STIGMA UNFAIR TO T. B. CASES

Patients Not Menace Says Dr. Stricker; State Meeting Ends

Tuberculosis patients should not be looked upon as a menace or pest to the general public and a program of education should be followed to take away the stigma of the disease, Dr. Frederick D. Stricker, state health officer, told the Wednesday morning session of the two-day annual meeting of the Oregon Tuberculosis association, which came to a close Wednesday afternoon at the Estell Ford War-nor of Salem presided at the morning meeting.

Dr. Stricker pointed out that the tuberculosis death rate in Oregon is 58 per 100,000 persons as against the rate of 76 for the entire country, making this state's death rate considerably lower than at large.

Three essential steps should be followed in the control of the disease, the health officer said, listing them as follows: early diagnosis; teach sick patient to care for himself; careful follow-up of contacts with physical examinations at regular times and teaching of health living that those who have been exposed might resist the infection.

State Problems Shown
Dr. Prince Byrd, Dr. J. N. Smith, superintendent of the state institution for the feeble minded, and Dr. G. G. Bellinger, superintendent of the state tuberculosis hospital, talked on "Tuberculosis as an Institutional Problem." Dr. Bellinger traced briefly the growth of the state T. B. hospital. Inasmuch as contacts from the patients radiate all over the state and into nearly every community, the strong need is for every patient to carry out preventive measures and consider the health of others, he said.

Dr. Bellinger, too, stressed the need for a wholesome attitude of acceptance of the disease, rather than fostering the social ostracism that the patient now fears at diagnosis of tuberculosis.

New Directory Named
The report of the nominating committee was accepted without change and included the following directors who will serve until 1933: Mrs. Dan Smythe of Pendleton, Brenton Vedder of Oregon City, Robert S. Eakin of La Grande, Dr. A. C. Seeley of Roseburg, Jay H. Upton of Bond, J. Alton Thompson of Bend, President W. J. Kerr of O. S. C., Dr. George Rebec of Eugene, Dr. C. C. Bellinger of Salem, Dr. W. The city council of West Salem has passed a law prohibiting dogs to run loose or to be at large upon any of the public streets, highways or other public places, which is in the incorporated limits of the city. For violation of this ordinance dogs will be sold humanely or killed if the owner does not claim them within five days from date. Also a notice of fines and penalties will be sent when ownership of dog is known. Notice is hereby given by the city of West Salem in compliance with the law one black and white female wolf hound weighing about 25 lbs., one white male bull dog weighing about 30 lbs., two white and black male fox terriers weighing 12 lbs., one brindle part bull dog weighing about 25 lbs., one black and white spotted male dog weighing about 25 lbs.

REV. CHAMBERS TO TAKE PORTLAND POST

Acceptance of work as a city missionary in Portland has caused the resignation of Rev. H. Duncan Chambers as rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church of this city. The resignation was announced Tuesday to the vestry which has not yet acted upon the matter. The date of his leaving has not been decided upon by Rev. Chambers who wishes that his successor be secured before his departure.

Rev. Chambers came to Salem in January, 1922, and immediately launched a campaign for a new church and rectory. The church was completed early in 1923 and was consecrated free from a debt.

WIDOW OF ENSIGN IN CORPS TO SPEAK
A special meeting of the Women's Home League is to be held this afternoon at the Salvation Army hall, 241 State street, beginning at 1 o'clock.

FINANCE PLANS TO BE MADE BY LEGION
A complete budget of estimated receipts and expenditures is being prepared by Capitol Post No. 9 of the American legion as a preface to a request of local business men that they underwrite the convention to be held here in August. The legionnaires are hopeful, however, that receipts from the conclave will prevent the necessity of raising funds for a deficit although the members of the post feel it essential that the convention be underwritten.

