REAL FIGHT LOOMS UPON CRUISER BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Senate leaders decided today to force the issue on the Cruiser Construction bill which its proponents insist is in the throes of a filibuster.

An informal understanding was reached by the leaders with those in charge of the appropriation bills to permit the naval measure to come before the senate upon disposition of the pending deficiency appropriation bill and to allow time for a real test of strength.

This program, tentatively agreed to today at a conference of party leaders, temporarily dispenses with the usual practice of allowing supply bills full right of way in the senate regardless of the regular "unfinished business."

Supporters of the naval bill which is strongly opposed by the republican independents, are confident they can wear down the opposition in a contest on the floor. If necessary, they may seek the closure rule limiting debate but they are not talking of this yet and only want to resort to this as a last move.

So far, all talk of filibuster has been taboo publicly, but when Senator Blaine, republican, Wisconsin, one of the opponents of the bill, spoke for more than two hours this afternoon on the proposed prohibition increase the naval measure's proponents made the charge privately of a filibuster.

Strangely enough the opponents of the bill providing for 15 cruisers and an airplane carrier have not yet spoken against it. All debate on the bill has been consumed by its supporters. But the persistent manner in which the measure's opponents talk on everything else coming before the senate has prompted some of the navy men to make the charge of a filibuster.

However, Senator Curtis, of Kansas, the republican leader, who conferred today with the party wheel-horses on the situation believed there was no determined filibuster and declared his belief that things would work out all right.

Makes Western Mother Proud

Don't let constipation and its attendant ailments, such as headaches, biliousness, feverishness, fretfulness, sallow "broken-out" skin, etc., pull your child down and make her puny, listless and underweight. At the first sign of bad breath, coated tongue or feverishness, give her a little California Fig Syrup.

Children love the rich, fruity flavor of California Fig Syrup, and it never fails to start lazy bowels quick, cleanse them thoroughly and give tone and strength to them and to the stomach so these organs continue to act normally, of their own accord. It stimulates the appetite, helps digestion, makes rosy cheeks, bright eyes, helps build up and strengthen children.

A well-known Colorado mother, Mrs. L. V. Thompson, 3350 East Colfax Ave., Denver, says: "My little daughter, Anamae, suffered from constipation until I thought it was going to keep her delicate genuine. Look for the name fast when I started her on California Fig Syrup. In a few days it made a world of difference in her looks and actions. Now I'm proud as I can be of her; she's so ruddy, strong and plump."

Over four million bottles used a year shows the popularity of the always. She was losing weight "California" on the carton, so you won't get a substitute.—adv.
