VALENTINES

The spirit of St. Valentine's day is the spirit of youth, therefore in compliment to a delightful a saint three busy Salem maids are presented who have cleverly contributed and will continue to contribute to immediate society events. Miss Gertrude Winslow recently played a solo piano recital of unusual character before a small group especially invited for the occasion at the home of Mrs. William Burghardt. Miss Caroyl Braden was a charming young hostess for two evenings of bridge the guest lists for which included a goodly number of future society matrons. And finally Miss Evelyn Ross will entertain Wednesday in honor of the good saint himself whose birthday is commemorated February 14, and in celebration of her own birthday which falls on February 13.

South Salem People Give Original Party

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pruitt entertained a large group of their neighbors at a house warming in their newly-remodeled home in southeast Salem Heights Wednesday evening.

The evening was spent in games, music, and reading. Among those who contributed to the entertainment of the evening were Mrs. Peter Cooper at the piano accompanying Mr. Cooper's violin solo, later joined by William Ball with his guitar and Elvin Pruitt with his banjo. Mr. Skelton and Mr. Pruitt both gave a number of readings and solos. Miss Neva Stolze and Mrs. B. F. Helkel also sang solos. Miss Marjorie Pruitt played a piano solo. Novelty harmonica numbers were given by Glendon Van Duke and Virgil Clemens, the latter accompanied by Miss Pruitt, and a guitar number by Mr. Ball. An instrumental group of piano, saxophone, and banjo played by Mrs. Pruitt, Harry, and Elvin was especially well received.

After the entire group had sung gospel songs, led by Mrs. Helkel and Mr. Pruitt, refreshments were served in a charming, informal fashion.

The guests for the evening included Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Inger, Mrs. Elvin La Duke and Glendon, Marie and Roy Rothermel, Mr. and Mrs. William Ball and their family, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. P. Professor Peck Speaks Before Women's Club

SPEAKING before the Salem Woman's club Saturday afternoon Prof. A. L. Peck of Oregon State college expressed some opinions which were valuable to his interested listeners. He pointed out that there are "two things to be considered in regard to a garden—one is the arrangement and the other is the horticultural factor." Of these two he emphasized the fact that arrangement was by far the most important in matter of serious consideration.

"Gardens," said Prof. Peck, "are outdoor living rooms." He warned that choosing the border and general arrangement of this "outdoor" living room was as important as choosing the wallpaper for the home living room, but he added, "the garden living room has the advantage in view of the fact that seasonal changes make all the necessary furnishing for it."

Prof. Peck pointed out the fact that rock gardens were intriguing to work with but that there was grave danger in them being overdone and that if they did not possess logical landscape effects they were a flat failure.

Old fashioned flowers were lauded by Prof. Peck and recommended as a highly satisfactory flower to place in any garden. He gave a bit of something to speculate upon when he suggested that gardens changed with the development of the owners taste. The lecture closed with the informal twenty-minute discussion between club members and the speaker concerning gardening in general.

At the business meeting, Miss Gertrude Savage was voted in as a new member and Mrs. E. C. Cross gave a report concerning the work that had been done by a committee at large concerning the formation of a hospital auxiliary to function in connection with the Salem General hospital. Mrs. Cross pointed out the fact that nearly all cities the size of Salem have such an auxiliary. A meeting to perfect these plans will be held February 19 at two o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The American Home planning committee is planning a benefit in the near future to supplement the work that the county federation is doing for the benefit of the Farm Home Children, which is a major project of the Federation.

Mrs. Martin Ferry accompanied by Mrs. Monroe Gilbert delighted her audience with two vocal numbers.

Salem Hospital Auxiliary Plans Made

A committee composed of Mrs. E. O. Cross, chairman, Mrs. Charles Spaulding, and Mrs. C. S. Hamilton have been appointed as a committee at large to work out plans for an auxiliary to the Salem General hospital. The auxiliary will be composed of Salem women without regard to club or church affiliations and is for the direct promotion of aid to the Salem General hospital.

It is reported that nearly all cities the size of Salem have such auxiliaries. February 19 a mass meeting of all Salem women interested in the hospital is called at the chamber of commerce at which time plans will be further developed for the perfection of this auxiliary.

The Mispah Sunday school class of the First Baptist church will meet with Mrs. L. G. Prescott, 1785 North Capitol street Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There will be an election of officers.

St. Paul Benefit Card Party Tuesday Night

The teachers of the St. Paul's Sunday school will give a benefit bridge party in the parish hall Tuesday evening.

