Mrs. F. E. Halik Entertains At Bridge Tea

TUESDAY afternoon was the occasion of a beautiful bridge tea at the home of the hostess, Mrs. F. E. Halik, 835 Saguinaw street.

Drawn curtains, shaded lights, and a profusion of potted plants, ferns, and stately chrysanthemums gave just the right tone and setting for the nine tables of bridge which occupied the afternoon. Dainty cutglass dishes filled with candy reflected the soft lights and stirred the admiration and appetites of the players.

When the playing was over and Mrs. O. A. Olson had been accorded high score and Mrs. Golden Brown second, refreshments in keeping with the occasion were served at the tables.

Those assisting Mrs. Halik were Mrs. D. C. Minto, Mrs. Herbert Staver, Mrs. T. F. Mesch, Mrs. D. B. Jerman, Mrs. Frank Kellog, Mrs. Emil Halik, and Mrs. George Dunstford.

Guests present for the afternoon were, Mrs. O. A. Olson, Mrs. Chas. Pratt, Mrs. George Dunstford, Mrs. Dave Wright, Mrs. Bert B. Flack, Mrs. M. C. Petties, Mrs. A. C. Smith, Mrs. R. C. Hunter, Mrs. W. L. Liljequist, Mrs. James Inalah, Mrs. L. P. Campbell, Mrs. Karl B. Kugel, Mrs. Sam Laughlin, Mrs. Ed. Kennedy, Mrs. L. M. Ingham, Mrs. George Forge, Mrs. Percy Cupper, Mrs. Harold Hughes, Mrs. Alla Bargefelt, Mrs. W. M. Bushey, Mrs. Arthur Moore, Mrs. C. F. Hamilton, Mrs. Herbert Staver, Mrs. J. H. Scott, Mrs. J. H. Scott, Mrs. S. Mesch, Mrs. J. B. Bernard, Mrs. S. Harry Bell, Mrs. Downing, Mrs. M. C. Cashatt, Mrs. D. C. Minto, Mrs. Frank Looze, Mrs. Wm. P. Ellis, Mrs. Emil Halik, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Harold Brown, Mrs. Frank Kellog, Mrs. Bower.

Late guests who came in for tea were, Mrs. Romeo Goulet, Mrs. Paul Hauser, Mrs. D. B. Jerman, and Miss West.

Presbyterian Bazaar Is This Afternoon

Luncheon for the school children and business folk will be served from 11:30 to 1:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian ladies' aid society bazaar today in the church building at the corner of Cheneketa and North Winter streets today. Another interesting affair in connection with the bazaar will be the dinner to be served from 6 to 8 o'clock tonight. Mrs. J. W. Hinson is general chairman of the bazaar, with Mrs. Walter D. Pugh assisting as chairman of the luncheon committee and Mrs. Max O. Buren as chairman of the dinner committee.

Both luncheon and dinner will be served in the dining room on the first floor of the church building, and the bazaar booths will be erected in the primary class rooms on the main floor. Cooked food, fancy works, apron and candy booths and a fish pond will be in charge of a large committee.

Mothers' Club Meet Cancelled

The regular December meeting of the Beta Chi Mothers' club has been cancelled due to the numerous holiday activities. The club will convene as usual in January.

Election of officers will be held at the meeting of Knight and Ladies of Maccabees in McCormack hall tonight at 8 o'clock.

The Willing Workers class of the First Christian church will meet at the home of Mrs. Will May on South Capitol street Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Woman's Alliance Has Bridge Party

Mrs. C. A. Huston and Mrs. J. R. Pollock were the hostesses at the monthly card party of the Woman's Alliance at Mrs. Huston's home on South Twenty-third street Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Ben Wells won the prize for high score honors, and the second prize went to Mrs. L. F. LeGarle. The hostesses served at the tea hour.

Winter is here and there is great need among certain people for warm clothing. One way to meet this need is by contributing suits, coats, dresses, shoes, etc., to the rummage sale sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association. Friday and Saturday of this week, at the Bligh Building, 136 S. High. The building will be open Thursday for receiving contributions.

Announcement has been received in Salem of the marriage of Miss Aileen Leatrice Snyder, daughter of Mrs. Diana Snyder of Aurora, to Clyde Cammack, Saturday in Aurora. The wedding was one of the most interesting held this season in the northern part of the county.

Co-op. Responsible For Freight Rate State Court Says

The Oregon Growers Cooperative association is liable for the payment of transportation charges on two consignments of pears shipped from Medford to Havana, Cuba, in 1920, according to an opinion handed down by the state supreme court Tuesday.

The opinion was written by Justice Rand in two suits brought by the Southern Pacific company to collect $7,215.23 from the growers association. The circuit court for Marion county held for the defendant association whereupon the Southern Pacific company appealed to the supreme court. The decree of the lower court was reversed.

Rosedale Couple Observe 50th Wedding

FRIENDS and relatives numbering more than sixty assembled in the basement of the Friends' church at Rosedale, Thanksgiving day, to assist Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bates in celebrating their golden wedding anniversary.

A sumptuous dinner was served at 1 o'clock. The tables were arranged with a rainbow cleverly hung over the honored guests' table, the bow ending in small mounds of presents.

