BURNETTS GIVE LARGE TROPHY

Mineralite Sphere Experts to Vie; Cash Prizes Are Also Offered

BOWLERS of Salem are offered today an opportunity to engage in a new type of competition when the New Oregon Statesman bowling handicap race is inaugurated on the Winter Garden alleys.

The grand prize in this individual handicap race is an exceptionally handsome trophy offered by Burnett Bros., jewelers; a silver replica of a bowling ball mounted on a pedestal, the trophy standing about two feet high. This will be a perpetual trophy, to be held each year by the winner until the following year's derby is terminated, until some player shall have won it three times. In addition there will be ten cash prizes. A small entry fee will be charged.

Full handicaps will be allowed on a basis of 180 scratch; the handicaps to be figured from averages in league play. This will give a considerable advantage to players in the derby. In view of the fact that they are improving steadily in their play while the City and Club League players have smaller opportunity to increase their scores.

Tournament Rules. The matches will be bowled on a basis of nine total pins, tournament style, three games to be bowled at each competition, on at least two alleys and with at least one pacer. At the end of two weeks, ten percent of the players will be dropped, and further eliminations will proceed until only two players are left in the tournament, when a grand final singles match will be staged.

Reports of the standings in this tournament will be tabulated in The Statesman each Sunday morning.

Today the intercity match will be at 1:30 p. m. between a Eugene team and the McKay Chevrolet bowlers. Next Sunday a local team will go to Portland for the first of a home and home series with one of the city's leading teams. A practice match in preparation for this will be held Friday.

Half Season Ends. The Bankers league ended its first half schedule Friday night with the Capitol theatre quintet holding first place by a wide margin. All other leagues have started the second half. Contrary to an erroneous statement in Tuesday's Statesman, the Schel's Men's Wear team won from the Man's Shop team Monday night, instead of vice versa.

SPORTS Oregon Statesman EVENTS

TWO FIGHTERS TAKE IT EASY

Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling Not Much Interested in Work

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 2.—(AP)—There may be a fight scheduled here between Jack Sharkey and W. L. (Young) Stribling February 27, but neither seemed to be aware of the fact today. Sharkey, after a noisy welcome here last night, proved a disappointment to those who had expected that he would have plenty to say after arriving on the scene of the prospective encounter.

He would make no predictions regarding the fight and played golf with every indication of wanting to get on as much pleasure as possible before going to work. The Boston sailor said he would start his training the first of the week.

CHEMEKETANS PLAN MT. HOOD JOURNEY

The first annual ski and toboggan trip of the Salem Chemeketans will be held Saturday and Sunday, February 9 and 10, when the members and their friends will travel to Government Camp on Mt. Hood, where the week end will be spent at the camp hotel, which has been reserved for the Chemeketans, Ben Rickli, in charge of arrangements, announced Saturday.

The annual Chemeketan event was originally planned to have been held at Swin, but advance registration clearly showed that facilities there would be inadequate for the crowd that expects to go.

The party, according to present plans, will leave the Y. M. C. A. in cars at 1:30 o'clock Saturday, going in a caravan to Oregon City and then on the East Side highway and to Government Camp via Borling, arriving at the camp about 5 o'clock. It will be impossible to make the trip in buses, and because of this Mr. Rickli is particularly anxious that persons who have a care to use for the trip let him know as soon as possible.

Missionaries Loom Up As Outstanding Contenders For Northwest Hoop Title

Examinations over and done with if not for the Willamette university basketball team Monday will have the fastest and smoothest workin' team turned out at the local institution in at least eight years.

Within the last two weeks, despite the examination bugaboo, the Willamette team has finally welded itself into a scoring unit, with Scales, spectacular forward who broke into the game here this year, working smoothly with his new team mates. Previously Scales had starred in long range shooting but was more or less at sea as to what the rest of the team was doing.

Veterans Numerous. The Whitman team which comes here Thursday and Friday has practically the same personnel which defeated Willamette for the Northwest conference championship last year, and includes a number of players who tied with Willamette for the title two years ago. Whitman, by the way, claimed that title also by virtue of a couple of extra games with College of Idaho, but they weren't official.

Tom Wood, playing his fourth year at Whitman, has been the "Missionaries" scoring ace again this year, while Wally Holmgren, center, is the fulcrum of their attack and an outstanding player both on offense and defense. Fix is Wood's running mate at forward, and Applegate, Croxdale and Howe have been alternating in the guard positions. Robbins is another scoring threat at forward, sometimes starting instead of Fix.

Stars of the scrappy team are George, forward, center, and Perdue, guard. Prettyman and C. Moore are likely to be the other star players, and they are close to teammates in ability.

INDIANS THREATEN S. H. S. TITLE HOPE

Whether the threat of a new high school basketball supremacy in the local district is a state high school athletic association thought to be a possibility, the admission of Chemeketan school to the association is expected to be a factor in the play their first district game Monday night.

The Indians have been games with remarkable poise in recent weeks after a poor start. Their last triumph over Woodburn high school on 21 to 15 Friday night has been making a good start all season, and Chemeketan's victory is indicative that Chemeketan's men have been gaining and shooting accuracy to a remarkable extent.

Salem high is still undefeated in a district game, and presents the only serious threat to the locals' ambitions to win the state tournament one year.

Just as the cake of ice melts under the sun, so time and weather disintegrate the mightiest works of man. Only provision for maintenance and repair, can protect them.

Cemeteries can make provision for perpetual maintenance by establishing a fund whose income is only available for the expenses of their upkeep.

The laws of Oregon guard this fund.

Families move away—this fund remains.

Cemeteries fill up and pass the period when they have an operating income. This fund continues to provide money for their care.

Only when the whole cemetery is endowed is perpetual care adequate. Care of isolated portions is unsatisfactory when their surroundings are waste.
