

The Day's News in Pictures

A SEA COWBOY is Malcolm Pope, 18, seen riding his "bucking bronco," the Sea Horse, in a water rodeo off Winter Haven, Fla. Taking off from a platform, Pope shoots over the waves at this height.

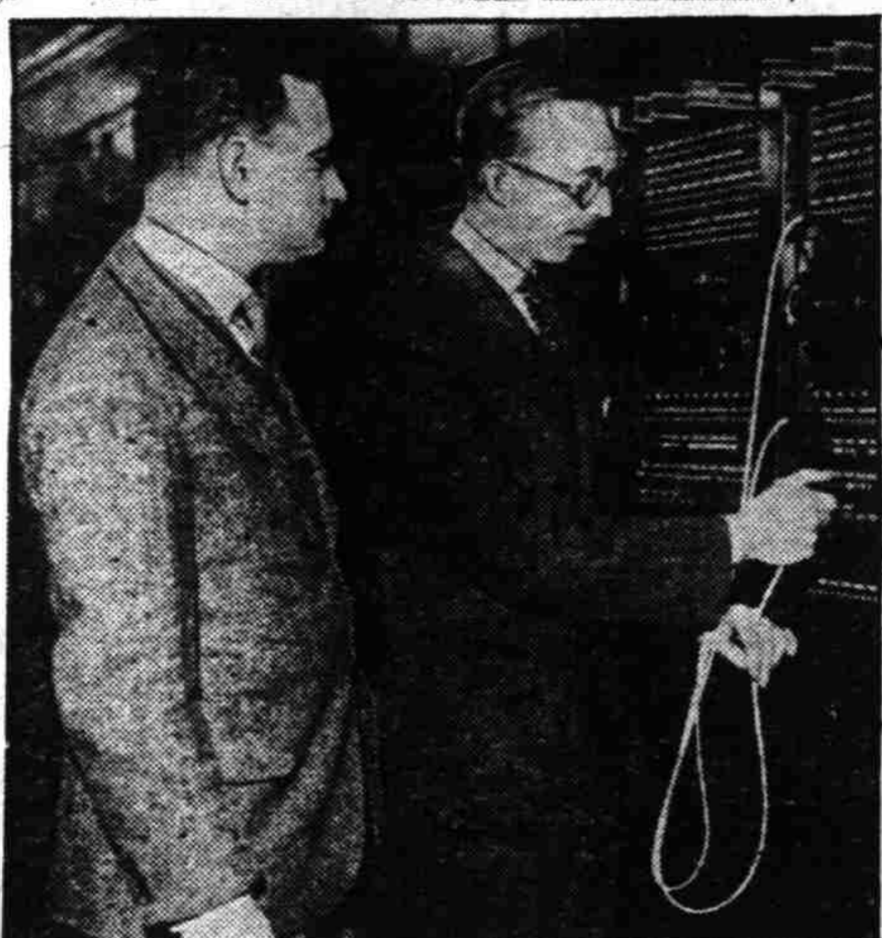

A BROADWAY SHOW-GIRL six months ago but now an Albany, N. Y., stenographer, Miss Loretta Mary Henry, above, of Rensselaer, says she plans to sue a New York taxi firm for $100,000 for injuries suffered in a crash last June while on the way to a rehearsal.

HERE'S ONE WAR Germany won. Johnny Risko, Cleveland, O., heavyweight, goes sprawling into the ropes from a short right and left hook to the chin delivered in Madison Square Garden, New York, by Max Schmeling, German heavyweight—and the fight is over. Photo shows Referee Arthur Donovan ordering Schmeling to his corner in the ninth round after awarding the tiff to the Teuton over the recumbent Cleveland baker boy.

IT TOOK A STRONG LINE to land this giant denizen of the deep. The two men shown with this huge toothless shark caught the 1,700-pound fish off Gloucester, Mass. It measures 15 feet.

