LIONS RAISE CASH FOR BLAZE RELIEF

MONMOUTH, Jan. 17.—(Special)—Monmouth's Lions club, numbering 27 members, raised $125 in cash in less than 15 minutes at their weekly luncheon Wednesday to augment the local relief fund for women students of Oregon Normal School who lost all or part of their clothing and school books in the fire here January 1, which destroyed the student home of Mrs. Minnie Mack at 517 E. Jackson street, and resulted in the death of three young women students.

Monmouth Lions issued a challenge to Independence Lions for a basketball game to take place in the near future as a preliminary to an Oregon normal school basketball game, the proceeds to be added to the student relief fund.

Harry Scott of Salem, deputy district governor of Oregon Lions clubs, with 4 other Salem members, who are sponsoring promotion of an attendance contest between Salem, Stayton, Independence and Monmouth clubs for the ensuing two months, addressed the meeting concerning plans for the contest. Charles King of Monmouth was featured in a cornet solo.

MOTHERS OF LOST "DALLAS SPIRIT" FLYERS MEET

Two mothers met recently in Oakland, Cal., to see homage paid to their sons, but the occasion was not a joyous one, for they are the mothers of Capt. Bill Erwin and his navigator, Alvin Eichwaldt, who sank into the Pacific during a futile attempt to rescue the lost Dole flyers who had set out for Hawaii. Mrs. Erwin was asked to take part in the dedication of an American Legion post bearing her son's name, and Mrs. Eichwaldt to assist at the formal opening of a memorial park set aside in honor of her son. Above, left, Capt. Erwin; the ill-fated "Dallas Spirit," which carried the flyers to their graves; the two mothers at Oakland airport, with Guy M. Turner, airport superintendent, and Eichwaldt, as he kissed his mother goodbye before taking off.

Fall Grain Shows Signs of Thrifty Yield at Labish

LAKE LABISH, Jan. 17.—(Special)—The fall sown grain here is green and thrifty in every field. A large acreage and better prospects than ever await farmers, it is reported.

The large planted acreage is due, to some degree, to the use of tractors employed here on the large farms, enabling the work to be completed early.

STRAWBERRY CROP FUTURE DISCUSSED

NORTH HOWELL, Jan. 17.—(Special)—Members of the North Howell Strawberry association have held two meetings in the school house recently to discuss various phases of this growing industry. More than 200 acres of Sterburg strawberries are now planted in this locality and more are being asked for. The industry has assumed such proportions and so many different growers and canneries are interested that a more definite organization seems necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. George Vinton and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Wiesner visited Turner grange last Saturday. The women are members of the Marion county installation team and will assist in presenting the work at Salem grange next Saturday. The losers in the grange attendance contest gave the program and an oyster supper to the winners last Friday evening. After Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jones of McCleary had installed the officers the meeting was turned over to Mr. Archie Wiesner, chairman of the program committee. The program included short speeches by Ellis Stevens, Ernest Wiesner, Mr. and Mrs. Al Cline, W. J. Jefferson, Willard Stevens, J. E. Waltman, Fred Beer, E. B. Fletcher and Bertha Wiesner. Mr. Fletcher read a poem dedicated to pioneer growers. A novel vaudeville skit by Tom Bump and Mrs. Eason was a decided success. The men among the losers sang to the winners, "They ain't goin' to win no more." Supper and a social hour followed. Leaders for the next contest are Kenneth Coomler and L. A. Eason.