INTEREST GROWS IN HOME MAKERS' MEET

Advance registration for the first Home Makers' conference to be held in Salem indicates much interest in the event. Miss Frances M. Wright of the state vocational education office reported Wednesday afternoon. The first of the series of six meetings will be held in room 105 of the senior high school this Thursday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock and continuing two hours.

Courses Will be Given
Each Tuesday and Thursday, Miss Grace A. Johnson and Miss M. C. Frank in charge of the two home management houses conducted at O. S. C. for the benefit of home economics students, will give the lectures. Miss Johnson will be here each Tuesday and Miss Frank for the Thursday meetings.

Practical Things Up
Practical problems of the housewife will be studied at the conference. The first hour of each session will be devoted to a lecture but the course is in no sense one for study and requires no preparation. Discussion will follow the lecture. Mimeographed summary of each lecture will be given to the women who attend. The summary will include a list of references from recent books on subjects discussed, and women interested may secure the books at the local library for further study.

Supervised Church Building
Rev. Chambers personally supervised the building operations, resulting in a church beautiful in design and efficient in arrangement.

In 1927, Governor Patterson appointed Mr. Chambers chaplain at the state penitentiary and at the boys' training school. He has served both these institutions faithfully. Rev. Chambers said Wednesday that the state has received would be of great avail in the work of Portland, and many social problems will be dealt with.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Chambers have made a wide circle of friends in Salem who regret their forthcoming departure from the city.

CLIMATE BOGEY IN TUBERCULOSIS CURE

Scientific cure, not climate, is the means of combating tuberculosis after it has once gained hold in the individual. Prevention of contagion is a more effective method of opposing the disease. This is the opinion of Dr. Marr Hisalton, medical director of the Portland Open Air sanatorium, expressed in a talk at the Salem Rotary club luncheon Wednesday.

While many persons go to Colorado or Arizona for relief, the fact is that these states are among the leaders in number of natives who contract the disease while in Oregon is one of the lowest in percentage.

Over 90 per cent of all people have traces of latent tuberculosis, but if it does not develop in childhood, there is little danger of spread. Dr. Hisalton's talk was illustrated by slides containing statistics with relation to the disease, and the remarkable methods of cure now in vogue.

He gave figures showing the steady decrease of the disease since the national association was organized in 1900, and the economic saving in human life which has resulted.

Ezra Webb Takes Job for Play Cast
OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Feb. 27.—Ezra Webb of Salem, junior in commerce, is the advertising manager for the play, "The Queen's Husband," to be given by the community drama students. The play which carries a royal atmosphere and which is costumed to fit the period and character, has been a difficult one to produce according to Miss Barnes, assistant professor in public speaking and director of dramas.

Rin-Tin-Tin Next At Bligh's Show In "Talkie" Film
Rin-Tin-Tin comes to Bligh's Capitol Friday for a two day run in his latest Warner Bros. Vitaphone talking picture, "The Millie Dellar Collar," a crook picture in which Rinty, an unwilling accomplice, frees himself and the boy and girl who have befriended him, as well as bringing the guilty to their reward.

Vitaphone whips the already swift and exciting action of the drama to a fury, furnishing sympathetic accompaniment.

The cast is composed of sterling actors, who have not previously supported the dog star. They are Matty Cope, Evelyn Pierce, Philo McCullough and Emmet Dugan. This picture will play at Bligh's Capitol theatre Friday and Saturday. Two Vitaphone acts and the Fox Movietone news complete the bill.

AMUSEMENTS WILL BE LEGION SUBJECT

Legionnaires, ten in number, met tonight at the call of Carl Gabrielson, commission chairman, to develop plans for the statewide convention to be held in Salem in August.

One of the major problems being worked out by the commission concerns the amusements to be furnished the visitors. A number of amusement companies are seeking concession privileges but as yet none of these have been granted. A tie-in with the moving picture theatres here in one form of amusement being considered by the commission.

Membership Drive On
The legion itself is busy recruiting every possible member that the goal of 1200 for Post 6 may be reached by August. A membership of 876
