next Monday after football is disposed of. The lettermen are Adams, Adams, Litchfield, forwards, and Houk, Flesher, Asbury and Ledbetter, guards. Next Monday Cardinal, last year's regular center, will be out, completing the list of wearers of the "W" for this year's squad.

The squad is in charge of Earl Shaffer, former U. of O. star, for the present. Coach "Spec" Keene will take over direction of the hoop squad next week.

DAUGHTER MAKING EXPLORATION TRIP

LAKE LABISH, Ore., Nov. 26.—(Special)—Mrs. Frances Poellner, Salem route 9, is the mother of Mrs. Carrol Calval, 22, wife of J. Tozzi Calval, leader of the Brazilian-American scientific expedition from New York to the Amazon valley in South America in search of an ancient Phoenician city.

"Carrol will help Dr. Norman Taylor, of the Brooklyn Botanical garden, to sketch plants and flowers and catalogue them," Mrs. Poellner told a recent visitor. "They will explore some great unknown river," she added. "Here is the name," she said, adjusting her glasses, "Aripauna river."

"Do you mind to have Fraulein Carrol go so far away?" she was asked.

"No!" said Mrs. Poellner. "God is there also."

Mrs. Poellner has another daughter who is becoming noted as a violinist. Mrs. Poellner has been in the United States only one year, coming from Germany. A son accompanied her but has gone east to Pennsylvania to work for a mining company.

SHAFFER FACES MANY CHARGES

Gervais Man Arrested After Traffic Officer Fires at Fleeing Auto

John Shaffer, Gervais resident, was arrested on the highway near Aurora at about one a. m. Sunday after a thrilling chase during which State Traffic Officer Van DeWalker fired several shots at Shaffer's car. He will be tried either Wednesday or Friday of this week on one or more of a number of charges, including breaking glass on the public highway, driving without lights, resisting an officer and reckless and imprudent driving.

Van DeWalker had just finished negotiations with another driver for a minor offense, when the car driven by Shaffer speeded past, with no lights showing, according to the account given out concerning the episode. His suspicious aroused, Van DeWalker gave chase in his own car. Shaffer flashed his lights on for a brief moment and then switched them off again, driving faster than ever. Van DeWalker sounded his siren. Several bottles were hurled from the Shaffer car and scattered on the pavement.

Fugitive Overtaken. Going at top speed, Van DeWalker drew his gun and fired several shots at the lower part of the fleeing automobile. A few minutes later he drew up alongside, forcing Shaffer toward the ditch and causing him to stop. His arrest followed. Mrs. Shaffer and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Joerg of Silverton were also in the car, but were released. Shaffer was lodged in the city jail here until Monday, when he was arraigned in justice court and released on $500 bail.

Two bottles, containing an undefined liquid, were brought to Salem by Van DeWalker along with his prisoner. These repose in the safe in justice court and are expected to be displayed at the trial. Shaffer was sentenced in the fall of 1926 to serve 30 days in jail for reckless driving.

GOVERNOR AND SENATOR FIGHT

Hand to Hand Argument Out Between G. W. P. Hunt and Colter

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Police were called to the Arizona State capitol late today when Governor G. W. P. Hunt was engaged in a brief fist fight by State Senator Fred Colter. The governor was struck one or two blows by Colter as the climax of an argument in the capitol lobby. Interference by J. W. Strode, secretary to the governor, ended the affair.

The affair, witnesses said, was the outcome of an argument between Hunt, Colter, and several legislators, on the question of the Colorado River State commission, to which Senator Colter is opposed.

When Governor Hunt came from the elevator, heading toward the main entrance of the building, he was met by Colter, who had been discussing the make-up and policy of the commission with other legislators, Hunt and Colter became involved in an argument on the subject. The governor's secretary, Strode, stated that as he approached the lobby wall, Strode tackled Colter, catching his arms, whereupon, the legislators closed in, scuffling and shouting. Colter said the affair was accidental. He declared it was "inadvertently brought about when Senator Colter moved his arms in argument." The governor's secretary, however maintained that the blow had been intentional.

The turmoil had subsided, except for the aftermath of excited conversations when police officers entered to restore quiet.
