Defendant Arrested and Refused Bail in Sensational Slaying Case

Everybody Surprised Except Defendant When Warrant is Presented

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 .- (AP) -George McManus, who summon ed Arnold Rothstein to the hotel room where he was mortally wounded, was charged with the gambler's murder today.

He refused to talk beyond pleading not guilty to a short affidavit charging him with murder in the first degree and was held without bail for formal hearing Friday. Police had sought McManus without avail ever since Rothstein was shot on November 4. He notified them last night that he would surrender this morning in a Bronx barber shop. When the appointment was kept by a detective on the District Attorney's staff McManus was already in the barber shop, enjoying his morning shave. Actual Seriousness

Of Charge Kept Secret There was no suggestion during all the three weeks search that McManus was wanted for anything more than questioning. District Attorney Banton said repeat-
