Mrs. G. Knapp Is Bridge Hostess

MRS. Gardner Knapp was a hostess for two very lovely bridge affairs at her home Friday and Saturday afternoon. Flowers for the rooms and service table were sweet peas in pastel shades, and ferns. Delicate nosegays of sweet peas were placed at each guest's place at the card tables.

High score for Friday afternoon was won by Mrs. Walter Spaulding and second by Mrs. R. G. Bradley. Saturday Miss Florence Young won high score and Mrs. George Moorhead won second.

Mrs. W. W. Moore, mother of Mrs. Knapp, assisted in serving Friday afternoon. Miss Leah Ross assisted Mrs. Knapp Saturday.

Guests for Friday were Mrs. Lloyd Payne, Mrs. Walter Spaulding, Mrs. H. W. Wirtz, Mrs. Edgar Hartley, Mrs. Fred W. Lange, Mrs. C. K. Logan, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Harry T. Love, Mrs. Robert Brady, Mrs. Don Roberts, Mrs. Lee Vanah, Mrs. W. W. Moore, Miss Dorothea Steuloff.

The guest group for Saturday afternoon was Miss Leah Ross, Miss Thelma Young, Miss Florence Young, Miss Iva Claire Young, Mrs. Kenneth Perry, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. George Moorhead, and Miss Lola Millard.

Poetry Society Group In Portland Saturday

Mrs. F. G. Franklin visited the Portland Saturday afternoon. The Poetry society meeting which was held at the Multnomah hotel. The affair was one of the last gatherings of its kind at which the group could enjoy the company of Anthony and Mrs. Euwer who will soon depart for Seattle where Mr. Euwer will broadcast for the American Broadcasting company reading his own poems twice a week. He will have charge of the arrangement of the programs, also.

Mrs. Euwer plans to go to New York City some time in April, accompanied by the small son whom they call Tonka, where she will go on with her husband, Mr. Euwer's professional name is R. by Page Ferguson.

Oregon friends are regretting the loss of this highly talented couple from Portland, but are already planning to enjoy the program which Mr. Euwer will broadcast.

Rebekah President Visits Salem Assembly

Mrs. Perroti of Ashland, the president of the Rebekah assembly of Oregon paid Salem Rebekah lodge No. 1 an official visit Monday evening. Accompanying her on a fraternal visit were Hattie Innes, vice president of the assembly, Ora Cosper, grand secretary; Etta Sanderson, the grand representative to the A. R. A.; Mildred McMahan, past president; Ethel Fletcher, past president; Grace M. Taylor, D. D. P.; Eugenia Siegmund, musician of the assembly, together with D. D. Social Activities

Social benefits are not always measured in the silver which is reaped from the benefit tea or the benefit bridge; there is always the by-product of cooperation and personal contacts and a united aim. The benefit tea and bridge given by the Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church, the returns from which go to the Salem General hospital was such a type of benefit, which fact can be verified by Mrs. G. C. Bellinger, member of the hospital board and wife of Dr. Bellinger, head of the state tuberculosis hospital. A different kind of social benefit will be the national celebration of Business and Professional Women's week by the Salem branch beginning March 10. Miss Celia Gavin, city attorney for The Dalles, and member of the Business and Professional Women's club in The Dalles will be the speaker for the B. & P. W. banquet at the Marion hotel, March 10. A third social benefit to be sponsored will be the Champeog benefit bridge tea to be given by the Daughters of the American Revolution March 12, the returns for which will be used in constructing an historic memorial log cabin at Champeog.

Salem General Hospital Bridge-Silver Tea Benefit

THE large benefit bridge and the silver tea for the Salem General hospital fund given under the sponsorship of the Women's Alliance of the Unitarian church in the Elks' Temple Saturday afternoon was without doubt the most successful benefit of the season, socially, artistically, and financially.

Among the musical numbers which particularly delighted guests at the tea which had not been previously announced were the violin solos played by Master Nathan Steinboch with the accompaniment of Mrs. G. O'Brien at the piano.

