

MITCHELL MAY RECEIVE POST

St. Paul Man Mentioned Prominently for Attorney-General's Job

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A new name was added today to the ever-growing list of Hoover cabinet likelihoods. It is that of William D. Mitchell, of St. Paul, Minnesota, a section general of the United States, who came to the front as a probable selection for the post of attorney-general.

There was a tendency in some usually well informed quarters to discard another name from the list of possibilities, that of William J. Donovan, now assistant to the attorney general, who was recommended by some of his friends as being disinclined to accept the post of secretary of war.

Both Remain Mute
Neither President-elect Hoover nor Mr. Donovan, who returned here yesterday, and has since had two conferences with the next president, had anything to say regarding the report, but there was a widespread belief in political circles that Mr. Mitchell would be attorney-general.

Although listed as a democrat the new solicitor-general was appointed to office by President Coolidge on June 4, 1925. He was admitted to the Minnesota bar in 1896, was secretary of the federal commission of St. Paul and was regional counsel for the railroad administration in 1919 during the term of President Wilson.

Friends of Mr. Hoover said the solicitor-general had supported the next chief executive in the last election and the two are known to be friends of long standing.

"Surprise" Indicated
Those who insisted that the Minnesota man would get the post, for which Donovan long was mentioned after the election, said this would be one of the "surprise" cabinet appointments which some of those close to Mr. Hoover have predicted.

It has been reported that the president-elect invited Mr. Donovan to become secretary of war after strong opposition had developed to placing him at the head of the law enforcement department of the government. Much of this opposition came from dry leaders who regarded him as technically wet.

Upon the return of Mr. Donovan from Santa Fe, New Mexico, he was invited to the Hoover luncheon "28" here, where he had a long conference with the president-elect. Their discussions were renewed today over the breakfast table when Mr. Donovan was said to have expressed his unwillingness to hold the war portfolio.

Other Meetings Held
The conference was the first of a series which Mr. Hoover held. Senator Moses, of New Hampshire, presented Albert Hislop, republican national committeeman from the state, and Senator Hastings and Senator-elect Townsend, of Delaware, called.

The vice-president and Mrs. Dawes paid a social call. The vice president remained for luncheon but Mrs. Dawes was obliged to fulfill a previous engagement. The postmaster-general and Mrs. New have been invited for luncheon tomorrow.

SENATE APPROVES COOPERATION BILL

Cooperation between the states of Oregon and Washington with relation to the collection of royalties on sand and gravel taken from the Columbia river, is provided in a bill introduced by Representative McAllister, which passed the senate Tuesday. A similar bill has been introduced in the Washington legislature.

The collection of royalties on sand and gravel taken from the Columbia river has caused the land boards of the states of Oregon and Washington considerable trouble during the past few years. At the request of the Oregon land board an investigation was conducted a few months ago to determine how much sand and gravel had been taken from the Columbia river by Oregon operators.

The report of the investigators showed that a large amount of money was dug the state of Oregon from the Williams river. The sand and gravel operators would not admit liability, but offered to compromise with the state land board in connection with materials taken from the Columbia river. This compromise offer is now before the Oregon land board. The McAllister bill provides a method whereby these royalties may be collected and gives the Oregon land board authority to assign its claims to the state of Washington.

A joint memorial offered by Senator Eberhard urges congress to approve the McAllister bill granting certain reserved lands located in the national forests to the state of Oregon for the erection, equipment and maintenance of public buildings.

Appointment of a committee of 12 members to conduct an interim investigation with relation to the costs of water transportation in Oregon, was authorized in a concurrent resolution introduced by Senators Bennett, Corbett and Up-ton. Three members of the committee were appointed by the president of the senate, five members by the speaker of the house and five members by the governor.

MRS. EDNA SHARP AGAIN CONFESSES

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Edna Sharp, 28, awaiting arraignment on a charge of kidnaping 4-year-old Doris Smith-Murphy, made another confession today and five minutes later repudiated it.

Her penchant for confessions, police said, has not changed their minds as to her guilt and they will press the charges of child stealing whether Mrs. Sharp stands by her original story of the kidnaping or not.

Mrs. Sharp made her fourth confession today in the presence of Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson, her attorney, Byron Parker, and newspaper reporters. She declared the grandmother of baby Doris, Mrs. Nellie Grotius, to be the kidnaper and not herself. Mrs. Grotius also known as Mrs. Wason, with whom she was acquainted, she said, gave her the baby to care for until she (Mrs. Grotius) could arrange to keep the child in her Berkeley home.

"Mrs. Grotius asked me to do mind the baby because her family were not fit to have her," Mrs. Sharp told her questioners. "She said she would return for Doris but she didn't and after I'd waited a week, I got nervous and told Mr. Bidwell who told the police."

Newspapers had just gone to press with details of the new confession when Mrs. Sharp tearfully repudiated it.

THE LAXATIVE WITH HIGHEST ENDORSEMENT

When you get out of bed feeling headachy, sluggish, weak, half-sick, here's a simple measure that will have you feeling yourself again in a jiffy.

Take a little Phillips Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water or lemonade. Two to four tablespoonfuls is the usual adult dose. Taken in lemonade, Phillips Milk of Magnesia acts like citrate of magnesia. Take it like this an hour before breakfast. By the time you leave home, you'll be surprised by your improvement.

As a mild, safe, pleasant laxative, Phillips Milk of Magnesia has the highest medical endorsement. As an anti-acid to correct sour stomach, gas, indigestion, biliousness, it has been standard with doctors for over fifty years. To know its quick relief in digestive and eliminative troubles of men, women, children—and babies—is to keep a bottle always handy.

Full directions for all its uses come with every bottle. All drug stores have the generous 25c and 50c sizes.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.—adv.

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But child illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of his 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing a simple laxative herbs with papain. In 1893 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who come down it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

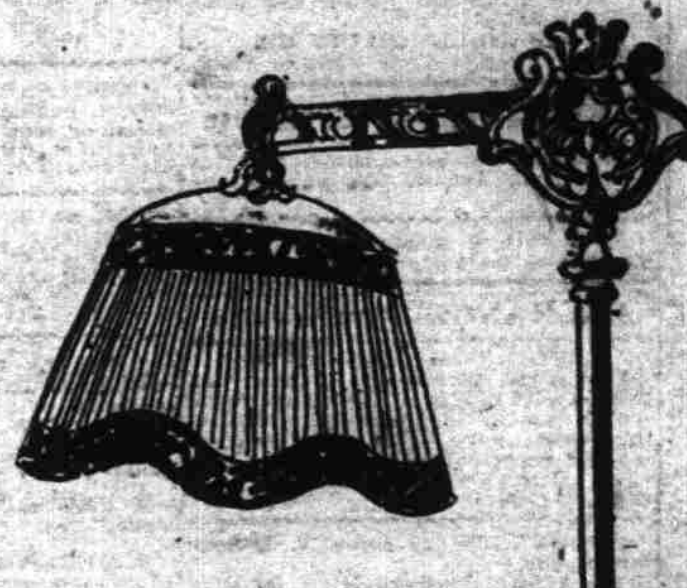

J.C. Caldwell, M.D. AT AGE 80

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed. Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.
