NORBLAD IS BEHIND LAST-MINUTE BILL

BENNETT IS OBJECTOR

$350,000 for Land Settlement Gets Okeh

Following a debate in which more than a dozen senators participated, the senate Monday passed a bill by Lomergan and Norblad, appropriating $50,000 for the construction of an infirmary at the University of Oregon. The appropriation is contingent upon a similar amount of money being raised by the friends of the institution.

Senator Norblad declared that the present infirmary was inadequate to meet the needs of the university and that the conditions were deplorable. This is a just and honest bill," said Norblad "and it should receive the approval of this senate."

Senator Bennett objected to consideration of the bill for the reason that the calendar did not show that it was referred to the ways and means committee.

Once Downed in Committee. Senator Strayer explained that the bill was once voted down by the ways and means committee, and that a subsequent attempt to reconsider it was defeated. Later in the session 10 members of the ways and means committee signed a report recommending passage of the bill.

Senator Schulmerich took the position that the appropriation should not be made until after a survey of the various educational institutions was completed. He said such a survey was authorized under the bill providing for the appointment of the state board of higher education.

Senator Miller said that while he thought the money involved in the appropriation should have been expended in improving conditions at other institutions he would swallow his opposition and support the bill.

Other senators who spoke for the appropriation were Moser, Coe and Joe Dunne.

Six Votes Against Bill. Voting against the appropriation were Senators Bennett, Elliott, Marks, Strayer, Jones and Schulmerich.

A debate also marked consideration of a bill by Representative Metaker, appropriating $35,000 for the land settlement department of the state chamber of commerce. Senator Brown attacked the measure on the ground that it was not wanted either by the grange or other agricultural organizations.

"The farmers have made no demand for this appropriation," said Brown. "The bill has for its purpose of bringing more farmers into the state. There is too much production at the present time. The McNary-Haugen bill was vetoed by President Coolidge because of over-production."

Senator Schulmerich declared that he represented the agricultural interests of the state and favored the appropriation.

Senator Miller discussed the bill from a business standpoint and declared that the appropriation would have a favorable effect in developing the state.

Seven Senators Vote "No." Senators who voted against the bill were Bennett, Brown, Butt, Jones, Kuch, Marks, Strayer and Upton.

The senate approved a house joint resolution providing that the legislators shall receive $500 for their two years' service, together with mileage at the rate of $2 for each 20 miles traveled. The presiding officers would receive compensation in the amount of 50 per cent in excess of that received by the other legislators. Special sessions would be limited to 20 days under the resolution. The resolution will be referred to the voters at the next general or special election.

Tax Relief Idea Defeated. A bill by Representative Anderson giving the state tax commission and the county assessors authority to employ an unlimited number of assistants was defeated. This bill was sponsored by the state tax relief committee.

The senate approved Representative Angell's bill authorizing the appointment of deputy constables. They will serve without compensation.

A bill by Senator Jones providing for uniform fees in county clerks' offices outside of Multnomah county received favorable consideration.

The senate adopted a house resolution authorizing the secretary of state to send a telegram of congratulation to Herbert Hoover, who today is inaugurated as president of the United States. Another house resolution approved by the senate lauded the life of the late Eric V. Hauser. Senator Moser explained that Mr. Hauser's will bequeathed substantial amounts of money to a number of Oregon educational institutions.

INAUGURAL DAY MARKET DROPS

Bull Traders Derive Little Comfort From Wall Street Activities

NEW YORK, Mar. 4.—(AP)—Inauguration day on the New York stock exchange provided little cheer for "bull" traders today as the market sold off sharply after several ineffectual attempts to bring about a general rally.

American Express, which established a new high record at 330 last week, rose 2 1/4 points to 302 on a couple of sales. Allied Chemical and Motor Products each rose 10 points. General Electric rose 12 points. M. E. Byers, Goodyear Tire, Montgomery-Ward, Radio Corporation (old) and Wright Aeronautical closed at net declines of 5 to 7 1/4 points.

