Freshmen Fare Less Happily Than Upperclassmen, Lack Of Proper Methods of Study

With the completion of the first semester of the 1928-29 school year at Willamette university, R. A. McCully, university registrar, has made a comparison of the average grades of freshmen and grades of their upperclass schoolmates. For the grades of the freshmen Mr. McCully took the term grades in English, Bible history and College Life, three courses required of every Willamette student. Upperclassmen's averages were made from all grades in all subjects.

The registrar's figures indicate that the Freshman is at some disadvantage in his new courses, new method of studying, and in many cases new modes of living. In English five per cent, in Bible history four per cent, and in College Life 14 per cent of the freshman made grade A. Ten per cent of all upperclassmen's grades were A. Of upperclassmen's grades, 35 per cent were B, and 36 per cent were C. Both grades are of high or standing than mere passing grades. The freshmen grades averaged 36 per cent B, but only 28 per cent C.

In passing grade of D totaled 14 per cent of the upperclassmen's averages, and nearly 18 per cent of the freshmen's rating. Failure marked only five per cent of the upperclass grades, but made an average of 10 per cent with the beginners. Upperclassmen scored 81 per cent of the three grades above mere passing; freshmen had 72 per cent of their grades in the high quality division. In the college of Liberal Arts, 2370 grades were given to 496 students.

The long awaited case William Sheridan vs. Fred Willig came on for trial Monday as the first case on the circuit court docket in the February term. Sheridan is suing for $7500 as administrator of the estate of James Sheridan, who was killed in an auto accident north of Salem last fall. The case is based on the contention that the truck which was involved in the crash with Sheridan's car belonged to Willig and that the driver of the truck was responsible for the accident.

The plaintiff occupied most of the day putting on his case. Another full day will be consumed before the evidence is all in, according to predictions made Monday. Since today, Lincoln's birthday, is a legal holiday, the jury is expected to get the case late Wednesday.

An investigation was made Saturday after the accident occurred, but no criminal charge was filed against the driver of the truck, Williamson was a sailor in the U. S. navy and was home on furlough. He was in company with a girl at the time of the fatal accident. The girl escaped with her life, although she was badly shaken.

The advent of a new arrival in the family is invariably an occasion of great rejoicing and joy; but when the expected little one is coming in the winter time, to a poor family, already large, where it takes all the father's wages to feed the eight children, mother and himself; nothing being left for warm clothing, the prospect is not such an enjoyable one.

KIDDLE EXPLAINS CUT IN LICENSE TAX

An average reduction of 25 per cent in motor vehicle license revenue will be offset by the addition of one cent to the car-tax gasoline tax now in effect if H. B. 250 is approved by both house and senate and signed by the governor. Senator Fred Kiddle, of Ionia, explained the measure to the chamber of commerce at its Monday noon meeting.

Kiddle, who was introduced by Douglas McKay as a legislator qualified to talk on the subject he had chosen, explained that his revision of schedule for used cars had been deemed unconstitutional because of the fact that auto licenses were deemed taxes of privileges and thus necessarily shared equally by old and new cars.

Small Cars at $10 Rate—He pointed out that autos of the 1500 pound class had been scheduled for a flat $10 license charge. Cars ranging from 1800 to 3000 pounds in weight will be licensed for $22 to $40 under the provisions of the bill while cars weighing between 3100 and 4500 will take a license fee between $31 and $45.

Marked increases are provided for in the proposed law. Kiddle explained, in the charge on trucks. Fifty per cent will be added to these charges for trucks with solid tires.

Two-thirds of the revenue will go to the state and one-third to the county under the new license enactment, the counties' share having been increased to compensate them for the 25 per cent general reduction in license fees.

Senator Kiddle told the chamber that the present license fees raised $6,565,000 annually while the proposed license fees would bring $5,330,000. The one-cent gasoline tax increase is expected to provide $1,325,000, leaving $9,000 surplus over moneys now being raised.

The senate Monday passed H. B. 219, by Chincock and Collier, providing that irrigation and drainage districts shall recover the penalty and interest paid on delinquent district taxes. Heretofore the county has received these amounts.

H. B. 191, by Chindgren, was also passed. It provides a schedule of recorder's fees in counties of less than 100,000 population, changing the dividing line from 50,000 since several counties outside of Multnomah have reached or are approaching that mark.