The tables were centered with several bouquets of large golden chrysanthemums. Place cards bore Mr. and Mrs. Bates' names, the two dates, 1878 and 1928, and two wedding bells, all embossed in gold.

Following the dinner a short instrumental program was given. Mr. Geo. H. Wilde of Vancouver, Wash., acted as toastmaster. It had been previously planned to liken the span of life to the four seasons of the year.

Spring, or their early childhood was given by Floyd Bates of Albany, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bates. The summer of life was given by Mrs. Alex Wallen of Springbrook, who told of the wedding 50 years ago, at which she was a guest. The autumn of life, with its harvest of friendliness and hospitality, was spoken of briefly by Mrs. Geo. H. Wilde, Vancouver, Wash., youngest sister of Mrs. Bates.

Following the thought of the summer that had passed, and the autumn that was waning, Mr. Emmer Newby, of Washougal, Wash., accompanied by Mrs. Floyd Bates, of Albany, sang the old favorite, "The Barefoot Trail." The last of the similes was given by Rev. Gervas Carey, pastor of the Friends' church of Newberg. Replies to the toasts given them were made by both Mr. and Mrs. Bates.

Seated at the honored guests' table with Mr. and Mrs. Bates were Mrs. Carry Pierce Scott, of Portland, and Mrs. Alex Wallen, of Springbrook, who were guests at the wedding 50 years ago.

Those in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Exam Elliott, Melba, Idaho; C. F. Bates and family, Tillamook; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bates and daughter, Albany; Mrs. Carry Pierce Scott and daughter, Mrs. T. R. Warner, Dundee; Rev. and Mrs. Gervas Carey and daughter, Elizabeth, Mrs. Louie Parker, W. E. Crozer and daughter, Elouise, Donald Crozer, all of Newberg; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Wallen, Springbrook; Mr. and Mrs. Emmer Newby and son, Bernard, Washougal, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wilde and family, Vancouver, Wash.; Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Pemberton and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bates and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Pearson and family, and all Daughters of Veterans, are invited to be guests of Mrs. U. S. Dotson this afternoon in her home, 1109 Union street. Mrs. W. F. Neptune will be additional hostess.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

DECREASED ACTIVITIES LESSEN THE FOOD NEEDS OF THE AGED

Protein Needs for the Old
Is one slice of bacon, on bread, enough meat for a woman of 74, who also takes a pint of milk and one full ounce of cheese daily?

The need for food in general for those in declining years is greatly lessened on account of the lessening of the physical activities, and the protein needs are decreased proportionately. For the active adult, it is believed that from 200 to 350 calories of protein daily are necessary for the growth of new blood cells. The amount depends upon the framework of the individual, a person of large build needing more than the small person.

Contrary to usual opinion, the protein needs do not depend upon the physical activities—these are taken care of by the energy foods, the fats, starches and sugars.

In round numbers, there are about 10 to 15 calories of protein in a thin slice of bacon, 65 in a pint of milk, and about 25 in one ounce of cheese. This totals about 105 for your day, Mrs. B. With the protein in your other foods, you are probably getting around 125 calories. I imagine that is about right for you, unless you have a very large frame.

It isn't only the amount of protein we have to think of, but the quality, too. Some proteins are lacking in some of the necessary building elements, and so are known as incomplete proteins. However, your cheese and milk give a complete protein, and one of the very highest grade.

Sorry I wasn't able to answer your question before on account of the very large number of letters I get. It usually takes around two or three months for an answer to appear if it is one I can write on.

I congratulate you on keeping up your interest in vital matters, Mrs. B. It shows you are not getting old mentally.

We have an article on Balanced Diet, which you may have.

"Will you please give me the address of the County Medical society, as I would like to write to them about my case?"

The County Medical society is composed of physicians who are graduates of high-grade medical colleges, have taken their state medical examinations, and are in good standing in their profession. This automatically makes them members of the American association. The society is not a clinic, J., although, of course, many of the physicians do attend or have charge of clinics.

You have evidently been misled by my statement that if you do not know the physicians in your locality, to write or telephone the County Medical society and get a list.

There are several things that may cause an incontinence of urine; possibly an inflammation at the opening, too concentrated and acid urine, stones or tumors in the bladder, nerve diseases, etc. You should go and have a complete examination, including an examination of your bladder, and tests of the urine.

Until you can go to a physician, drink liberally of water and have your diet consist largely of fruits and vegetables, to render the urine non-acid.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each article to cover cost of printing and mailing. For the pamphlet on reducing and gaining, 10 cents in coin, with fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed. Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

Sarah McClelland Called By Death

Mrs. Sarah Kinsell McClelland, a resident of Salem for some 20 years, died Tuesday evening at 5:20 o'clock at the residence, 205 North 21st street. Funeral arrangements will probably be made today, following conference with out-of-town relatives. She is survived by three children, James McClelland who is in the legal department of the state industrial accident commission; Charley, also of Salem; and Mrs. Katherine Gemunder of Newport. The body is in charge of the Rigdon mortuary.

The work of placing signs at all the cross roads in Linn county by the Oregon State Motor association and the county court cooperating has just been completed. Linn is one of only a few counties in the state receiving this service.