Parkard Motors turned reactionary on the announcement of a price cut for the company's 8-cylinder cars, but Chrysler was run up more than 5 points at the expense of an over-crowded short interest, but lost nearly half its gain. American Bosch Magneto moved into new high ground. U. S. Rubber attained a new peak at 64 and then eased to 61, off 2 1/4 net.

Rails, which were heavily bought last week on rumors that the Hoover inaugural message would recommend early legislation to facilitate railroad consolidations, fell back when publication of the message disclosed no such reference. Canadian Pacific, New York Central and Atlantic Coast line each lost 3 points or more, and Atchison, Southern Pacific, Frisco common and a number of others fell back a point or more.

WOMAN'S SKELETON FOUND, HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 4.—(AP)—The skeleton of a woman found yesterday by Hollywood police in a five-block area from Hollywood boulevard, was believed by police tonight to be the remains of Mrs. Eileen Disney, divorced wife of Harold Disney, an oil salesman. Police were attempting to communicate with Disney, said to be in Salt Lake City.

Partially imbedded in the earth, was found by the hikers. Police later found the body nearby. Together with fragments of a once fashionable sports ensemble. A purse of Parisian make was found in the clothes, and in the purse a scrap of paper on which was written an address—"1426 Laurel avenue."

At that address Mrs. Blanche Hindman said that Mr. and Mrs. Disney had taken rooms at her house in 1926 after coming here from Seattle, Wash. She said Mrs. Disney left suddenly February 1, 1927, and has since been missing. The wife, she said, left a note to Disney, saying she was going away and for him to not search for her. Mrs. Disney, Mrs. Hindman told police, was depressed and despondent and "had been taking veronal, and had had a nervous breakdown."

Police records showed that Disney reported the disappearance of his wife to police at the time she departed. Mrs. Hindman said Disney searched for his wife for two months before being transferred to Salt Lake City. Mrs. Hindman said that Mrs. Disney was a native of France and had a mother residing in that country.

VOCATION CHOICE TO BE DISCUSSED

All things that enter into the selection of a vocation will be discussed by Professor Nelson L. Bossing of the University of Oregon, where he is a specialist in vocational guidance, at the young men's division dinner at the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 6:15 o'clock. Reservations may be made by calling Ben Rickel before noon.

Professor Bossing approaches the problem of selecting a vocation from the side of the physical and mental obstacles to be met. The adaptability of the young man is handled without regard to preconceived likes and dislikes. Victor Wolf will sing several selections. The Willamette university quartet is also on the program. Fred Duncan, president of the division, will be toastmaster. All young men interested in the selection of a vocation are invited to the dinner for which the plate charge will be 50 cents.

CROWD VOICES ITS APPROVAL

President Hoover Honored by Vast Throngs on His Inaugural Day

(Continued from Page 1.) and stood in the driving rain waiting to do honor to the foremost two Americans. They filled the long rows of water soaked stands lining the route; they perched upon perilous, slippery ledges of buildings flanking the street. Dripping windows were filled with peering faces, and rooftops were heavy with humanity.

On the capitol plaza, the thousands with water dripping clothes, saw Mr. Hoover kiss a verse in the Bible which sealed his fealty to his countrymen. That verse said: "Where there is no vision the people perish; but he that keepeth the law, happy is he."

Long Line of Marchers Pays Hoover Tribute. And when that solemn ceremony was over they remained defiant of the weather to see the impressive tribute paid to the incoming head of the nation by representatives of nearly every grouping of American life. The army, the navy, the marine corps, the coast guard, governors, governors' staffs, patriotic organizations, marching clubs, and bands thronged the wet, pool dotted pavements until late in the day to salute the new commander in chief.

He stood in a reviewing stand in front of the White House, glowing with pleasure, and by his side the new first lady of the land, animated with interest, waved her hand in numerous salutes.

