Woodburn Association Holds Annual Meeting and Enjoys Entertainment

WOODBURN, Ore., Jan. 14.—(Special)—The annual meeting of the Woodburn Fruit Growers association was held in the high school auditorium Saturday.

The report of the secretary, manager, Ray J. Glatt, showed that during the past year the association handled 3,454,793 pounds of fruit, for which it paid to growers, $189,584.31. A total of 931 acres in under contract of the organization.

Pruning Stressed

The importance of pruning log-berries canes to increase the size and quality of the berry was stressed by Secretary Glatt. He urged maintenance of a consistent acreage in strawberries.

It was announced that orders for commercial fertilizer will be taken at the Bank of Woodburn on Saturday, January 26. Mr. Butterfield, as president of the chamber of commerce, urged farmers to join the organization in order to further community cooperation. Prof. Clayton Long of O. S. C. and Eugene Courtney of Woodburn spoke at the morning business session.

Menu Furnished

At noon a lunch was served to nearly 500 persons, business men of the town having been invited. The menu was especially interesting in that it was furnished and prepared by several local and out-of-town firms. The Ray-Brown company furnished frozen strawberries, the local branch of the Oregon Packing company furnished pickles; C. G. Lawrence of the Fisher flour company baked short-cake and "hot dogs"; the Certo corporation furnished jelly; and P. H. Entler, representing Folger's coffee, made the coffee. Mrs. Helen M. Guiss, domestic science leader at the high school, and her class, served the lunch. The high school band furnished music at the lunch hour.

Auditorium Filled

The auditorium was packed for the afternoon program which was conducted by Ray Gratt.

Peter, David and Mark Saucy sang several Swiss songs and yodeling numbers. George Heaman, of Salem, entertained with several medleys and popular numbers on the accordion.

Dean J. R. Jewell of the vocational education department of O. S. C. talked on "What Strangers Think of Our Country."
