

HOLIDAY PROGRAMS GIVEN AT CHURCHES

HUBBARD, Ore., Dec. 27.—(Special)—Special Christmas programs were held in the churches at Hubbard.

At the Methodist church, on the evening of December 22nd, the Christmas story was beautifully pantomimed, Mr. and Mrs. Claypool taking the parts of Joseph and Mary; John Yoder, Delmer Claypool, and David McArthur appearing as the three wise men; Mildred Ott, Mildred Van Buren and Eleanor Johnson, beautifully costumed, represented the angels; and Elliot Johnson and Roy Claypool took the part of the shepherds.

The music was directed by Mrs. Margaret McMannis and the pantomine by the Rev. and Mrs. Briggs. Messrs. Rev. Briggs, Dr. Peterson, Ed Wolfer and W. McMannis, members of a quartette, and the song by four little girls in white carrying lighted candles, added much to the program. Following the program a tree and candy treat delighted the children.

At the Congregational church Sunday evening, a fine program consisting of special music, recitations, and a talk by Rev. W. C. Kantner, the local pastor, were enjoyed while a treat to the little ones found special favor.

Christmas services were held at the St. Agnes Catholic church, Tuesday morning. The special music and services were under the supervision of Rev. Father Jonas, the local pastor.

A California crusader advocates "axes for night clubs." But it is our opinion that having gotten hardened to night club liquor, the patrons of the average club a battle axe.

Farmer Dies On Way Home From Service Station

WACONDA, Ore., Dec. 27.—(Special)—Edward Wood, a farmer living near Waconda, dropped dead near a service station just north of Waconda, last Saturday morning, while on his way home from the service station. Mr. Wood is survived by his widow, Mrs. Della Wood, and two small daughters, Lela and Frances Wood. He also leaves five brothers and three sisters. The funeral services and interment were in Portland.

Mrs. Willard Ramp of Brooks was a guest of her aunt, Mrs. I. A. Loren, recently. Other guests at the Loren home recently were Mr. and Mrs. Reylets of Salem, Mrs. Ray Jones, who has been quite ill at her home near Wa-

Waconda Group Meets at Home Of Mrs. Collins

WACONDA, Ore., Dec. 27.—(Special)—The Waconda community club was entertained at the home of Mrs. A. L. Collins recently. The Collins home was decorated in keeping with the holiday season. After the regular business meeting the hostess served refreshments to the following guests: Mrs. Al Lamb, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Wade, Mrs. Francis Nusom, Mrs. Sil Ware, Mrs. Richard Patterson, Mrs. Allyn Nusom and son Donald, Mrs. Ray Barker and daughter Leona Mae and Jeanette Barker, Mrs. George Lemery, Mrs. Runcorn, Mrs. William McGilchrist, Mrs. I. Masons and Star Install Officers

GERVAIS, Ore., Dec. 27.—(Special)—The Masonic and Eastern Star lodges jointly installed their officers on Thursday evening in the Masonic hall with the Star acting as host to the Masons. M. D. Henning and Ronald Jones were the installing officers for the Masons.

The following officers were installed: Reece Jones, worshipful master; Harold Aspinwall, senior warden; Arthur Keene, junior warden; A. B. Minaker, secretary; Jarvis Cutsforth, treasurer; Pierre Aspinwall, senior deacon; Chester Keene, junior deacon; Harvey Gilrod, senior steward; Clarence Sawyer, tyler; Bradford Miller, chaplain.

Cow Tree Real Thing Declares Noted Explorer

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Samuel J. Record, wood technologist on the staff of the field museum, has returned from Central America bringing with him a sample of milk and wood from the Guatemalan cow tree.

The milk is palatable and tastes and looks much like cow's milk. Record said that a "dairy" of cow trees would be practical. He added, however, that the tree might be used more profitably in the manufacture of chewing gum.

The following were installed in the Star by Miss Verna Keppinger and Mrs. George Ramp: Mrs. G. T. Wadsworth, worthy matron; Mrs. Ralph Sturges, associate matron; Miss Amy Harding, conductress; Mrs. D. Aspinwall, associate conductress; John Harper, worthy patron; Mrs. George Ramp, treasurer; Mrs. John Harper, secretary. Those appointed by the worthy matron are: Clara Ellsworth, Adah; Edith Aspinwall, Ruth; Clara Fuller, Esther; E. Ailsup, Martha; E. Dittmar, Electa; Pearl Stevens, warden; Pierre Aspinwall, sentinel; C. A. Sawyer, marshal; Clara Jones, chaplain; Viola Henning, pianist.

Miss Verna Keppinger, junior past matron, was presented with a past matron's pin at the close of the installation, which was a gift of the chapter. Miss Fern Wadsworth gave two vocal solos and Miss Kreta Fae Ashbaugh gave two readings, which were much enjoyed.