Reservations for the bridge may be made by calling any one of the following: Edith Victor, Edith Bragg, Jennie Thompson, and Jennie Lanning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cooley entertained at a Valentine dinner for 12 in their home on North Summer street Saturday evening. Dinner was followed with bridge as the diversion of the evening.

Social Forecasts Of Approaching Events

THIS week is to be one round of events for old and young alike for clubs, society, and lodges. If Dame Rumor has anything like a correct interpretation of the future plans.

Monday afternoon the L'Heur Gate and the P. M. clubs are each planning bridge affairs. The once-a-month meeting of the formal Monday Night dancing club will gather at Castilian hall for its usual delightful evening with good music and much merriment. The young folk plan to make merry with several tables of bridge at the G. L. Newton home.

The Daughters of the Nile are planning a dance and bridge for visiting McMinnville Daughters, and several dinner parties will preface this affair of Tuesday night. Mrs. J. C. Perry and Mrs. Elmer Deane are planning an Elk's club party for that day and there is Barbra Fritsch's Tent No. 2 which is giving a delightful formal tea at the Woman's club house in the afternoon.

The rest of the week only grows more exciting. The Thursday club will entertain with one of the most elaborate teas of the season at the home of Mrs. C. P. Bishop, a beautiful dance is planned for out-of-town. Miss Winifred Byrd plays in Corvallis February 14, a brilliant and outstanding event of the week, more young folk bridge parties are scheduled, and still more dances; and these are only the beginning.

It will be a very feminine world who will greet the coming of Lent and quiet for a brief six weeks.

Mrs. Marie Flint McCall will leave for Corvallis Monday where she will remain for Monday, the state Grange lecturers school is in progress at the Oregon State college. Mr. James P. Farmer national lecturer will be present as will John Bradford, national playground and game specialist. Much of interest is expected from this meeting.

The Woman's Foreign Missions society of the First Methodist church will meet in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. J. H. Baker and Mrs. F. C. DeLong. Mrs. J. R. Trindle will be the presiding officer of the afternoon.

Mrs. Benjamin Blatchford will be in charge of the devotions and Mrs. J. M. Cannon will lead in the mission study lesson for the afternoon.

Special musical numbers will be given by Miss Josephine Albert who will sing a group of solos and Miss Mayre Fletcher who will play a number of violin solos.

Mrs. R. L. Farmer will act as the chairman for the tea hour, assisted by Mrs. E. T. Barnes, Mrs. Jacob Rise, and Mrs. W. T. Rigdon.

"Rosamunde" Will Be Presented By Chorus

The advanced chorus class of the Salem high school will present "Rosamunde" by Franz Schubert for their annual operating performance Friday evening, March 1. The beautiful "Rosamunde," though simplified and adapted to high school use, is very similar to the original opera and the music includes many of Schubert's most famous songs.

The following cast has been chosen: Frederick, Prince of Candia, Homer Smith, Jr.; Fulgentius, King of Cyprus, Kenneth Abbott; Albanus, Lord of Cyprus, Richard Smart; Benedict, Lord of Cyprus, Fritz Ammann; Leonardo, Lord of Cyprus, Joe King; Philimon, shepherd, William Mosher; Philander, shepherd, Glavin Barham.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ross entertained the Luck "60" club in their home Tuesday evening. High score of the evening was won by Jo Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sheldon will entertain the club at its next meeting.

Members of the D. E. club met Wednesday evening for their regular business meeting in McCornack hall. Bridge was the diversion of the evening.

Mrs. W. S. Quackenbush, who is planning to leave soon to make her home in Tillamook, was presented with a lovely token from the club members.

Peter's Adventures

FEAR-NO-HARM looked much ashamed and a little bit nervous before he suddenly poked out his head from beneath his mother's wing and chirped from beneath his mother's wing and chirped in a distressed way.

"I want a drink, I want a drink! Oh, mother you don't know how thirsty I am!" At his words all the children cried:

"So am I, and I and I," and one little fellow added in a squeaky voice:

"Gooch, I could drink more than a hundred acorns full!" Mother Grouse laughed.

"Let one of my babies wish for a thing and every one of his brothers and sisters are certain to want it," said she to the boy, then turning to her brood.

"DON'T BE THIRSTY, MOTHER, I COULD FEAR-NO-HARM TALK NEVER TALK SO AGAIN!"

"But we must have sense and not think just because we know and love him that we dare believe in the kindness of all the Two-Legs. He himself has told us to hide the moment we see one coming. Are we going to do as he says, children?"

"Quit, quit, quit! yes, yes, yes," answered the little Grouse in a snoring, and both Peter and the mother bird smiled with relief.