When the parade ended and President Hoover entered his new home, his occupant of yesterday was speeding toward the quietness of Northampton, Mass., seeking the rest of a private citizen. He had become former President Coolidge, but he took with him happy memories of the expressions of friendship showered upon him on his last day in office.

Coolidge and Wife Leave Capitol Early. Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge did not remain for the inaugural parade. With President Hoover installed as chief executive of the nation Mr. Coolidge entered an automobile with Mrs. Coolidge, was driven to the Union station, and boarded a train for the city where he started the career that led to the presidency. Cheers rang in his ears as he departed and there was a smile upon his usually stern countenance.

Inauguration day in Washington means just that. The train of events leading up to the ceremonial installation of the president and vice president began at 10 o'clock in the morning when the two central figures started for the White House to join President and Mrs. Coolidge. Mr. Hoover rode with Mrs. Hoover in a White House automobile from his home on S street, while Senator Curtis and his sister, Mrs. Edward E. Cann, proceeded to the executive mansion in a congressional car.

Cavalry Escorts Hoover and Coolidge. After a short stop at the White House the official party, including President and Mrs. Coolidge, departed in a motor cavalcade for the capitol. Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Hoover riding together with an escort of three troops of cavalry.

COAST GUARD SHIP LEAVES SUJAMECO

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Mar. 4.—(AP)—The coast guard cutter Redwing was released from service on the stranded submarine steamer Sujameco today by Captain Brennan of Lloyds, after Brennan received word that two trucks and the tug Arrow No. 3 of Astoria would arrive today with ground gear with which the steamer will attempt to pull herself off the beach. The Sujameco ran aground Friday morning after she had lost her position in the fog.

Preparations were being made today to have the tug tow the great anchor of the Sujameco out on a barge to a position beyond the vessel where it will be dropped. Tackle will be run from the anchor to the Sujameco and tomorrow the ship will try to pull herself into deeper water.

The bar was roughening late today and the possibility was seen that the weather will prevent the setting up of the ground tackle. Captain J. F. Carlson and Chief Engineer Kontje of the Sujameco came ashore today for the first time since their charge grounded.

SPOKANE, Mar. 4.—(AP)—Three men were killed, three were injured and half of the Great Northern railroad's mail train No. 27 was hauled over a 200 foot embankment by a great snowslide that sheared off six cars as the train was entering a tunnel near Singleshot, Mont., this morning, word received here tonight said.

REVOLT AGAIN TEARS MEXICO

President Portes Gil Says Government Forces Control Situation

(Continued from Page 1.) He asserted that the movement was led by a dissatisfied military political group and would be crushed.

Revolutionists Claim Further Territory. While the government claimed that the revolt was restricted merely to Vera Cruz and Sonora, the revolutionary leaders claimed that the state of Sinaloa, Chihuahua, Durango, and Coahuila have joined actively in the movement.

As yet no clashes between loyal troops and the insurgents have been reported. Because of the great distance of most of the affected states from Mexico City, with the exception of Vera Cruz, fighting is not thought likely for some time. If it comes, it probably will be in Vera Cruz.

General Roberto Cruz with 5000 men was reported marching on Sinaloa city, while General Sorosteaia was massing troops near Guajuatlan, Michoacan, to march on Colima. Both were stated to have joined the revolution.

During the day the rebels consolidated their position along the northern boundary of Sonora taking command of the three principal border cities which are key ports of entry to the United States.

Circuit Judge McMahan of Salem also came in for strong condemnation at the hands of the legislators. McMahan happened to be the proper judge to sign the temporary restraining order that caused so much discomfiture. Since bond was put up and the papers were all in order, he had no choice but to sign the order. Report has it, however, that he believes the suit is well founded in law, and as a result there is sentiment among the lawmakers to file an affidavit of prejudice against McMahan, which will take the matter out of his hands.