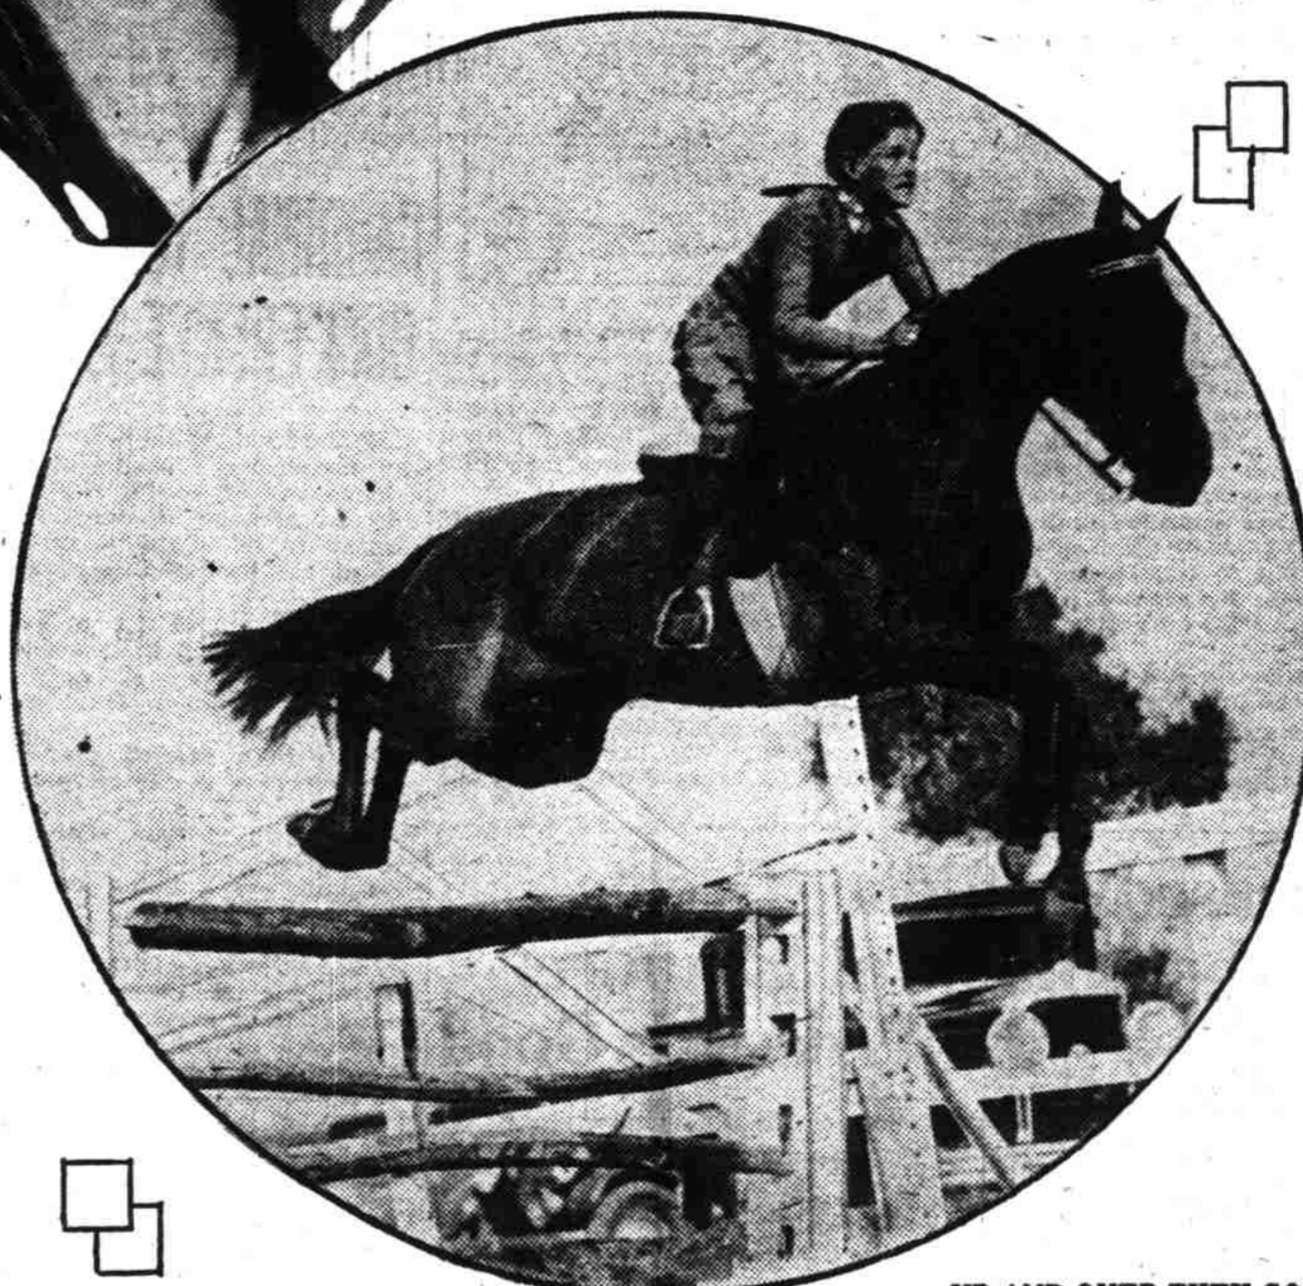

MUSIC FROM ACROSS THE SEA now tickles the ear drums of American radio listeners. Dr. Alfred N. Goldsmith, radio corporation vice president, and O. B. Hanson, broadcast company manager, are shown above at New York throwing a switch which made available for listeners throughout the United States a musical broadcast by a British radio concern at London.

CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, scion of a famous family and one-time cub reporter and newspaper magnate, now turns author. Here he is in his New York quarters grinding out a story which he says will tell all about the divorce mill.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD Frances Nevel, and her mother, Mrs. Clarence J. Grant, of Riverside, N. J., who said she would take court action against Frances' teacher, in a school there, on a charge of sealing the little girl's mouth at school in this manner. The teacher has resigned.

UP AND OVER THEY GO—Buddie Armstrong and his steed, Sun Briar, show folks how to take hurdles at an annual children's horseshow at Pasadena, Cal.

HIS AIM WAS TOO PERFECT, so Leonard Redman, 34, of Los Angeles, Cal., has been sentenced to 40 days in jail for shooting his slingshot at Mrs. Lulu Peelle, above, as she passed his auto. The rubber band weapon struck her on the hip, Mrs. Peelle told a judge.

FIVE POTENTIAL CANDIDATES for the presidency of Mexico are snapped while attending an annual assembly at Mexico City of the National Peasants' league and the Mexican Communist party. Left to right, they are Ursulo Galvan, Luis Monson and J. Guadalupe Rodriguez. Front row Pedro Rodriguez and Diego Rivera. E. Rodriguez won.

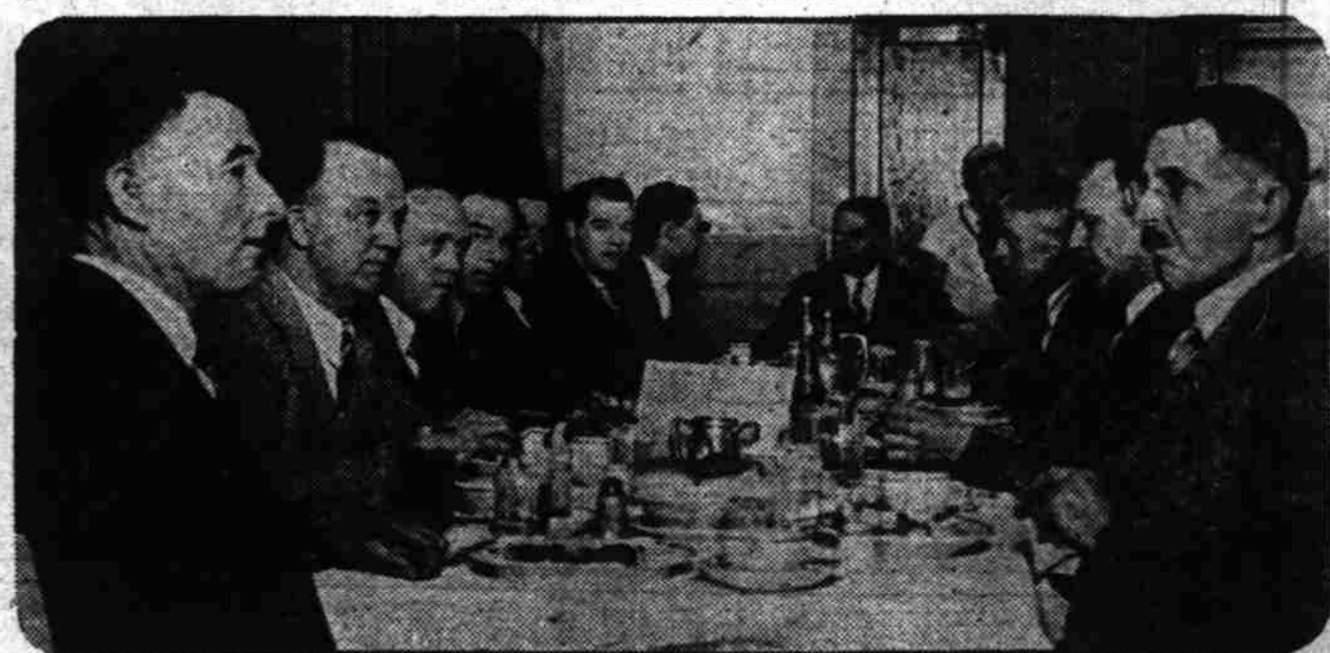

TWO KISSLESS BABIES of Newark, N. J., pose with their new warning bibs given them by Dr. Charles V. Craster, Newark health officer, in a campaign to protect infants from over-affectionate adults. The bibs bear the legend: "I don't want to be sick. Do not kiss me."

OOOH! LOOK AT PEGGY about to take a ride in New York in her brand new $21,000 foreign built car. It's an elegant affair even for such a front-page celebrity as Peggy Joyce.

CLAD AS A CONVICT in protest against new school regulations to prevent cheating, Albert Goldstein, University of Cincinnati, O., senior, attends classes in this garb.

TRYING TO AGREE on a verdict in the trial of Richard (Dick) Gallogly, "thrill" murder defendant, these Atlanta, Ga., jurors are snapped taking time out for lunch. Judge Virlyn Moore declared the case a mistrial.