

TURKEY CHASE HUGE SUCCESS

Crowds Flock to Woodburn for Unique Event Arranged by Merchants

WOODBURN, Ore., Dec. 24.—(Special)—Turkeys flew in all directions here Saturday while a crowd of about 3000 thronged the streets in an effort to catch their Christmas dinner. A half dozen chickens were also released. The turkeys were thrown alternately from several buildings on Front street. John P. Hunt was in charge of the releasing of the birds, while 30 judges handled the crowd.

An M. G. M. news reel camera man took "shots" of the crowd shortly after the noon hour. Several times during the day birds were released for boys under 15 years of age, girls and people from out-of-town. Most of them were free-for-all, however.

Turkeys were caught by the following: Melvin Blanton, Brooks; Ivor Neland, Canby; Henry Foshay, Portland; Frank Nicholas, Newberg; Leonard Wolfner, Aurora; Donald Brundidge, Brooks; Fred Faulkner, Vancouver, Wash.; George Kuschnick, Gervais; Jay Norton, Frank Campenau, Dan Forentz, Gall Wengrenoth, Harold Schooler, Harold Prethuis, Carl Gustafson, Richard Wankren, Marie Choquette, Weldon Norton, Kenneth Dickinson, Ralph Palmer, Lucien Hansen, Clarence Allen, Neal Butterfield, J. E. Hough, Peter Larsen, Donald Courtney, Chester Lavier, Barbara Esby, Ida Webber, Jack Baldwin, all of Woodburn and vicinity.

Chickens were caught by Robert Wilson, Oregon City; W. Harding, Milwaukie; Clarence Connel, Aurora; Tiller Barstad, Oliver Blasehko and Malcolm Owens, of Woodburn.

Singer Comedy, Big Hit To Be Repeated Today

"Toby's Triumph" presented by the Singer Musical Stock company at the Oregon theatre Sunday and Monday proved such a hit with the patrons that the management decided to hold it over today. It is by far the best comedy presented by this popular company in many a moon and had the audience roaring in their seats from the opening of the first act to the closing curtain. Many new specialties were introduced and the big boy with the deep voice certainly puts his numbers over. Mr. Lee has just joined the company after a tour of the eastern circuits in a vaudeville act. Miss Dodge, another new member of the company has a very pleasing voice and made quite a hit. The feature picture running in conjunction with "Toby's Triumph" is "Beau Broadway" co-starring Lew Cody and Aileen Pringle. It is a sparkling vehicle of prize-fight back ground and super-smart scenes.

Spend Christmas Here—J. O. Edington of La Grande, D. L. Teter of Valseet, and Joe Smith and family of Spokane registered at the New Hotel Salem Monday.

Famous Cinema Double Coming Here Two Days

The great Maurice, death taunting performer of the movies, whose stunts, done in doubling for famous stars have been seen by every movie fan, will appear in person at the Oregon theatre Friday and Saturday, December 28 and 29, the management announced Monday.

Nearly every movie fan has seen the death defying stunts presumably done by Harold Lloyd in "Safety Last," Douglas Fairbanks in "The Sea Hawk," and Tom Mix in "The Lure of the Circus." In all of these thrillers Maurice was the fellow who turned the tricks that caused credulous spectators to fear for the lives of their favorite stars.

Free Show For Children is at Capitol Today

Christmas will mean just a little extra to the children of Salem because of the Christmas spirit exemplified by Frank Bligh, who will throw open the doors of the Capitol theatre at 10 o'clock this morning to give the youngsters a free show, featuring attractions appropriate to the day.

Mr. Bligh will also stage his 19th annual Christmas show for the inmates of the Oregon state penitentiary, at 9:30 a. m. The pictures to be shown there will be "The Submarine," and a Chaplin comedy, and some miscellaneous films.

Improvement is Made at School

Workmen at the senior high school building Monday began the work of making a doorway from the downstairs hall to the new janitor's office at the west end of the building. G. W. Smalley, head janitor said that he was well pleased with the new arrangement. The new office and storeroom are much closer to the street than the old one, and the work of transferring supplies to the storeroom will be much easier with the new storeroom.

equator from Rio de Janeiro about 100 miles off the Brazilian coast. The Utah averaged about 18 knots over a smooth sea in today's voyage.

But a strong breeze prevailed which alleviated the tropical heat and Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and other members of their party were able to rest comfortably on the quarterdeck. An awning was stretched over the deck which sheltered them from the sun.

Mrs. Hoover devoted part of the day to sorting and arranging the mass of flowers sent aboard to her at Rio by officials of the Brazilian government and a number of American residents of the Brazilian capital. She also made final preparations for the Christmas day celebration which will include a dinner to the Hoover party and ship's officials.

their own homes. "So many gifts of fruit, nuts, apples, etc., were brought to the hall, that it was impossible to get all the names and thank them each one personally or through the Statesman day by day," Williams said, "so we would like at this time to thank everyone who had anything to do with this year's effort; first, Earl Brownlee and Sheldon Sackett of the Statesman, who were so generous with their front page space, and then the Rotary and Lions clubs who contributed so splendidly, all the folks who mailed in their checks, those who dropped money in the kettles, and also the large number of firms and individuals who contributed supplies for the boxes."

"To sum it all up," the captain says, "it has all been very wonderful, my people are all 'tired but happy,' and we want the public to know that the Army does deeply appreciate the confidence which the contributing public has expressed towards our organization."

All the parcel post delivery trucks were at work Sunday, the first time that the Salem office has worked on Sunday in many years, according to Mr. Giffard. Twenty extra carriers were on duty Monday to clean up the large volume of Christmas mail. Postal workers declared that lack of working room was a considerable hindrance to their work, and that more room would have enabled them to render more efficient service. The peak load of parcels was sent out on Thursday, and the peak load of letters on Friday. The volume of incoming mail, both parcels and letters, was greatest on Sunday, especially in the evening. Although exact figures were not available, Mr. Giffard reported that the machine count of Christmas mail was slightly higher this year than last year.