The numbers drawing prizes in the tea room are 8, 19, 27, 32, and 37. The prize may be called for at the home of Mrs. Henry Meyers, 1055 Court street. If they are not called for a second drawing will be necessary.

The bridge scores were counted by a committee including Mrs. W. B. Wagstaff, Mrs. William Hamilton, and Mrs. G. C. Bellinger. The high score honors were awarded to the following: Mrs. W. L. Phillips, Mrs. Byron Goodenough, Mrs. Ben Wells, Mrs. James Smith, and Mrs. W. G. Patterson. There were no tables of "500".

An especially pretty part of the serving was the general effect of the nurses in uniform, those in green from the Marion county health demonstration, the student nurse uniform from the Salem General hospital and the graduate nurses.

The following were guests for the afternoon of bridge: Whitney Starr, J. E. Law, W. W. Woodruff, L. W. Gleason, E. E. Burch, A. C. Smith, W. Metcalfe, Jr., C. Patton, Ervin Smith, H. W. Charming Tea Is Saturday Affair

A large group of the former friends of Mrs. Chester A. Small (Gladys Cartwright) were the guests of Mrs. Brazier Small at the charming tea in the Brazier Small home on Church street Saturday afternoon to meet Mrs. Small who is here for her first visit home since her marriage.

Decked in the motif of spring the rooms were lovely with hyacinths, daffodils, and lilies arranged artistically in low bowls. The golden sunshine of early spring glowing through the windows added to the attractiveness of the occasion.

Mrs. Small, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Richard Cartwright received the guests.

Pouring at the pretty tea table during the first hour were Miss Beryl Holt and Mrs. Waldo Mills.

South Salem Woman's Club Meets

Some forty women of the South Salem Woman's club met at the community hall for their regular program. Mrs. Myron Van Eaton had charge of the program, a very interesting one and appreciatively received by the guests present.

Dainty little Suzanne Small, daughter of Mrs. Brazier Small, quite charmed the guests of the afternoon in proving herself already a delightful hostess.

Mrs. Gladys Washburne sang, Mrs. Emma Wheelton read some of her original verse, and Mrs. Alice Dadd spoke on the subject of "Art in the Home."

Tea was served at a late hour by the hostess committee, Mrs. Nellie Falk, Mrs. Nellie Baldwin, and Mrs. Alice Edmundson.

The Salem Drama League will meet in the Salem public library at 7:45 o'clock Tuesday evening. Mrs. Otto K. Paulus will talk on the Russian drama. Members of the league and all those who are interested in becoming members are invited to attend the meeting.

University Circles Present Active Schedule

UNIVERSITY circles of Salem have been busy this week with several functions, some local and some general. The arrival of Miss Katherine Rodgers, dean of Mills college, and a national representative of the American Association of University Women has been the inspiration of several affairs of interest in the Salem branch of the A. A. U. W.

The first affair was the tea given by Miss Olive Dahl, dean of girls in Willamette, at Lausanne hall Friday afternoon. Members of the local A. A. U. W., the Faculty Women's club, and wives of the trustees of Willamette university were invited to meet Miss Rodgers between the hours of 3:30 and 4 o'clock. Miss Lelia Johnson assisted Miss Dahl at this affair and Mrs. J. H. Lauterman and Mrs. C. P. Bishop served.

Thursday afternoon the Town and Gown club met at Lausanne hall for its regular monthly meeting. E. T. Barnes spoke to the group of some thirty women concerning "Blue Prints of Nature," and Mrs. Sheldon Sackett sang two very lovely songs. Mrs. R. J. Hendricks poured at the tea hour which followed, and Mrs. W. E. Kirk and Mrs. E. B. Gilbert served. Saturday evening the crowning event of the week occurred so far as local university students are concerned. This event was the annual Freshman Glee in which each class competes for honors in an original song from each class. The event is an event of 23 years standing and each year endears itself more and more as a student custom. All told university circles have had a very busy and enjoyable week. This campaign was authorized week.
