

Local News Briefs

Home From O. S. C.—Hugh Adams, student at Oregon State college, is here to spend the holidays with his parents.

Mrs. Fisher Ill.—Mrs. Ellen A. Fisher, English teacher at the senior high school, was absent Friday due to a severe cold.

Ninety Cases Influenza—Ninety cases of influenza, 56 in Salem and 34 in the rest of Marion county, were reported for the first six days of the week, a check at the health center showed Friday afternoon. This is less than the total number of cases reported up to the same time last week.

Representatives Visit—Mr. and Mrs. Lynn S. McCready and E. O. Fisher of Eugene were in Salem Friday seeking apartments for the period of the legislature in which Mr. McCready and Mr. Potter will represent Linn county.

Leg is Broken—Young Robert Utter slipped on the icy pavements Thursday evening on his way home from school and received a broken leg as a result. Although restless and not comfortable by any means the young man is not in a serious condition. Robert is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Utter of 446 Oak street.

Miss Craig Resigns—Miss Euanne Craig, for many years employed in various state capacities and recently secretary to Seymour Jones, state market agent, Friday submitted her resignation to become effective January 1.

Sing Christmas Carols—The choral classes of Miss Lena Belle Tartar received an old tradition at the senior high school Friday morning when they marched through the building singing Christmas carols. The practice had been discontinued two years ago.

Goes to Corvallis—Miss Verneita Herron, teacher in the domestic science department at Parish junior high school, left late Friday afternoon to spend the holiday vacation at her home in Corvallis.

Flu Cuts into Attendance—The influenza epidemic cut quite heavily into the attendance record at the senior high school for the school month ending Friday. Principal J. C. Nelson reports. The attendance percentage for the past month was low with only 88.9 per cent. The month ending November 23 it was 95.4 per cent.

Superintendents to Meet—County school superintendents from all counties in the state will convene at the state house Monday, December 31, for the annual convention of the group and at the same time papers for the teachers' examinations now being conducted will be graded. The convention has been called by State Superintendent C. A. Howard.

Three More Take Exams—Three additional teachers wrote on the teachers' examinations Friday, bringing the total for the week to 20, still considerably lower than the average for the examinations for years. The last sessions for this writing will be held today.

Home Over Holidays—Extra Dittchen, senior at Oregon state college, is home for over the holidays, and is spending the early part of his vacation assisting in handling the rush of holiday mail at the Salem postoffice.

Five Fatalities—There were five fatalities in Oregon due to industrial accidents during the week ending December 20, according to a report prepared by the state industrial accident commission. The victims were F. L. Richards, Lebanon, logger; H. A. Hansen, Portland, truck operator; Cyril Baker, Gresham, laborer; Grover Syron, Tillamook, powder man; and Elias Yrjonen, Portland, baker. There were a total of 778 accidents reported to the commission during the week.

Annual Progresses—Work on the Clarion annual of the senior high school is further along than it has been at this time of the year for some years. Edith Mae Jenks, editor, reported this week that all dummies will be checked immediately after the vacation. Work of taking pictures is progressing well, with all pictures to be completed by January 10.

Water Supply Established—Charles L. Ogle, prominent resident of Woodburn, Friday brought a two gallon glass jug of water to Salem for the benefit of his friends here who have been complaining about city water. "I haven't drunk Salem water for 30 years," said Ogle, who lived here in his youth. He visited justice court and the county clerk's office and called on B. W. Macy, who had started a volume of complaint against what he termed "stale vegetable soup."

Many Attend Homecoming—The annual homecoming event held Friday afternoon at the Salem high school was well attended, with 115 alumni signing the register and others in attendance. Barney Cameron, president of the student body, welcomed the alumni, to which Hugh Adams of the class of '27 responded. Lena Belle Tartar's orchestra played two selections and her chorus classes sang Christmas carols. The one-act Snikpoh production, "The Christmas Burglar," was the feature of the program. Mrs. Bernice Duncan coached the play, the four parts being taken by Wesley Heise, Lee Coe, Jean Eastridge and Stanley Price. Principal J. C. Nelson also extended a word of welcome to the homecomers.
