

ARMORED CAR GETS HELD UP

Bandits Make Away With $104,500 After Drilling
Through Metal

YONKERS, N. Y., Dec. 13.—(AP)—Six men Tuesday held up a bank delivery truck, drilled through its metal covered door and escaped with $104,500 in currency after wounding the bank messenger posted inside the car. The robbery occurred in the heart of the city's business district. The money seized was being transported from the First National Bank as part of the payroll disbursements of the Alexander Smith and Sons Carpet company and the National Sugar Refining company. A patrolman accompanying the driver on the front seat.

It all happened in about three minutes. The truck was nearing a street intersection when an automobile containing a lone occupant was parked. Behind the truck slunk another car which pulled out in front of the bank's machine just as the latter was passing the parked vehicle.

The little group of men in the automobile that had been trailing the truck turned and fired into the wind shield of the delivery car. The robbers jumped out. Four covered the driver and policeman. Two with a machine drill ran to the rear of the truck and in a trice cut through the door which was protected by thin metal. Surprised, apparently, at the sight of Adolph Katter, the messenger guarding the money bags, the bandits fired again. Putting bullets through the man's arms. Then they grabbed the pouches and the entire band hopped into the parked car and sped away.

"PARADISE ALLEY" GETS NEW GRAVEL

SILVERTON, Ore., Dec. 13.—(Special)—"Paradise Alley" has been newly graveled this week. A number of residents along this road also had their private lanes graveled at the same time.

Paradise Alley lies about a mile south of Silverton and connects Waldo Hills road with the Brush Creek highway to Salem. This road is about three-quarters of a mile long and during the spring and summer months a great many Silvertonians make it a point to drive out Waldo Hills road to Paradise and cross over to Brush Creek road and back to Silverton. This makes an interesting four-mile drive all of which is paved with exception of Paradise. Silverton business men and women report that this is just a nice length drive for the evening after the day's work is done. They will undoubtedly appreciate the gravel placed on the road, as do all the Paradise Alley residents.

Alvin Krug is road master in this district.

Gangsters' Guns Silence Another In Rum Warfare

CHICAGO, Dec. 13.—(AP)—The rum runner's formula for tipsters silenced an under cover man for the federal prohibition corps Tuesday and brought a pledge of silence to the underworld.

The latest victim of the bootlegger's guns was Frank "Fat" Basile, one time peddler of liquor who paid for a parole from a prison term by turning government informer and, of late, chauffeur for the dry squad. In a prairie on the far south side they found his body early today, shot three times. They wrote him down as the fourth victim of the week in the Chicago Heights rum feud.
